Technology Transfer And The University:

Technology Transfer and the University Gary W. Matkin,1990 University Technology Transfer Tom Hockaday,2020-04-07 Demystifying technology transfer an increasingly important but little understood aspect of research universities mission How do we transfer the brilliance of university research results into new products services and medicines to benefit society University research is creating the technologies of tomorrow in the fields of medicine engineering information technology robotics and artificial intelligence These early stage technologies need investment from existing and new businesses to benefit society But how do we connect university research outputs with business and investors This process Tom Hockaday explains is what university technology transfer is all about identifying protecting and marketing university research outputs in order to shift opportunities from the university into business In this detailed introductory book a comprehensive overview of and guide to the subject Hockaday an internationally recognized technology transfer expert offers up his insider observations opinions and suggestions about university technology transfer He also explains how to develop strategically operate and fund university technology transfer offices while behaving in accordance with the central mission of the university Aimed at people who work in or with university technology transfer offices as well as anyone who wants to learn the basics of what is involved University Technology Transfer speaks to a global audience Tackling a complex topic in clear language the book reveals the impressive scale of patenting licensing and spin out company creation while also demonstrating that university technology transfer is a commercial activity with benefits that go well beyond the opportunity to make money Trends in Technology Transfer at Universities Clearinghouse on University-Industry Relations,1986 The Effectiveness of University Technology Transfer Phillip Hin Choi Phan,Donald S. Siegel,2006 The Effectiveness of University Technology Transfer reviews the numerous studies of the effectiveness of university technology transfer and presents recommendations on how to enhance effectiveness University Technology Transfer Shiri M. Breznitz,Henry Etzkowitz,2017-09-19 Universities have become essential players in the generation of knowledge and innovation Through the commercialization of technology they have developed the ability to influence regional economic growth By examining different commercialization models this book analyses technology transfer at universities as part of a national and regional system It provides insight as to why certain models work better than others and reaffirms that technology transfer programs must be linked to their regional and commercial environments Using a global perspective on technology commercialization this book divides the discussion between developed and developing countries according to the level of university commercialization capability Critical cases as well as country reports examine the policies and culture of university involvement in economic development relationships between university and industry and the commercialization of technology first developed at universities In addition each chapter provides examples from specific universities in each country from a regional national and international comparative perspective This book includes articles by leading practitioners as well as researchers and will be highly relevant to all those with an interest in innovation studies organizational studies regional economics higher education public policy and business entrepreneurship The Effectiveness of University Technology Transfer Phillip Phan, Donald S. Siegel, 2013 In recent years there have been numerous studies of the effectiveness of university technology transfer Such technology transfer mechanisms include licensing agreements between the university and private firms science parks incubators and university based startups We review and synthesize these papers and present some pointed recommendations on how to enhance effectiveness

Implementation of these recommendations will depend on the mechanisms that universities choose to stress based on their technology transfer strategy For example institutions that emphasize the entrepreneurial dimension of technology transfer must address skill deficiencies in technology transfer offices reward systems that are inconsistent with enhanced entrepreneurial activity and the lack of training for faculty members post docs and graduate students in starting new ventures or interacting with entrepreneurs Universities will also have to confront a set of issues related to ethics and social responsibility as they more aggressively pursue technology commercialization Finally we suggest some possible theoretical frameworks for additional research

The Chicago Handbook of University Technology Transfer and Academic Entrepreneurship Albert N. Link, Donald S. Siegel, Mike Wright, 2015-03-09 As state support and federal research funding dwindle universities are increasingly viewing their intellectual property portfolios as lucrative sources of potential revenue Nearly all research universities now have a technology transfer office to manage their intellectual property but many are struggling to navigate this new world of university industry partnerships Given the substantial investment in academic research and millions of dollars potentially at stake identifying best practices in university technology transfer and academic entrepreneurship is of paramount importance The Chicago Handbook of University Technology Transfer and Academic Entrepreneurship is the first definitive source to synthesize state of the art research in this arena Edited by three of the foremost experts in the field the handbook presents evidence from entrepreneurs administrators regulators and professors in numerous disciplines Together they address the key managerial and policy implications through chapters on how to sustain successful research ventures ways to stimulate academic entrepreneurship maintain effective open innovation strategies and improve the performance of university technology transfer offices A broad and ambitious work the handbook offers comprehensive coverage for universities of all types allowing them to confidently handle technology commercialization and further cultivate innovation

terms of spin off creation is to establish technology transfer offices at research institutions to support scientists in creating spin offs Despite the fact that research has made important contributions regarding the influence of scientist s individual characteristics on spin off creation literature is still lacking regarding the influence of TTOs on scientist s propensity to create a spin off In my work I am trying to provide first insights into the perception of TTOs by scientists and which aspects of consultancy offered by TTOs are of most importance for academic entrepreneurs during the creation of a spin off
