Innovation Networks and Learning Regions? James Simme, 2004-08-02 Innovation Networks and Learning Regions address key issues of understanding in contemporary economic geography and local economic policy making in cities and regions in the advanced economies Developing the idea that innovation is the primary driving force behind economic change and growth the international range of contributors stress the importance of knowledge and information as the raw materials of innovation They examine the ways in which these elements may be acquired and linked through networks and demonstrate that there are empirical examples of innovative areas which do not have highly developed networks yet appear to be relatively successful in terms of local economic growth In so doing they raise crucial questions about the ways in which regions or localities might be described as truly learning areas and about the sustainability of future economic and quality of life success based on innovation and high technology

Technological, Managerial and Organizational Core Competencies: Dynamic Innovation and Sustainable Development Nobre, Farley Simon, 2011-09-30 Innovation involves a set of processes which support the production and transformation of knowledge into new processes technologies and products goods and services and provide an organization with particular strengths and value relative to other firms In such a view innovation is a key source of customer benefits and sustainable competitive advantage Technological Managerial and Organizational Core Competencies Dynamic Innovation and Sustainable Development investigates the impact of knowledge management information systems finance organizational networks internationalization strategic management marketing entrepreneurship and sustainability on an organization that pursues dynamic innovation and sustainable advantage This book provides research and practice for graduate and undergraduate programs as well as business firms with different technological managerial and organizational perspectives Further Description from the Editors This book represents the culmination of an international project to compile inter disciplinary research that most contributes to innovation More specifically this book is about innovation in firms industries nations and society It speaks to professionals and researchers who want to improve their understanding of dynamic innovation and sustainable development The Editors goal is to foster cross pollination among researchers To this aim the Editors have selected and assembled 35 chapters that illustrate multidisciplinary theoretical perspectives and empiric results on innovation and the roles of Sustainability Organizational Networks Entrepreneurship Knowledge Management R D T Research Development and Technology Management Marketing Finance Internationalization and Information Systems in the organization that pursues dynamic innovation and sustainable development Innovation involves processes organizational elements or resources and Organizational Abilities OA that support the production and transformation of knowledge into new knowledge processes structures technologies and products goods and services At the firm and industry levels of analysis innovation can provide organizations with strengths relative to other firms clusters and nations and it is a key source of customer benefits and sustainable development At the collective and societal levels of analysis innovation can provide humanity with economic social and environmental wealth through sustainable development The uniqueness of this book lies in the participants efforts to identify Organizations Creative Areas OCA that can provide core competencies for the organization in pursuit of dynamic innovation and sustainable development In this perspective innovation is a dynamic system and it is contingent upon a set of core competencies that couple to each other Therefore changing of even one competence can affect the organization s ability to innovate The book avoids the term competitive advantage and adopts a more fruitful perspective of sustainable development the process of achieving human development in an inclusive connected equitable prudent and secure manner An inclusive perspective sees traditional competitive advantage as occupying one extreme whereas truly sustainable development occupies the opposite extreme Sustainable development must benefit not only the organization and its customers but also the whole society and the future of humanity through sustainability Most chapters of this book fall between these extremes

'Whither regional studies?' Andy Pike, 2013-09-13 Regional studies are at a vibrant conjuncture Regions continue to provide a conceptual and analytical focus for often overlapping concerns with economic social political cultural and ecological change In the context of increased interest in inter and multi disciplinary approaches regions remain an arena in which synthesis across disciplines economics geography planning politics and sociology can take place Yet recent work has raised fundamental questions about how we think about and research regions and regional change development governance and regulation First emergent conceptual ideas have introduced new thinking about space place and scale that interprets regions as unbounded relational spaces This work has disturbed notions of regions as bounded territories and questioned hierarchical systems of scale through more complex multi scalar approaches Second research methodology has grown in sophistication and sensitivity but remains somewhat polarised between the binaries of positivist often quantitative and more theoretically diverse typically qualitative approaches Last regional governance policy and politics are wrestling with the conceptual methodological and political complexities of new modes and geographies of governance and emergent multi agent and multi level institutional architectures This book brings together important voices in regional studies to contribute to and reflect upon these current issues and debates While we are at an early stage in beginning to think through what such conceptual theoretical methodological governance policy and political innovations and developments mean for regional studies the magnitude and resonance of such issues underpin the vitality of research on the region This book was published as a special issue of Regional Studies

Urban Visions Carmen Díez Medina, Javier Monclús, 2018-06-23 This book is a useful reference in the field of urbanism It explains how the contemporary city and landscape have been shaped by certain twentieth century visions that have carried over into the twenty first century Aimed at both students and professionals this collection of essays on diverse subjects and cases does not attempt to establish universal interpretations it rather highlights some outstanding episodes that help us understand why the planning culture has given way to other forms of urbanism from urban design to strategic urbanism or landscape urbanism Compared with global interpretations of urbanism based on socioeconomic history or architectural historiography Urban Visions From Planning Culture to Landscape Urbanism aims to present the discipline couched in international contemporary debate and adopt a historic and comparative perspective The book's contents pertain equally to other related disciplines such as architecture urban history urban design landscape architecture and geography Foreword by Rafael Moneo

Blue Sky Metropolis Peter J. Westwick, 2012-06-04 Like citrus oil movies radio and television aerospace helped create Southern California and embody its values Blue Sky Metropolis launches an entirely fresh consideration of an iconic industry that answered the immemorial hunger of the human race for flight and the future Kevin Starr University of Southern California

Blue Sky Metropolis presents an intriguing survey of a unique time in Southern California history when cheap land and benign weather lured massive aerospace enterprises to the region eventually serving as home to nearly half of the nation's defense and space fabricators. Before there was a Silicon Valley, high tech dreamers were on the loose in the Southland creating inventions as diverse as the Voyager planetary spacecraft and the Stealth bomber. These highly readable essays help us understand how it happened how Southern California shaped aerospace and vice versa. Charles Elachi, Director, Jet Propulsion Laboratory; Peter Westwick has assembled a rich collection of essays that tell a wonderful story about the importance of the aerospace industry to Southern California and the importance of Southern California to the aerospace industry. There's technology, sociology, economics, geography, anthropology, and much more woven through the chapters. It's an ambitious project but it succeeds in being interesting, informative, and entertaining. Michael Rich, President and CEO, The RAND Corporation.
