Stop the Violence in Latin America Laura Chioda,2017-06-19 The Latin America and Caribbean LAC region has the undesirable distinction of being the world s most violent region with 24 7 homicides per 100 000 inhabitants The magnitude of the problem is staggering and persistent Of the top 50 most violent cities in the world 42 are in LAC In 2010 alone 142 302 people in LAC fell victim to homicide representing 390 homicides per day and 4 06 homicides every 15 minutes Crime disproportionately affects young men aged 20 to 24 whose homicide rate of 92 per 100 000 nearly quadruples that of the region The focus of Crime Prevention in Latin America and the Caribbean is to identify policy interventions that whether by design or indirect effect have been shown to affect antisocial behavior early in life and patterns of criminal offending in youth and adults Particular attention is devoted to recent studies that rigorously establish a causal link between the interventions in question and outcomes This publication adopts a lifecycle perspective and argues that as individuals progress through different stages of the lifecycle not only do different sets of risk factors arise and take more prominence but their interactions and interdependencies shape human behavior These interactions and the relative importance of different sets of risk factors identify relevant margins that can effectively be targeted by prevention policies not only early in life but throughout the lifecycle Indeed prevention can never start too early nor start too late nor be too comprehensive Teens in Mexico Brian Baumgart,2007 Describes young people growing up in Mexico Their challenges pastimes and customs

Slater,2004-02-28 Are teenagers in Tokyo more or less mature than teens in Brooklyn What do Chinese teens do for weekend recreation What do they value and care about This volume shows that the lives of teens in prosperous and westernized Asian countries have much in common with those of American teens Obtaining a good education is paramount and Asian interests and tastes in pop culture and sports for example are in sync with their American counterparts In poorer and politically restricted Asian nations teen life and opportunities are more restricted however Greater focus and energy is given to helping the family survive Yet it is the ancient cultural and religious traditions in Asian life that constitute the fundamental difference between American and Asian teens This book is an insightful and sweeping introduction to the Asian teen experience from a typical day to participation in religious ceremonies in 15 countries
