Like,2024-08-01 Violence at the Intersection The Interlocking Impact of Race Ethnicity Gender and Class on Risk and Resilience builds upon and expands recent scholarship on the intersectionality of race ethnicity gender gender identity and class and their multiplicative effects on violent offending and victimization Specifically the work examines how these intersections of identity not only affect risks for experiences with violence but also account for the development and expansion of social capital in the form of resilience and human agency among those at risk The results of the research provide a critical assessment of how embodied identities are commonly used to assess those at risk while largely ignoring that these individuals are simultaneously at resilience This work moves beyond the extant literature by considering the role of resilience in violence among disadvantaged groups The work also contributes to growing research on identity and its centrality to experiences with violence and provides an in depth understanding of varied pathways to human agency and the development of social capital even among those who are deemed disadvantaged in society This book will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as postdoctoral researchers interested in fields including Criminology Criminal Justice Women Gender Studies Sexuality Studies Race and Ethnicity Studies and Violence Studies Lose Your Mother Saidiya Hartman,2025-09-23 In Lose Your Mother Saidiya

Hartman journeys along a slave route in Ghana following the trail of captives from the hinterland to the Atlantic coast She retraces the history of the Atlantic slave trade from the fifteenth to the twentieth century and reckons with the blank slate of her own genealogy There were no survivors of Hartman s lineage nor far flung relatives in Ghana of whom she had come in search She traveled to Ghana in search of strangers The most universal definition of the slave is a stranger torn from kin and country To lose your mother is to suffer the loss of kin to forget your past and to inhabit the world as a stranger As both the offspring of slaves and an American in Africa Hartman too was a stranger Her reflections on history and memory unfold as an intimate encounter with places a holding cell a slave market a walled town built to repel slave raiders and with people an Akan prince who granted the Portuguese permission to build the first permanent trading fort in West Africa an adolescent boy who was kidnapped while playing a fourteen year old girl who was murdered aboard a slave ship Eloquent thoughtful and deeply affecting Lose Your Mother is a powerful meditation on history memory and the Atlantic slave trade Square
