Television And Everyday Life:

Television and Everyday Life Roger Silverstone, 1994 Television is a central dimension of our everyday lives and yet its meaning and its potency varies according to our individual circumstances Its power will always be mediated by the social and cultural worlds which we inhabit In Television and Everyday Life Roger Silverstone explores the enigma of television and how it has found its way so profoundly and intimately into the fabric of our everyday lives His investigation unravels its emotional and cognitive spatial temporal and political significance Drawing on a wide range of literature from psychoanalysis to sociology and from geography to cultural studies Roger Silverstone constructs a theory of the medium which locates it centrally within the multiple realities and discourses of everyday life Television emerges from these arguments as the fascinating complex and contradictory medium that it is but in the process many of the myths that surround it are exploded Television and Everyday Life presents a radical new approach to the medium one that both challenges received wisdoms and offers a compellingly original view of the place of television in everyday life

Television, Audiences And Everyday Life Briggs, Matt, 2009-10-01 Television Audiences and Everyday Life draws on an extensive body of audience research to get behind this seemingly simple activity Written in a clear and accessible style key audience studies are presented in ways that illuminate critical debates and concepts in cultural and media studies

Epic / everyday Sarah Cardwell, Jonathan Bignell, Lucy Fife Donaldson, 2023-05-30 An exciting new strand in The Television Series the Moments in Television collections celebrate the power and artistry of television whilst interrogating key critical concepts in television scholarship Each Moments book is organised around a provocative binary theme Epic everyday explores the presence within television of the epic and the everyday It argues that attention to ideas of the epic and notions of the everyday can illuminate television programmes in new ways The book explores an eclectic range of TV fictions including Game of Thrones Lost and Dr Who Contributors from diverse perspectives come together to expand and enrich the kind of close analysis most commonly found in television aesthetics Sustained detailed programme analyses are sensitively framed within historical technological institutional cultural creative and art historical contexts

Television, Audiences and Everyday Life Matt Briggs, 2009-10-16 Television is commonplace in developed societies an unremarkable and routine part of most people's everyday lives but also the subject of continued concern from academia and beyond But what do we really know about television the ways that we watch it the meanings that are made and its relationship to ideology democracy culture and power Television Audiences and Everyday Life draws on an extensive body of audience research to get behind this seemingly simple activity Written in a clear and accessible style key audience studies are presented in ways that illuminate critical debates and concepts in cultural and media studies Key topics and case studies include News debate and the public sphere Reality television talk shows and media ethics Soap opera play and gossip The uses of television in the home Television identity and globalization Textual analysis discourse and semiotics Each chapter makes a compelling case for the importance of audience research in our thinking about television texts The case studies introduce important new terms in the study of television such as play semiosis and modality while also throwing new light on familiar terms such as decoding ideology and the public sphere Television Audiences and Everyday Life is essential reading for undergraduate students on media cultural studies and sociology courses or anybody who wants to understand television its genres and their place in everyday life Reality TV Misha Kavka, 2012-02-15 This book is a study of the Reality TV format which in less than a decade has transformed network programming schedules branded satellite and digital stations become a favourite target for anti television campaigners and turned viewers into savvy r

Television George Comstock, Erica Scharrer, 1999-04-15 Television What's On Who's Watching and What It Means presents a comprehensive examination of the role of television in one's life The emphasis is on data collected over the past two decades pointing to an increasing and in some instances a surprising influence of the medium Television is not only watched but its messages are attended to and well understood There is no shame in spending hours in front of the set in fact people over estimate the time they spend viewing Television advertising no longer persuades it sells by creating a burst of emotional liking for the commercial The emphases of television news determine not only what voters think about but also the presidential candidate they expect to support on election day Children and teenagers who watch a great deal of television perform poorly on standardized achievement tests and among the reasons are the usurpation of time spent learning to read and the discouragement of book reading Television violence frightens some children and excites others but its foremost effect is to increase aggressive behavior that sometimes spills over into seriously harmful antisocial behavior Incorporates social psychology political science sociology child development and the growing field of communications Presents tables and graphs clarifying theories and linking sets of data Paints concise portraits of the role of television in entertainment politics and child rearing Contains background for dozens of lectures and articles Contains a comprehensive bibliography of more than 1000 citations many recent

Ordinary Television Frances Bonner, 2003-02-05 Most cultural analysis focuses on the spectacular and the unusual Frances Bonner has done us a great service by insisting on and demonstrating the importance of everyday TV Ordinary Television breaks genuinely new ground Toby Miller New York University In this book Frances Bonner provides a distinctive angle on a key area of research and teaching across media and cultural studies the content of television and the relations between television genres and audiences Hitherto most books on television have focused on drama or news and current affairs In other words they tend to ignore ordinary television lifestyle programmes and reality TV just the sort of programmes which increasingly dominate the schedules In Ordinary Television Frances Bonner makes a distinctive argument for regarding these disparate shows as a whole By examining a substantial range of these programmes Frances Bonner uncovers their shared characteristics especially through a consideration of the dominant and disguised discourses which pervade them In addition the comparative nature of her study enables the author to launch a powerful critique of conventional theories in relation to the globalization of television This book will be invaluable reading for anyone interested

Social TV Cory Barker, 2022-06-27 Winner of the 2023 SCMS Media Industries Scholarly Interest Group Outstanding Book Award sponsored by the Center for Entertainment Media Industries On March 15 2011 Donald Trump changed television forever The Comedy Central Roast of Trump was the first major live broadcast to place a hashtag in the corner of the screen to encourage real time reactions on Twitter generating more than 25 000 tweets and making the broadcast the most watched Roast in Comedy Central history The trumproast initiative personified the media and tech industries utopian vision for a multi screen and communal live TV experience In Social TV Multi Screen Content and Ephemeral Culture author Cory Barker reveals how the US television industry promised but failed to deliver a social media revolution in the 2010s to combat the imminent threat of on demand streaming video Barker examines the rise and fall of Social TV across press coverage corporate documents and an array of digital ephemera He demonstrates that despite the talk of disruption the movement merely aimed to exploit social media to reinforce the value of live TV in the modern attention economy Case studies from broadcast networks to tech start ups uncover a persistent focus on community that aimed to monetize consumer behavior in a transitional industry period To trace these unfulfilled promises and flopped ideas Barker draws upon a unique mix of personal Social TV experiences and curated archives of material that were intentionally marginalized amid pivots to the next big thing Yet in placing this now forgotten material in recent historical context Social TV shows how the era altered how the industry pursues audiences Multi screen campaigns have shifted away from a focus on live TV and toward all day content streams The legacy of Social TV then is the further embedding of media and promotional material onto every screen and into every moment of life

Media, Power and Empowerment Tereza Pavlíčková, Irena Reifová, 2014-10-16 This collection brings together 71 papers by 83 authors from 20 countries presented at the 5th Central and Eastern European Communication and Media Conference titled Media Power and Empowerment in Prague Czech Republic in April 2012 It maps out trends in CEE media research across the entire region and provides insight into the broad span of relevant topics The contributors to the volume successfully voice the multiple yet specific questions relevant to the CEE countries the papers offer original research results to the reader and invite them to participate in further debate on CEE media and communications research To date there have not been many publications dedicated to outlining the media and communications research interests across the region This collection shows that the countries of the region indeed have a lot in common historically politically and socially while also discussing the differences among them including the multiple political particularities within the unifying label the East and variations in the transformation process and the consequences for concerned societies and their media scenes as well as the individual lived experiences of the people of the CEE countries

Innovative Applications and Changing Framework in Digital Broadcasting Bolat, Nursel, 2025-06-10 In conjunction with digitalization the media and publishing sector has undergone a radical transformation paving the way for new content production and consumption norms The traditional broadcasting approach is being replaced by more flexible accessible and user oriented models using the opportunities provided by technology Artificial intelligence supported algorithms offer personalized content recommendations while big data analytics enable a better understanding of user behavior and shape content strategies accordingly At the same time the proliferation of smart devices and the increase in high speed internet access have eliminated the physical boundaries of broadcasting and made it possible to reach a global audience Innovative Applications and Changing Framework in Digital Broadcasting examines in depth the impact of innovative practices in digital broadcasting on the sector and analyzes how these effects redefine the traditional framework of broadcasting In addition a comprehensive perspective on the future of digital broadcasting is presented by evaluating the opportunities and challenges in this framework shaped by new technologies Covering topics such as virtual universe narratives digital publishing ecosystems and binge watching this book is an excellent resource for producers authors broadcasters professionals researchers scholars academicians and more

Locating Television Anna Cristina Pertierra, Graeme Turner, 2013 Locating Television Zones of Consumption takes an important next step for television studies and addresses the question of what is television now

Restyling Factual TV Annette Hill, 2007-06-11 Addressing the wide range of programmes and formats from news to documentary to popular factual genres Annette Hill's new book examines the ways viewers navigate their way through a busy noisy and constantly changing factual television environment Restyling Factual TV addresses the wide range of programmes that fall within the category of factuality from politics to natural history to reality entertainment Based on research with audiences of factual TV primarily in Sweden and the UK but with reference to other countries such as the US this book tackles issues such as legitimacy ethics and value in contemporary news and current affairs documentary and reality programming Drawing on the ethics of truth telling and notions of quality this wide ranging authoritative book expands the debate on popular factual entertainment and will be a welcome addition to the current literature
