Against Caste in British Law Prakash Shah, 2015-10-01 This book discusses the salience of the caste question in UK law. It provides the background to how the caste provision came into the Equality Act 2010 and how it was reinforced in 2013 and analyses the various interests that played a role in getting caste into law. Legal Pluralism in Conflict Prakash

Shah, 2016-09-17 Legal Pluralism in Conflict offers a new theoretical perspective for conceptualising and analysing the relationship between ethnic minority laws and the official legal order. Examining the limits of liberal legal thought in light of a contemporary plurality of ethnic identifications and religious beliefs, Prakash Shah takes up the case for a legal pluralism that views ethnic minority laws in interaction with the official British legal order. This form of legal pluralism is not, however, without conflict. This book pursues a series of case studies that critically consider why and how state laws marginalise ethnic minority legal orders. Legal Pluralism in Conflict contains discussions of the recognition of polygamous marriages, homicide, the expertise provided in immigration cases and the legal discourse of nationality. It is in this engagement with some of the most challenging issues posed by the diverse character of modern society that its author sets out an alternative course for ethnic minority legal studies. Legal Pluralism in Conflict will be invaluable to students and researchers concerned with law's relationship to and treatment of ethnic and religious diversity as well as to those with wider interests in the limits and possibilities of political pluralism. Kingdom Stewardship: Occasional Papers Prepared by the Lausanne Resource

Negotiating Identities, Language and Migration in Global London Cangbai Wang,Terry Lamb,2024-01-16 This book explores the transnational practices of migrant groups in global London illustrating the complex relations between migrants and the city in the context of globalisation The chapters offer a starting point to examine migrants and the city from a comparative perspective by bringing together case studies of diverse migrant communities They use languaging as the central concept in the development of an interdisciplinary framework that creates an opportunity to talk across disciplines to engage with key issues crisscrossing migration cities and language The book promotes language based or language sensitive research drawing on the plurilingual repertoires and the language and translanguaging practices of migrant communities as the tool for data collection and ethnographic fieldwork This approach generates fresh insights into the complex issues of diasporic identities belonging and place making which have broad implications for migration studies in post Brexit Britain and beyond

Class in Contemporary Britain Kenneth Roberts, 2011-02-15 Britain is one of the most unequal countries in the western world the richest one per cent own a vast proportion of the wealth while both the pay gap and spending habits remain incredibly divisive How do such divisions reflect contemporary ideas of class In what way does economic life affect individuals and social relationships What are the implications for society as a whole This thoroughly revised second edition of Class in Contemporary Britain uses class theory to interrogate and explain patterns and trends in economic inequalities and to explore their consequences from a sociological view Addressing and debating timely questions this new edition Assesses different ways of mapping class structures through class schemes Highlights the continued importance of class in sociological study and analyses contemporary social class divisions Explores key topics including social mobility voting habits and education Reflects on recent changes and developments in the field from environmental and technological concerns to shifts in class demographics This comprehensive and accessible book disentangles the complex ties between economic social and political perspectives on class in contemporary Britain It is essential reading for all social sciences students who are studying class

The Rag Race Adam D. Mendelsohn, 2016-10 Argues that the Jews who flocked to the United States during the age of mass migration were aided appreciably by their association with a particular corner of the American economy the rag trade Comparing the history of Jewish participation within the clothing trade in the United States with that of Jews in the same business in England Mendelsohn demonstrates that differences within the garment industry on either side of the Atlantic contributed to a very real divergence in social and economic outcomes for Jews in each setting From publisher description

Ethnic Minority Migrants in Britain and France Rahsaan Maxwell, 2012-03-05 This book addresses why some ethnic minority migrant groups have better economic and political integration outcomes than others The central claim is that social integration leads to trade offs with economic and political integration The logic behind this claim is that socially segregated groups may have difficulties interacting with mainstream society but will have more capacity for group mobilization That mobilization can improve economic and political integration In comparison socially integrated groups may have greater capacity to interact with mainstream society but also less likelihood of developing significant group mobilization resources As a result this can limit their economic and political integration outcomes Rahsaan Maxwell develops this argument with evidence from Britain and France claiming that similar group level dynamics exist despite numerous national level contextual differences and provides a brief extension of the argument to The Netherlands and the United States

Migration and Identity in British East and Southeast Asian Cinema Wing-Fai Leung, 2023-05-31 An emerging interest in a British East and Southeast Asian identity after decades of political and social exclusion has coincided with periods of economic and political challenges in the UK In Migration and Identity in British East and Southeast Asian Cinema Leung Wing Fai argues that this explosive context has created rich and diverse forms of storytelling and an accented cinematic language By offering close readings of key contemporary films and positioning them in a wider slate of releases by British East and Southeast Asian filmmakers alongside Anglophone film histories in the Global North this book sheds light on a developing field and engenders new ways of understanding British cinema and society The author explores changing representational politics in contemporary cinema and argues for the cinematic visibility of a hitherto silenced community Drawing on theoretical frames from sociological film and cultural studies to critically engage with the textual and visual language of the case studies Leung claims the place of British East and Southeast Asian Cinema as a film and cultural movement Highlighting diversity among the British East and Southeast Asian community pushing boundaries in its intersectional approach to ethnicity race gender and sexuality and proposing a critical framework for academic studies on diasporic film making in the UK this nuanced and innovative study will interest researchers teachers and students in a range of Humanities and Liberal Arts subjects including Film and Media Studies Regional Area Studies Asia and arts cultural and creative productions from the East and Southeast Asian diaspora

Handbook of Research on Ethnic Minority Entrepreneurship Leo Paul Dana, 2007 Professor Dana and his colleagues have carefully and successfully put together a collection of chapters on ethnic minority entrepreneurship from all parts of the world The book comprises eight parts and 49 chapters Undoubtedly given the massive size and content of a 835 page book it is fair to ask is it value for money The answer is unequivocally yes A further comment on the content of the book should probably reassure potential readers and buyers of the book This collection is undoubtedly rich creative and varied in many respects Therefore it will be of great benefit to researchers and scholars alike I will strongly recommend this book to researchers students teachers and policy makers Aminu Mamman International Journal of Entrepreneurial Behaviour and Research The volume presents an impressive panorama of studies on ethnic entrepreneurs ranging from Dalits in India to Roma entrepreneurs in Hungary B P Corrie Choice From a focus on middle man minorities in the 1950s the study of minority ethnic entrepreneurship has evolved into a vast undertaking A major ingredient in this expansion is the massive population movements of the past thirty years that have created ethnic minority communities in almost all advanced economies From New York to San Francisco from Birmingham to Hamburg from the Chinese in Canada to the Turks in Finland to the Ghanians in South Africa to the Lebanese in New Zealand more than twenty chapters in this volume treat small scale ethnic entrepreneurship and the cultural and institutional resources which support it At the other end of the spectrum the ethnic Chinese have created ever larger multi divisional enterprises in the host societies of Southeast Asia At the mid point of the spectrum analyzed in an elegant paper by Ivan Light is the recently identified transmigrant entrepreneur acculturated in two societies but assimilated in neither whose special endowments have provided the lynchpin for for much of the international trade expansion in the global economy over the past decade And Dana and Morris provide us with much more Afro American entrepreneurship caste and class the theory of clubs women ethnic entrepreneurs minority ethnicity and IPOs In the quality of its contributions and in the reach of its coverage this Handbook attains a very high standard Peter Kilby Wesleyan University US The new Handbook of Research on Ethnic Minority Entrepreneurship edited by L o Paul Dana constitutes a major contribution to the literature on ethnic enterprise Unlike previous work which tended to focus on one country or one region of the world this book is global in scope You will find chapters on America Europe and Asia as well as integrative essays that review important principles and concepts from the literature on ethnic entrepreneurship I particularly appreciate the historical and evolutionary framework within which the contributions are situated This book belongs on the shelf of everyone who has an interest in immigration and entrepreneurship or ethnic entrepreneurship more generally Howard Aldrich University of North Carolina US This exhaustive interdisciplinary Handbook explores the phenomena of immigration and ethnic minority entrepreneurship in light of marked changes since the mid twentieth century and the advent of easier more affordable travel and more open and integrated national economies The international contributors key experts in their respective fields illustrate that myriad ethnic minorities exist across the globe and that their entrepreneurship can and does significantly influence national economies The contributors go on to promote our understanding of which factors make for successful entrepreneurship and perhaps more importantly how negative political consequences that members of successful entrepreneurial ethnic minorities might face can be minimized This extensive collection of current research on entrepr

The Chinese in Britain, 1800-Present G. Benton, E. Gomez, 2007-12-18 This study points up the complex interplay of ethnic and national identities in the lives of Chinese in Britain arguing that transnational studies reinforce essentialist conceptions of identity and cultural authenticity in diasporic communities and thus frustrate the promotion of ethnic coexistence and social cohesion in multi ethnic societies

Balti Britain Ziauddin Sardar, 2012-03-22 Sardar travels to Asian communities throughout the UK to tell the history of Asians in Britain from the arrival of the first Indian in 1614 to the young extremists in Walthamstow mosque in 2006 He interweaves throughout an illuminating account of his own life describing his carefree childhood in Pakistan his family's emigration to racist 1950s Britain and his adulthood straddling two cultures Along the way he asks are arranged marriages a good thing Does the term Asian obscure more than it conveys Do vindaloo and balti actually exist And is multiculturalism an impossible dream

Chinatown in Britain Wai-ki Luk, 2008 The focus of this book is on Chinese immigration in the past two decades and its spatial manifestations in Britain A major argument in this study is that if the 1980s can be recorded as a turning point in the history of Chinese immigration to Britain because the decade marked a substantial increase in and a diversity of Chinese immigrants it should also be considered a landmark in contemporary British urban history as it featured a major transformation in the Chinese urban landscape This book examines how changes in the contexts of exit and reception have stimulated quantitative and qualitative changes in Chinese immigration and how these changes in immigration facilitate the development of Chinatowns and Chinese settlements

Flourishing in Babylon Joe Aldred, 2024-04-30 Black theology has long been about oppression and liberation But is there a different story to tell Can the black story be one about a quest for flourishing through agency and self determination and not only an existence of nihilistic struggle Drawing on a fresh reading of Jeremiah's letter to Jewish exiles and his own Pentecostal tradition Joe Aldred offers a fresh understanding of the Black British experience which draws on a realised eschatology rooted in identity empowerment and an agenda In a contested diasporan context in the shadow of empire there exists opportunity to fully flourish without apology or as Jeremiah puts it to those in exile to settle build and grow
