The Broken Estate:

The Broken Estate James Wood, 2013-11-06 This book recalls an era when criticism could change the way we look at the world In the tradition of Matthew Arnold and Edmund Wilson James Wood reads literature expansively always pursuing its role and destiny in our lives In a series of essays about such figures as Melville Flaubert Chekhov Virginia Woolf and Don DeLillo Wood relates their fiction to questions of religious and philosophical belief He suggests that the steady ebb of the sea of faith has much to do with the revolutionary power of the novel as it has developed over the last two centuries To read James Wood is to be shocked into both thinking and feeling how great our debt to the novel is In the grand tradition of criticism Wood's work is both commentary and literature in its own right fiercely written polemical and richly poetic in style This book marks the debut of a masterly literary voice

The Critic in the Modern World James Ley, 2014-05-08 The Critic in the Modern World explores the work of six influential literary critics Samuel Johnson William Hazlitt Matthew Arnold T S Eliot Lionel Trilling and James Wood each of whom occupies a distinct historical moment It considers how these representative critics have constructed their public personae the kinds of arguments they have used and their core principles and philosophies Spanning three hundred years of cultural history The Critic in the Modern World considers the various ways in which literary critics have positioned themselves in relation to the modern tradition of descriptive criticism In providing a lucid account of each critic's central principles and philosophies it considers the role of the literary critic as a public figure interpreting him as someone who is compelled to address the wider issues of individualism and the social implications of the democratising secularising liberalising forces of modernity
