The Bush Undertaker is a short story by Henry Lawson Henry Archibald Hertzberg Lawson 17 June 1867 2 September 1922 was an Australian writer and poet Along with his contemporary Banjo Paterson Lawson is among the best known Australian poets and fiction writers of the colonial period and is often called Australia s greatest short story writer He was the son of the poet publisher and feminist Louisa Lawson Henry Lawson was born on the 17th of June 1867 in a town on the Grenfell goldfields of New South Wales His father was Niels Hertzberg Larsen a Norwegian born miner from Tromsø near Arendal Niels Larsen went to sea at 21 and arrived in Melbourne in 1855 to join the gold rush along with partner William Henry John Slee Lawson s parents met at the goldfields of Pipeclay now Eurunderee New South Wales Niels and Louisa Albury 1848 1920 married on 7 July 1866 he was 32 and she 18 On Henry s birth the family surname was Anglicised and Niels became Peter Lawson The newly married couple were to have an unhappy marriage Louisa after family raising took a significant part in women s movements and edited a women s paper called The Dawn published May 1888 to July 1905 She also published her son s first volume and around 1904 brought out a volume of her own Dert and Do a simple story of 18 000 words In 1905 she collected and published her own verses The Lonely Crossing and other Poems Louisa likely had a strong influence on her son s literary work in its earliest days Peter Lawson s grave with headstone is in the little private cemetery at Hartley Vale New South Wales a few minutes walk behind what was Collitt s Inn Lawson attended school at Eurunderee from 2 October 1876 but suffered an ear infection at around this time It left him with partial deafness and by the age of fourteen he had lost his hearing entirely However his master John Tierney was kind and did all he could for Lawson who was quite shy Lawson later attended a Catholic school at Mudgee New South Wales around 8 km away the master there Mr Kevan would teach Lawson about poetry Lawson was a keen reader of Dickens and Marryat and novels such as Robbery under Arms and For the Term of his Natural Life an aunt had also given him a volume by Bret Harte Reading became a major source of his education because due to his deafness he had trouble learning in the classroom In 1883 after working on building jobs with his father in the Blue Mountains Lawson joined his mother in Sydney at her request Louisa was then living with Henry s sister and brother At this time Lawson was working during the day and studying at night for his matriculation in the hopes of receiving a university education However he failed his exams At around 20 years of age Lawson went to the eye and ear hospital in Melbourne but nothing could be done for his deafness In 1896 Lawson married Bertha Bredt Jr daughter of Bertha Bredt the prominent socialist The marriage was ill advised due to Lawson s alcohol addiction They had two children son Jim Joseph and daughter Bertha However the marriage ended very unhappily White Vanishing Elspeth Tilley, 2012-01-01 The story of the vulnerable white person vanishing without trace into the harsh Australian landscape is a potent and compelling element in multiple genres of mainstream Australian culture It has been sung in Little Boy Lost brought to life on the big screen in Picnic at Hanging Rock immortalized in Henry Lawson s poems of lost tramps and preserved in the history books tales of Leichhardt or Burke and Wills wandering in mad circles A world wide audience has also witnessed the many layered and oddly strident nature of Australian disappearance symbolism in media coverage of contemporary disappearances such as those of Azaria Chamberlain and Peter Falconio White Vanishing offers a revealing and challenging re examination of Australian disappearance mythology exposing the political utility at its core Drawing on wide ranging examples of the white vanishing myth the book provides evidence that disappearance mythology encapsulates some of the most dominant and durable categories at the heart of white Australian culture and that many of those ideas have their origin in colonial mechanisms of inequality and oppression White Vanishing deliberately and perhaps controversially reminds readers that while power is never absolute or irresistible some narrative threads carry a particularly authoritative inheritance of ideas and power relations through time True to the Land Paul van Reyk,2021-10-11 Spanning 65 000 years this book provides a history of food in Australia from its beginnings with the arrival of the first peoples and their stewardship of the land to a present where the production and consumption of food is fraught with anxieties and competing priorities It describes how food production in Australia is subject to the constraints of climate water and soil leading to centuries of unsustainable agricultural practices post colonization Australian food history is also the story of its xenophobia and the immigration policies pursued which continue to undermine the image of Australia as a model multicultural society This history of Australian food ends on a positive note however as Indigenous peoples take increasing control of how their food is interpreted and marketed

The Uncertain Self Harry P. Heseltine,1986 A readable comprehensive and combative collection of essays by a respected and controversial figure in the Australian literary establishment The Uncertain Self provides a critical look at Australian literature past and present including important assessments of such writers as Henry Lawson Francis Webb and Henry Kendall The Book of the Film and the Film of the Book Wayne Levy,1995 Memory and Pedagogy Claudia Mitchell,Teresa Strong-Wilson,Kathleen Pithouse,Susann Allnutt,2010-12-14 Memory work the conscious remembering and study of individual and shared memories is increasingly being acknowledged as a key pedagogical tool in working with children Giving students opportunities and support to remember and study their selves as individuals and as communities allows them to see their future as something that belongs to them and that they can influence in some way for the better This edited volume brings together essays from scholars who are studying the interconnections between pedagogy and memory in the context of social themes and social inquiry within educational research The book provides a range of perspectives on the social and pedagogical relevance of memory studies to the educational arena in relation to the themes of memory and method revisiting childhood memory and place addressing political conflict sexuality and embodiment and inter generational studies The Allure of Fungi Alison Pouliot,2018-09-01 Although relatively little known fungi provide the links between the terrestrial organisms and ecosystems that underpin our functioning planet The Allure of Fungi presents fungi through multiple perspectives those of mycologists and ecologists foragers and forayers naturalists and farmers aesthetes and artists philosophers and Traditional Owners It explores how a history of entrenched fears and misconceptions about fungi has led to their near absence in Australian ecological consciousness and biodiversity conservation Through a combination of text and visual essays the author reflects on how aesthetic sensate experience deepened by scientific knowledge offers the best chance for understanding fungi the forest and human interactions with them Outside Country Alan Mayne, Stephen Atkinson, 2011 While most Australians now live in the major cities on the coast much of the country's wealth is still derived from the interior a vast area of scattered and often remote communities mining towns and pastoral homesteads all linked by what historian J W McCarty called the Inland Corridor Culturally too the interior looms large in Australians imaginings in tourism campaigns and in the arts and media But despite this to most it remains an enigma an emptiness whose distant rural communities and their populations are the subjects of stubborn misperceptions Outside Country makes an invaluable contribution to the rethinking of inland Australia Through essays that mix the broad sweep of history with personal perspectives drawn from diaries letters oral histories and literature it examines the rich and varied social cultural and environmental histories of regions that continue to play a crucial role in the ongoing development of the Australian nation

Australian Literature Graham Huggan, 2007-09-27 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English In a provocative contribution to the series Graham Huggan presents fresh readings of an outstanding sometimes deeply unsettling national literature whose writers and readers just as unmistakably belong to the wider world Australian literature is not the unique province of Australian readers and critics nor is its exclusive task to provide an internal commentary on changing national concerns Huggan's book adopts a transnational approach motivated by postcolonial interests in which contemporary ideas taken from postcolonial criticism and critical race theory are productively combined and imaginatively transformed Rejecting the fashionable view that Australia is not and never will be postcolonial Huggan argues on the contrary that Australian literature like other settler literatures requires close attention to postcolonial methods and concerns A postcolonial approach to Australian literature he suggests is more than just a case for a more inclusive nationalism it also involves a general acknowledgement of the nation's changed relationship to an increasingly globalized world As such the book helps to deprovincialize Australian literary studies Australian Literature also contributes to debates about the continuing history of racism in Australia a history in which the nation's literature has played a constitutive role as both product and producer of racial tensions and anxieties nowhere more visible than in the discourse it has produced about race both within and beyond the national context Biography of a Book: Henry Lawson's *While the Billy Boils Paul Eggert, 2013 Biography of a Book traces the life of an iconic Australian literary work in the lead up to and for a century after its initial publication Henry Lawson's 1896 collection While the Billy Boils Paul Eggert follows Lawson's gradual development of a pared back bush realism in the early 1890s as he struggled to forge a career writing short stories and sketches for the newspapers Lawson's famous collection came out at a decisive moment for the development of a fully professional Australian literary publishing industry then in its infancy in Sydney The volume's editing design and production were collaborative events that changed the feel and nature of Lawson's writing He had to give ground on his texts and their sequencing The collection went on to be reprinted and repackaged countless times Its production and reception histories act like a geological cross section revealing the contours of successive cultural formations in Australia In unravelling the life of Lawson's classic work Eggert's book historical approach challenges and clarifies established understandings of crucial moments in Australian literary history and of Lawson himself Anthology Of Australian Colonial Gothic Fiction Ken Gelder, Rachael Weaver, 2013-05-31 Grisly corpses ghostly women and psychotic station owners populate an unforgiving landscape that is the stuff of nightmares These compelling stories are the dark underside to the usual story of colonial progress promise and nation building and reveal the gothic imagination that lies at the heart of Australian fiction This anthology collects the best examples of colonial Australian gothic short stories by authors such as Marcus Clarke Hume Nisbet Henry Lawson and Katherine Susannah Prichard among others Studies in Australian Literary History Brian Kiernan, 1997 A stimulating and engaging collection of essays offering a variety of models of critical practice from the extended survey of a writer's oeuvre notably in the masterly account of Lawson to the specific focus on an individual text as with the pioneering analysis of White's The Twyborn Affair The Uses of Literacy in Colonial Australia Martyn Lyons, 2025-10-14 What did Australians read This book answers this question in terms of books rather than newspapers and considers the long nineteenth century interpreted as running from 1788 to 1901 In the wake of this primary question several others arise how did Australians acquire the books they read and how did readers in the outback overcome the handicaps of distance and remoteness Did they read for pleasure instruction self edification or spiritual sustenance More importantly how did Australian readers respond to the books they read The evidence is drawn from autobiographical sources in which individual readers related their personal reading experiences and responses At the same time the book pursues a second and related question What did Australians write Reference is made here not to the kind of writing we know as literature but to the non literary writing which cultural historians call ordinary writings These are the writings of everyday life represented in this book by diaries journals hand written newspapers and correspondence The focus is wide enough to include the everyday cultural practices of people of low social status and little education The writing practices of the partially literate including writing delegated to a third party have their place here In this double investigation the book draws on evidence from a cohort of 101 nineteenth century readers and writers They are a heterogeneous group of autobiographers coming from Melbourne and Sydney to rural Queensland and Western Australia They come from the city and the bush from coastal towns and the interior from sheep stations gold diggings and city offices They show us the perennial importance of Shakespeare and the Bible the popularity of the English canon the prestige of poetry and the importance of religious reading Books held the Empire together but as they travelled their meanings changed according to the local cultural environment This book registers such nuances in the Australian context The writing of this group is represented by some prolific diarists and correspondents In the late nineteenth century the eastern colonies became world leaders in sending letters The postal environment which made this possible is also examined

World Literature: A Non-British Approach Krishna Sharma, This book has been designed to help the students who prepare for competitive exams like UGC NET SET SLET PGT Assistant Professor Exams etc Every important writer across the world has been covered in this book The Caribbean African Canadian Australian German French Russian Italian Greek Roman New Zealandia and several other writers have been given in the book
