The King's Artists : The Royal Academy of Arts and the Politics of British Culture 1760-1840 Holger Hoock, 2003-11-13 This is the story of the forging of a national cultural institution in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century Britain The Royal Academy of Arts was the dominant art school and exhibition society in London and a model for art societies across the British Isles and North America This is the first study of its early years re evaluating the Academy's significance in national cultural life and its profile in an international context Holger Hoock reassesses royal and state patronage of the arts and explores the concepts and practices of cultural patriotism and the politicization of art during the American and French Revolutions By demonstrating how the Academy shaped the notions of an English and British school of art and influenced the emergence of the British cultural state he illuminates the politics of national culture and the character of British public life in an age of war revolution and reform

The Emergence of the Professional Watercolourist Greg Smith, 2018-01-12 This title was first published in 2002 Drawing on extensive primary research Greg Smith describes the shifting cultural identities of the English watercolour and the English watercolourist at the end of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth century His convincing narrative of the conflicts and alliances that marked the history of the medium and its practitioners during this period includes careful detail about the broader artistic context within which watercolours were produced acquired and discussed Smith calls into question many of the received assumptions about the history of watercolour painting His account exposes the unsatisfactory nature of the traditional narrative of watercolour painting's development into a high art form which has tended to offer a celebratory focus on the innovations and genius of individual practitioners such as Turner and Girtin rather than detailing the anxieties and aspirations that characterized the ambivalent status of the watercolourist The Emergence of the Professional Watercolourist is published with the assistance of the Paul Mellon Foundation

Professional Women Painters in Nineteenth-Century

Scotland Janice Helland, 2019-06-11 This title was first published in 2000 Women in the 19th century have long been presented as the angel in the house The author re writes this history by investigating the life and working conditions of a number of middle class women who sought to establish themselves as professional artists in Scotland Contrary to the orthodox view preoccupied with oppression and difficulty the author demonstrates that women artists of the period were independent producers teachers and travellers alert to changes in taste and fashion They derived great pleasure from their work and enjoyed the benefits of women working together forming their own and joining existing professional associations The book is not biographical but elaborates on the life and working conditions of middle class artists by discussing their work in terms of economic and social history

Art and Modern Copyright Elena Cooper, 2018-08-16 This book is the first in depth and longitudinal study of the history of copyright protecting the visual arts Exploring legal developments during an important period in the making of the modern law the mid nineteenth to early twentieth centuries in relation to four themes the protection of copyright authors painters photographers and engravers art collectors sitters and the public interest it uncovers a number of long forgotten narratives of copyright history including views of copyright that differ from how we think today As well as considering the distinct nature of the contribution of copyright to the history of the cultural domain accounted for by scholars of art history and the sociology of art this book examines the value to lawyers and policy makers today of copyright history as a destabilising influence in taking us to ways of thinking that differ from our own history can sharpen the critical lens through which we view copyright debates today

Governing Cultures Colin Trodd, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2000 London in the nineteenth century saw the founding of the National Gallery the National Portrait Gallery the Victoria and Albert Museum and the Whitechapel Art Gallery Other less permanent organisations flourished among them the British Institution water colour societies and the Society of Female Artists These worked alongside the schools such as the Royal Academy and the Slade School of Art In this volume eleven scholars experts on the individual institutions analyse their complex histories to investigate such issues as How did they generate and redesign their publics What identities did they create What practice of art making connoisseurship and spectatorship did they enshrine These reports elucidate the values associated with the key institutions and describe the responses and adaptation over time to major cultural developments new movements political change and the development of the Empire The volume as a whole offers a fascinating account of the interconnections between these key institutions Challenging conventional readings of the subject the Introduction by Paul Barlow and Colin Trodd offers a definition of public art during the Victorian period

Anglo-Saxon England: Volume 28 Michael Lapidge, Malcolm Godden, Simon Keynes, 2000-06-22 This volume is framed by articles that throw interesting light on the achievement and reputation of the greatest of Anglo Saxon kings Alfred      Samuel Palmer Revisited Simon Shaw-Miller, 2017-07-05 Varied and deliberately diverse this group of essays provides a reassessment of the life and work of the popular nineteenth century artist Samuel Palmer While scholarly publications have been published recently which reassess Palmer's achievement those works primarily consider the artist in isolation This volume examines his work in relation to a wider art world and analyses areas of his life and output that have until now received little attention reinstating the study of Palmer's work within broader debates about landscape and cultural history In Samuel Palmer Revisited the contributors provide a fresh perspective on Palmer's work its context and its influence      The Practice of Her Profession Susan Butlin, 2009-03 Florence Carlyle 1864-1923 born in Galt Ontario emerged as one of the most successful Canadian artists of her time Trained in Paris she lived and worked in New York City and in Canada cultivating a career as a popular portrait and genre painter Known for her masterful use of colour Carlyle's paintings are nuanced and perceptive portrayals of feminine spaces the female figure and women's domestic work      The Criche! Boys Simon Fenwick, 2021-02-25 In 1945 Eddy Sackville West Desmond Shawe Taylor and Eardley Knollys writers for the New Statesman and a National Trust administrator purchased Long Criche! House an old rectory with no electricity and an inadequate water supply In this improbable place the last English literary salon began Quieter and less formal than the famed London literary salons Long Criche! became an idiosyncratic experiment in communal living Sackville West Shawe Taylor and Knollys later joined by the literary critic Raymond Mortimer became members of one another's surrogate families and their companionship became a stimulus for writing for them and their guests Long Criche!'s visitors book reveals a Who's Who of the arts in post war Britain Nancy Mitford Benjamin Britten Laurie Lee Cyril Connolly Somerset Maugham E M Forster Cecil Beaton Vita Sackville West and Harold Nicolson who were attracted by the good food generous quantities of drink and excellent conversation For Frances Partridge and James Lees Milne two of the twentieth century's finest diarists Long Criche! became a second home and their lives became bound up with the house Yet there was to be more to the story of the house than what critics variously referred to as a group of hyphenated gentlemen aesthetes and a prose factory In later years the house and its inhabitants were to weather the aftershocks of the Criche! Down Affair the Wolfenden Report and the AIDS crisis The story of Long Criche! is also part of the development of the National Trust and other conservation movements Through the lens of Long Criche! archivist and writer Simon Fenwick tells a wider story of the great upheaval that took place in the second half of the twentieth century Intimate and revealing he brings to life Long Criche!'s golden gossip years and in doing so unveils a missing link in English literary and cultural history      Jason Thompson, 2002 Looking at encounters of European travelers with Egypt in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries this collection of essays focuses on the experience of the less well known travelers and institutions Contributors include Lisa Bernasek Briony Llewellyn A J Mills Charles Newton John David Regan John Rodenbeck John Ruffle Sarah Searight Nicholas Warner Vol 23 No 2      Handbook of Modern British

Painting and Printmaking, 1900-1990 Alan Windsor, 1998 The Handbook of Modern British Painting and Printmaking 1900 1990 has been designed for people who enjoy study and buy British art The only portable dictionary style guide to the life and work of modern British painters and printmakers the book provides information on some 2 000 artists as well as entries on schools of art on museums galleries and collections on societies and groups and critics and patrons who have influenced the development of modern art in Britain Artists are included if they at one end of the timescale had finished their training by 1900 and were truly beginning their professional career in the twentieth century and at the other end of the timescale had established themselves professionally on the national scene by 1990 If the artist was foreign born he or she is included if they resided in Britain and exhibited or worked here long enough for their presence to be of significance for British art Visual

Typologies from the Early Modern to the Contemporary Tara Zanardi, Lynda Klich, 2018-07-04 Visual Typologies from the Early Modern to the Contemporary investigates the pictorial representation of types from the sixteenth to the twenty first century Originating in longstanding visual traditions including street crier prints and costume albums these images share certain conventions as they seek to convey knowledge about different peoples The genre of the type became widespread in the early modern period developing into a global language of identity The chapters explore diverse pictorial representations of types customs and dress in numerous media including paintings prints postcards photographs and garments Together they reveal that the activation of typological strategies including seriality repetition appropriation and subversion has produced a universal and dynamic pictorial language Typological images highlight the tensions between the local and the international the specific and the communal and similarity and difference inherent in the construction of identity The first full length study to treat these images as a broader genre Visual Typologies gives voice to a marginalized form of representation Together the chapters debunk the classification of such images as unmediated and authentic representations offering fresh methodological frameworks to consider their meanings locally and globally and establishing common ground about the operations of objects that sought to shape embody or challenge individual and collective identities Art Libraries Journal , 1998 Oxford Dictionary of National Biography: Ela-Fancourt Henry Colin Gray Matthew, Brian Harrison, Brian Howard Harrison, 2004 55 000 biographies of people who shaped the history of the British Isles and beyond from the earliest times to the year 2002

The Enchanted River Simon Fenwick, 2004 In the nineteenth century the Royal Watercolour Society was at the heart of the British artistic establishment Members included David Cox Peter De Wint and Samuel Palmer Edward Burne Jones William Holman Hunt Lawrence Alma Tadema and John Singer Sargent For much of the twentieth century it was considered out of touch with developments in British art until changing fashion brought about the re establishment of the RWS as a significant force in contemporary British painting In an engaging narrative Simon Fenwick records these changing fortunes and the controversies personal vendettas and financial crises which characterised much of its history He tells how Jane Austen visited the 1813 exhibitions looking for portraits of characters from Pride and Prejudice how Burne Jones resigned from the Society in 1870 over complaints about nudities in one of his paintings and how when Helen Allingham was elected to full membership in 1889 the President predicted that this would lead to lady members shrieking at RWS meetings and the breaking up of the Society      Cecil Higgins Art Gallery Cecil Higgins Art Gallery, Evelyn Joll, 2002
