The Cape Route Imperiled Western Lifeline:

The Cape Route Robert Hanks, 1981 SCOTT Copy 1 From the John Holmes Library collection The Red Sea Region Roberto Aliboni, 2015-07-16 Since the late 1970s the Red Sea has become extremely important both in international politics and regional affairs This situation came about because of the growing Soviet presence in the Horn of Africa and Saudi efforts to have the Red Sea treated as an Arab Lake This book first published in 1985 examines the development of the Red Sea as a significant problem in superpower relations and assesses its relative importance in the context of other conflicts in the Gulf and elsewhere in the Third World It analyses Soviet interests in the Red Sea area and examines its record in seeking to intervene in the domestic politics of the region The book also discusses the degree of regional stability in the Red Sea both in terms of inter Arab relations and Afro Arab regulations This issue is considered against the background of the security of the Nile valley In conclusion the book argues that Saudi Arabia s regional policies aimed at enhancing internal and external security have proved destabilizing and in a way even adventurous By fermenting Somali nationalism Saudi Arabia hoped to push the Soviets out of the Red Sea In fact this policy reinforced the Soviet presence in the Horn of Africa Similarly Saudi Arabia s regular interference in the domestic affairs of North Yemen may well prove extremely counter productive The book argues that the West s preoccupation with the region would lessen considerably if Saudi Arabia and Egypt would promote policies of cooperation rather than destabilization at both inter Arab and Afro Arab levels The West, Japan, and Cape Route Imports Charles M. Perry, 1982 Superpower Rivalry in the Indian Ocean Selig S. Harrison, K. Subrahmanyam, 1989 Indian and American experts reflecting different perspectives and areas of expertise here examine the political ethnic and religious factors that have escalated superpower tensions in India and its nearby Islamic states

International Law of the Sea and Marine Affairs Nikos Papadakis, Martin Ira Glassner, 1984-04-06 International Law of the Sea and Marine Affairs The Geopolitics Of Southern Africa Kent H Butts, Paul R Thomas, 2019-07-09 South Africa is the dominant force in an area that is of increasing strategic importance to the West yet few studies address the geopolitical pressures that dictate the course of events there Analyzing South Africa s base of power the authors argue that because South Africa s relationships with other states in Southern Africa are asymmetrical in nature the country has substantial economic and political leverage in the region Control of Southern Africa s transport infrastructure and the ability to project a conventional or surrogate military presence throughout the region for example gives South Africa the power to affect the economic and political stability of virtually all regional states Asymmetry also characterizes relationships at the global level Because the West depends upon South Africa for access to the region s strategic minerals for the security of the Cape oil route and for the country s ability to counterbalance the Soviet presence in Southern Africa South Africa exercises considerable influence over the African foreign policies of the superpowers Focusing on the major geopolitical variables affecting South Africa s ability to sustain power the authors analyze the economic and geographic factors that contribute to asymmetrical relationships and examine the pluralism that divides South African society Pretoria's successful foreign policy which has created a security corridor of new buffer states is given particular emphasis In addition the authors provide a detailed analysis of South Africa's minerals based economy and discuss the implications for regional stability of economic sanctions against South Africa Finally they outline a policy framework that takes regional economic political and geographic realities into account Presidential Directive on the Use of Polygraphs and Prepublication Review United States. Congress.

House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Civil and Constitutional Rights,1985 On Geopolitics: Classical and Nuclear Ciro E. Zoppo,Charles Zorgbibe,2012-12-06 At the outset of the 1980's NATO decided to extend the scientific program of its Scientific Affairs Division to include the social sciences Strategic and international studies were included within this domain with the express purpose of facilitating communication among experts and research centers in member countries as well as in the Organization itself on these important topics This study is the result of the first Advanced Research Workshop on a subject of international relations It focuses on the historical and theoretical aspects of geopolitics because they must necessarily precede studies of policy application This was the intent of the organizers of the Workshop as well as of the sponsoring institution The choice of the topic was ours Conclusions were drawn according to our own judgments being totally unfettered by any guidance from NATO officials Consequently the views and conclusions presented in this work do not represent any NATO policy other than the encouragement of research in political freedom by free scholars to strengthen freedom everywhere We speak for all participants in the Workshop when we voice our appreciation for the financial and organizational support extended us by the Scientific Affairs Division and the Information Directorate
