The Cambridge Companion to Latin American Poetry Stephen M. Hart, 2018-03-15 The Cambridge Companion to Latin American Poetry provides historical context on the evolution of the Latin American poetic tradition from the sixteenth century to the present day. It is organized into three parts. Part I provides a comprehensive chronological survey of Latin American poetry and includes separate chapters on Colonial poetry, Romanticism, modernism, the avant-garde, conversational poetry, and contemporary poetry. Part II contains six succinct essays on the major figures: Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, Gabriela Mistral, César Vallejo, Pablo Neruda, Carlos Drummond de Andrade, and Octavio Paz. Part III analyses specific and distinctive trends within the poetic canon, including women's, LGBT, Quechua, Afro-Hispanic, Latino, and New Media poetry. This Companion also contains a guide to further reading as well as an essay on the best English translations of Latin American poetry. It will be a key resource for students and instructors of Latin American literature and poetry.

A Companion to Pablo Neruda Jason Wilson, 2014-08 Pablo Neruda was without doubt one of the greatest poets of the twentieth century, but his work is extremely uneven. There is a view that there are two Nerudas: an early Romantic visionary and a later Marxist populist who denied his earlier poetic self. By focussing on the poet's apprenticeship and by looking closely at how Neruda created his poetic persona within his poems, this Companion tries to establish what should survive of his massive output. By seeing his early work as self-exploration through metaphor and sound as well as through varieties of love and direct experience, the Companion outlines a unity behind all the work based on voice and a public self. Neruda's debt to reading and books is studied in depth, and the change in poetics is re-examined by concentrating on the early work up to Residencia en la tierra I and II and why he wanted to become a poet. Debate about quality and representativity is grounded in his Romantic thinking, sensibility, and sincerity. Unlike a Borges or a Paz who accompanied their creative work with analytical essays, Neruda distilled all his experiences into his poems, which remain his true biography. Jason Wilson is Professor Emeritus in the Department of Spanish and Latin American Studies, University College London.

long poem and his magnum opus the artistic culmination of a lifetime devoted to the renewal and reinvention of language As a poet I am always lost Bei Dao once said Opening with a prologue of heavenly questions and followed by thirty four cantos Sidetracks travels forward and backward along the divergent paths of the poet s wandering life from his time as a Young Pioneer in Beijing through the years of exile living in six countries back to the rural construction site where he worked during the Cultural Revolution to the sunshine tablecloth in his kitchen in Davis California and his emotional visit home after a thirteen year separation the mother tongue has deepened my foreignness All the various currents of our times rush into his lifelines reconfigured through the vortex of experience and the poet s encounters with friends and strangers artists and ghosts as he moves from place to place unable to return home As the poet Michael Palmer has noted Bei Dao s work in its rapid transitions abrupt juxtapositions and frequent recurrence to open syntax evokes the un speakability of the exile s condition It is a poetry of explosive convergences of submersions and unfixed boundaries amid languages
