The Breaking Of Style Hopkins Heaney Graham:

The Breaking of Style Helen Vendler, 1995 Lucid and elegant a tour de force A O Scott Nation Three lectures on the fraught process of poetic development from a titan of contemporary criticism Style is the material body of lyric poetry To cast off an earlier style is to commit an act of violence against the creative self Why do poets so often make these dramatic breaks In her 1994 Richard Ellman Lectures Helen Vendler investigates poets motives for inventing a new voice along with their means of doing so Exploring three archetypal ruptures she yields a new view of the interplay of moral emotional and intellectual forces in each poet s work Gerard Manley Hopkins s invention of sprung rhythm marks a radical break with his early style Rhythm Vendler shows us is at the heart of Hopkins s aesthetic and sprung rhythm is his symbol for danger difference and the shock of the beautiful In Seamus Heaney s work she identifies clear shifts in grammatical atmosphere from one poem to the next from nounness to the betweenness of an adverbial style shifts whose moral and political implications come under scrutiny here And finally Vendler looks at Jorie Graham s departure from short lines to numbered lines to squared long lines of sentences marking a move from deliberation to cinematic freeze framing to coverage each with its own meaning in this poet s career Throughout Vendler reminds us that what distinguishes successful poetry is a mastery of language at all levels including the rhythmic the grammatical and the graphic A lucid reading of three poets and a superb exposition of the craft of poetry The Breaking of Style revives our lapsed sense of what style means Back to the Present: Forward to the Past, Volume II, 2006-01-01 The island of Ireland north and south has produced a great diversity of writing in both English and Irish for hundreds of years often using the memories embodied in its competing views of history as a fruitful source of literary inspiration Placing Irish literature in an international context these two volumes explore the connection between Irish history and literature in particular the Rebellion of 1798 in a more comprehensive diverse and multi faceted way than has often been the case in the past The fifty three authors bring their national and personal viewpoints as well as their critical judgements to bear on Irish literature in these stimulating articles The contributions also deal with topics such as Gothic literature ideology and identity as well as gender issues connections with the other arts regional Irish literature in particular that of the city of Limerick translations the works of Joyce and comparisons with the literature of other nations The contributors are all members of IASIL International Association for the Study of Irish Literatures Back to the Present Forward to the Past Irish Writing and History since 1798 will be of interest to both literary scholars and professional historians but also to the general student of Irish writing and Irish culture Fossil Poetry Chris

Jones, 2018-08-08 Fossil Poetry provides the first book length overview of the place of Anglo Saxon in nineteenth century poetry in English It addresses the use and role of Anglo Saxon as a resource by Romantic and Victorian poets in their own compositions as well as the construction and invention of Anglo Saxon in and by nineteenth century poetry Fossil Poetry takes its title from a famous passage on early language in the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson and uses the metaphor of the fossil to contextualize poetic Anglo Saxonism within the developments that had been taking place in the fields of geology palaeontology and the evolutionary life sciences since James Hutton's apprehension of deep time in his 1788 Theory of the Earth Fossil Poetry argues that two roughly consecutive phases of poetic Anglo Saxonism took place over the course of the nineteenth century firstly a phase of constant roots whereby Anglo Saxon is constructed to resemble and so to legitimize a tradition of English Romanticism conceived as essential and unchanging secondly a phase in which the strangeness of many of the extinct philological forms of early English is acknowledged and becomes concurrent with a desire to recover and recuperate the fossils of Anglo Saxon within contemporary English poetry The volume advances new readings of work by a variety of poets including Walter Scott Henry Longfellow William Wordsworth William Barnes Walt Whitman Ralph Waldo Emerson William Morris Alfred Tennyson and Gerard Hopkins The Frugal Chariot Francis L. Fennell, 2023-12-06 If you love poetry this book is about you and for you It doesn't matter whether you are a scholar or a lover of beautiful poetry this book brings everyone together by responding to a current crisis the falling interest in and support for the humanities especially poetry This book argues that the most fruitful place to begin to reinvigorate literary reading and thus the humanities is with the close and careful attention to the experience of non academic readers This book explores their experiences listening carefully to what they have to say how they you respond to poetry why you love it The book shows in other words at least a partial cure for that falling interest in the humanities which gets so much attention in newspapers and on TV The book employs the poetry of Gerard Manley Hopkins and lets him supply the illustrative material Hopkins is one of the seven most read poets in the English language but you do not have to know Hopkins well to understand the revolutionary approach to poetry and literary study that this book offers Confessing the Flesh Lesley Higgins, 2025-06-26 A new theoretical reading of the renowned poet and Jesuit priest Confessing the Flesh is an expansive interdisciplinary analysis of how aesthetic and religious discourses function in dialogue in the work of Gerard Manley Hopkins the celebrated Victorian era poet and Catholic priest Through Hopkins Lesley Higgins reveals how religion was expressed lived and debated in the nineteenth century Both a comprehensive analysis of innovative Victorian poetry and a cultural history of confession this book builds on previous Hopkins criticism by adopting a new approach informed by feminist and Foucauldian theory With its analysis of the cultural conditions and power relations that sustained religious belief and poetic expression in the Victorian age Confessing the Flesh offers new insights on the perennial question of Hopkins's religious commitments And with its examination of everything from theological treatises to Punch cartoons Higgins's exploration of Hopkins's confessional modes uncovers the ways that gender and nation become implicated in confessional controversies and fleshly entanglements

Victorian Poetry and the Culture of Evaluation Clara Dawson, 2020-02-27 Victorian Poetry and the Culture of Evaluation argues that the dialectic and dynamic relationship between the periodical review and poetry creates a culture of evaluation which shapes Victorian poetic form The mediation of poetry by the periodical review orients poets towards public readership and reception heightening their self consciousness about their audience and generating a poetics of publicness Using methodologies associated with historical poetics and new formalism the book examines the dialogues between poets and periodical reviews from the 1830s to the 1860s It juxtaposes male and female poets and canonical and uncanonical texts Challenging the critical binaries of fame and celebrity the culture of evaluation posits a new way of reading Victorian poetry It illuminates poets engagement with the immediacy and inevitability of writing for the present and for the contemporary media through which poetry was read and disseminated New patterns of reception were created by mass print culture and both poets and reviewers were preoccupied with reaching the newly constituted mass audience The changes to the material forms of poetry e g through the periodical or gift book and the subjection to the commercial imperatives of the literary marketplace encouraged bold experiment with verse The book identifies three poetic strategies for articulating the preoccupation with a mass audience and the demands of mass media voice style and address Chapters on voice style and address explore the development of poetic form in dialogue with periodical reviews

Notework Simon Reader, 2021-06-22 Notework begins with a striking insight the writer s notebook is a genre in itself Simon Reader pursues this argument in original readings of unpublished writing by prominent Victorians offering an expansive approach to literary formalism for the twenty first century Neither drafts nor diaries the notes of Charles Darwin Oscar Wilde Gerard Manley Hopkins Vernon Lee and George Gissing record ephemeral and nonlinear experiences revealing each author s desire to leave their fragments scattered and unused Presenting notes in terms of genre allows Reader to suggest inventive new accounts of key Victorian texts including The Picture of Dorian Gray On the Origin of Species and Hopkins s devotional lyrics and to reinterpret these works as meditations on the ethics of compiling and using data In this way Notework recasts information collection as a personal and expressive activity that comes into focus against large scale systems of knowledge organization Finding resonance between today s digital culture and its nineteenth century precursors Reader honors our most disposable improvised and fleeting written gestures

Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics schools or periods of American verse in the century Entries fall into three main categories poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author s career entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production school thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States

Poetry and Its Others Jahan Ramazani, 2022-12-22 What is poetry Often it is understood as a largely self enclosed verbal system suspended from any mutual interaction with alien discourse in the words of Mikhail Bakhtin But in Poetry and Its Others Jahan Ramazani reveals modern and contemporary poetry s animated dialogue with other genres and discourses Poetry generates rich new possibilities he argues by absorbing and contending with its near verbal relatives Exploring poetry's vibrant exchanges with other forms of writing Ramazani shows how poetry assimilates features of prose fiction but differentiates itself from novelistic realism metabolizes aspects of theory and philosophy but refuses their abstract procedures and recognizes itself in the verbal precision of the law even as it separates itself from the law's rationalism But poetry's most frequent interlocutors he demonstrates are news prayer and song Poets such as William Carlos Williams and W H Auden refashioned poetry to absorb the news while expanding its contexts T S Eliot and Charles Wright drew on the intimacy of prayer though resisting its limits and Paul Muldoon Rae Armantrout and Patience Agbabi have played with and against song lyrics and techniques Encompassing a cultural and stylistic range of writing unsurpassed by other studies of poetry Poetry and Its Others shows that we understand what poetry is by examining its interplay with what it is not Wallace Stevens And The Apocalyptic Mode Malcolm Woodland, 2009-11 Wallace Stevens and the Apocalyptic Mode focuses on Stevens's doubled stance toward the apocalyptic past his simultaneous use of and resistance to apocalyptic language two contradictory forces that have generated two dominant and incompatible interpretations of his work The book explores the often paradoxical roles of apocalyptic and antiapocalyptic rhetoric in modernist and postmodernist poetry and theory particularly as these emerge in the poetry of Stevens and Jorie Graham This study begins with an examination of the textual and generic issues surrounding apocalypse culminating in the idea of apocalyptic language as a form of discursive mastery over the mayhem of events Woodland provides an informative religious historical discussion of apocalypse and engaging with such critics as Parker Derrida and Fowler sets forth the paradoxes and complexities that eventually challenge any clear dualities between apocalyptic and antiapocalyptic thinking Woodland then examines some of Stevens's wartime essays and poems and describes Stevens's efforts to salvage a sense of self and poetic vitality in a time of war as well as his resistance to the possibility of cultural collapse Woodland discusses the major postwar poems Credences of Summer and The Auroras of Autumn in separate chapters examining the interaction of anti-apocalyptic modes with respectively pastoral and elegy The final chapter offers a perspective on Stevens's place in literary history by examining the work of a contemporary poet Jorie Graham whose poetry quotes from Stevens's oeuvre and shows other marks of his influence Woodland focuses on Graham's 1997 collection The Errancy and shows that her antiapocalyptic poetry involves a very different attitude toward the possibility of a radical break with a particular cultural or aesthetic stance Wallace Stevens and the Apocalyptic Mode offering a new understanding of Stevens's position in literary history will greatly interest literary scholars and students

The Relevance of Metaphor Josie O'Donoghue, 2021-11-27 This book considers metaphor as a communicative phenomenon in the poetry of Emily Dickinson Elizabeth Bishop and Seamus Heaney in light of the relevance theory account of communication first developed by Dan Sperber and Deirdre Wilson in the 1980s The first half of the book introduces relevance theory situating it in relation to literary criticism and then surveys the history of metaphor in literary studies and assesses relevance theory's account of metaphor including recent developments within the theory such as Robyn Carston's notion of the lingering of the literal. The second half of the book considers the role of metaphor in the work of three nineteenth and twentieth century poets through the lens of three terms central to relevance theory: inference, implicature, and mutual manifestness. The volume will be of interest to students and scholars working in literary studies, pragmatics, and stylistics, as well as to relevance theorists.

Living Classics S. J. Harrison, 2009-08-20 This collection of essays explores the extensive use of Latin and Greek literary texts in a range of recent poetry written in English. It contains both contributions from poets who include Tony Harrison, Seamus Heaney, and Michael Longley talking about their uses of classical literature in their own work in lyric poetry and in theatre poetry, and essays from academic experts on the same topics. Living Classics asks why contemporary poets are returning to making versions of and allusions to Greek and Roman literature in their work and interrogates the parallel interest of modern classical scholars in the contemporary reception of classical texts.

Strange Likeness Chris Jones, 2010-10-14 Strange Likeness provides the first full account of how Old English or Anglo-Saxon was rediscovered by twentieth century poets and the uses to which they put that discovery in their own writing. Chapters deal with Ezra Pound, W. H. Auden, Edwin Morgan, and Seamus Heaney. Stylistic debts to Old English are examined along with the effects on these poets' work of specific ideas about Old English language and literature as taught while these poets were studying the subject at university. Issues such as linguistic primitivism, the supposed purity of the English language, the politics and ethics of translation, and the construction of Englishness within the literary canon are discussed in the light of these poets and their Old English encounters. Heaney's translation of Beowulf is fully contextualized within the body of the rest of his work for the first time.

Complexities of Motion Steven P. Schneider, 1999 This volume gathers new essays on A. R. Ammons's long poems by many of the most influential critics of contemporary American poetry, including Helen Vendler, Marjorie Perloff, and Willard Spiegelman. It will serve for years to come as an important critical text on a vast body of work by one of the most prolific and innovative practitioners of the long poem in post-World War II American poetry. Complexities of Motion then is a collection of new critical articles on the entire range of Ammons's longer poems, beginning with Tape for the Turn of the Year (1965) and culminating with Glare (1997).

John Keats, Updated Edition Harold Bloom, 2009 Presents a collection of critical essays on the works of John Keats.

Humanities, 2002 His Hiding Place Is Darkness Francis X. Clooney S.J., 2013-12-04 His Hiding Place Is Darkness explores the uncertainties of faith and love in a pluralistic age. In keeping with his conviction that studying multiple religious traditions intensifies rather than attenuates religious devotion, Francis Clooney's latest work of comparative theology seeks a way beyond today's religious and interreligious uncertainty by pairing a fresh reading of the absence of the beloved in the Biblical Song of Songs with a pioneering study of the same theme in the Holy Word of Mouth, 9th century CE, a classic of Hindu mystical poetry rarely studied in the West. Remarkably, the pairing of these texts is grounded not in a general theory of religion but in an engagement with two unexpected sources the theopoetics theodramatics and theology of the 20th century Catholic theologian Hans Urs von Balthasar and the intensely perceived and written poetry of Pulitzer Prize winner Jorie Graham How we read and write on religious matters is transformed by this rare combination of voices in what is surely a unique and important contribution to comparative studies and religious hermeneutics     Witness and Memory Ana Douglass, Thomas A. Vogler, 2012-11-12 This is a collection within the anthropology of violence and witness studies a discipline inaugurated in the 1980s It accomplishes a tight focus while tackling seemingly disparate topics from Rigoberta Menchu to O J Simpson and from feminist poetry to Hiroshima Mon Amour With approaches ranging from anthropological and historical to literary and philosophical this collection is engaging in both subject matter and writing style     Secreted Desires Michael Matthew Kaylor, 2006     The Split World of Gerard Manley Hopkins Dennis Sobolev, 2011-05 For the first time in almost half a century the world of Hopkins is examined as an indivisible whole The Split World of Gerard Manley Hopkins is a synthetic study of Hopkins's writings written within a framework of semiotic phenomenology
