The Origins of Postcommunist Elites Gil Eyal,2003 How is it that Czechoslovakia s separation into two countries in 1993 was accomplished so peacefully especially when compared with the experiences of its neighbors Russia and Yugoslavia This book provides a sociological answer to this question and an empirical explanation for the breakup of Czechoslovakia by tracing the political processes begun in the Prague Spring of 1968 Gil Eyal s main argument is that Czechoslovakia s breakup was caused by a struggle between two fractions of what sociologists call the new class which consisted primarily of intellectuals and technocrats Focusing on the process of polarization that created these two distinct political elites Eyal shows how in response to the events of the ill fated Prague Spring Czech and Slovak members of the new class embarked on divergent paths and developed radically different even opposed identities worldviews and interests Unlike most accounts of postcommunist nationalist conflict this book suggests that what bound together each of these fractions and what differentiated each from the other were not national identities and nationalist sentiments per se but their distinctive visions of the social role of intellectuals Book jacket

East Central European Crisis Discourses in the Twentieth Century Balázs Trencsényi,Lucija Balikić,Una Blagojević,Isidora Grubački,2024-08-20 The term crisis with its complex history has emerged as one of the pivotal notions of political modernity As such reconstructing the ways the discourse of crisis functioned in various contexts and historical moments gives us a unique insight not only into a series of conceptual transformations but also into the underlying logic of key political and intellectual controversies of the last two centuries Studying the ways crisis was experienced conceptualized and negotiated can contribute to the understanding of how various visions of time and history shape political thinking and conversely how political and social reconfigurations frame our assumptions about temporality and spatiality A historical region wedged in between various competing imperial centers East Central Europe has been an area often associated with crisis phenomena by both internal and external observers Seeking to employ the regional gaze as a vantage point to reflect on issues which are relevant well beyond those countries between the Baltic and the Adriatic this project is also in dialogue with a number of recent transnational attempts to rethink political and intellectual history with regard to the recurrent epistemological frames that structure the political and cultural debate This book will thus be useful both for researchers from the field of intellectual history and numerous adjacent fields and graduate university students alike

Ethnic Bargaining Erin K. Jenne,2014-05-30 Ethnic Bargaining introduces a theory of minority politics that blends comparative analysis and field research in the postcommunist countries of East Central Europe with insights from rational choice Erin K Jenne finds that claims by ethnic minorities have become more frequent since 1945 even though nation states have been on the whole more responsive to groups than in earlier periods Minorities that perceive an increase in their bargaining power will tend to radicalize their demands she argues from affirmative action to regional autonomy to secession in an effort to attract ever greater concessions from the central government The language of self determination and minority rights originally adopted by the Great Powers to redraw boundaries after World War I was later used to facilitate the process of decolonization Jenne believes that in the 1960s various ethnic minorities began to use the same discourse to pressure national governments into transfer payments and power sharing arrangements Violence against minorities was actually in some cases fueled by this politicization of ethnic difference Jenne uses a rationalist theory of bargaining to examine the dynamics of ethnic cleavage in the cases of the Sudeten Germans in interwar Czechoslovakia Slovaks and Moravians in postcommunist Czechoslovakia the Hungarians in Romania Slovakia and Vojvodina and the Albanians in Kosovo Throughout she challenges the conventional wisdom that partisan intervention is an effective mechanism for protecting minorities and preventing or resolving internal conflict
