Shadows of the Enlightenment George E. McCarthy, 2025-08-05 Shadows of the Enlightenment sheds light on the deeply political agenda underlying Western science from the so called Age of Reason to the present George McCarthy uncovers the economic social and historical origins of modern science and illuminates the a priori and innate features which furnish the justifications for the technical domination and control of nature and humanity The natural sciences were born of a market economy commercial trade and industrial production and were furthermore reflective of the values and institutions of modern capitalism and its class system in the seventeenth century As such one of the central roles of Western science has been to legitimate its theoretical imperative to dominate nature and to reorganize human labor for profit property and power Breaking with the medieval scholastic tradition modern science viewed nature as a reified mechanism which could be mathematically measured empirically predicted causally explained and managed Nature itself was recast as a dead machine stripped of any inherent meaning or purpose Ultimately when applied to the production process the field of natural science led to scientific management and economic exploitation and when applied in the academy particularly to the social sciences the field of natural science led to the eclipse of reason and the twilight of social theory Building upon the radical analysis of Marx and Engels Shadows of the Enlightenment articulates a new liberatory postmodern science and technology grounded in Marx s theory of social justice integrating ancient and modern traditions from classical Greece to the French Revolution from the Paris Commune to the Iroquois Confederacy In the process McCarthy invites us to move beyond the falsely mechanistic sense of reality and to break free from the sense of alienation that binds us all in order to make space for dreaming up a substantively democratic society

"Striking Images, Iconoclasm Past and Present" Stacy Boldrick, 2017-07-05 All cultures make and break images Striking Images Iconoclasm Past and Present explores how and why people have made and modified images and other cultural material from pre history into the 21st century With its impressive chronological sweep and disciplinary breadth this is the first book about iconoclasm the breaking of images and the transformation of broader sets of signs that includes contributions from archaeologists curators and museum conservators as well as historians of art literature and religious studies The chapters examine themes critical to the study of iconoclasm violence punishment memory intentionality ruins and relics and their survival The conclusion shows how cross disciplinary debate amongst the contributors informed Tate Britain's Art under Attack exhibition 2013 and addresses the challenges iconoclasm presents to the modern museum By juxtaposing objects and places usually considered in isolation Striking Images raises provocative questions about our understandings of cross cultural differences and the value of representational objects from the broken swords of pre historical bog graves to the Bamiyan Buddhas and contemporary art Are any such objects ever finished or are they simply subject to constant transformation In dialogue with each other the essays consider this question and expand the field of iconoclasm and cultural studies
