H. Blackwell, 1959... Emil Vetter, 1961*      James Wilson Poultrney, "The Bronze Tables of Iguvium", Baltimore, 1959, [Recensione] Piergiuseppe Scardigli, 1961      Compte rendu de Poultney James Wilson, The bronze tables of Iguvium, philological monographs publ. by the American philological association, XVIII, Baltimore, Maryland, American philological association, 1959, XVI ... Jürgen Untermann, 1961      Ancient Umbria Guy Bradley, 2000-12-21 How should we understand the ways in which the regions of Italy were affected by Roman imperialism This book which is the first full scale treatment of ancient Umbria in any language takes a balanced view of the region s history in the first millennium BC focusing on local actions and motivations as much as the effect of outside influences and Roman policies Through a careful reading of all the types of evidence it provides an important challenge to traditional treatments emphasising the Romanization of the region arguing that this is a poor explanation for the complexity of local societies in the late Republican period Instead it proposes that other trends particularly the organization of states help to explain the fascinating plurality of identities that are evident in the imperial period and allow us to appreciate the diversity of local societies that emerged in both mountain and lowland areas of Umbria      Harvard Studies in Classical Philology Harvard University Department of Classics, 1890      The Textual Criticism of Inscriptions Roland Grubb Kent, 1926      How to Kill a Dragon Calvert Watkins, 1995-11-16 In How to Kill a Dragon Calvert Watkins follows the continuum of poetic formulae in Indo European languages from Old Hittite to medieval Irish He uses the comparative method to reconstruct traditional poetic formulae of considerable complexity that stretch as far back as the original common language Thus Watkins reveals the antiquity and tenacity of the Indo European poetic tradition Watkins begins this study with an introduction to the field of comparative Indo European poetics he explores the Saussurian notions of synchrony and

diachrony and locates the various Indo European traditions and ideologies of the spoken word Further his overview presents case studies on the forms of verbal art with selected texts drawn from Indic Iranian Greek Latin Hittite Armenian Celtic and Germanic languages In the remainder of the book Watkins examines in detail the structure of the dragon serpent slaying myths which recur in various guises throughout the Indo European poetic tradition He finds the signature formula for the myth the divine hero who slays the serpent or overcomes adversaries occurs in the same linguistic form in a wide range of sources and over millennia including Old and Middle Iranian holy books Greek epic Celtic and Germanic sagas down to Armenian oral folk epic of the last century Watkins argues that this formula is the vehicle for the central theme of a proto text and a central part of the symbolic culture of speakers of the Proto Indo European language the relation of humans to their universe the values and expectations of their society Therefore he further argues poetry was a social necessity for Indo European society where the poet could confer on patrons what they and their culture valued above all else imperishable fame

The Emergence and Development of SVO Patterning in Latin and French Brigitte L. M. Bauer, 1995 This book analyzes in terms of branching the pervasive reorganization of Latin syntactic and morphological structures in the development from Latin to French a shift can be observed from the archaic left branching structures which Latin inherited from Proto Indo European to modern right branching equivalents Brigitte L M Bauer presents a detailed analysis of this development based on the theoretical discussion and definition of branching and head Subsequently she relates the diachronic shift to psycholinguistic evidence arguing that the difficulty of left branching complex structures as reflected in their painstaking and delayed acquisition accounts for the extensive typological shift from left to right branching that took place in Latin French and the other Indo European languages The author uses data from child language acquisition studies to support her thought provoking claim

Indo-European and the Indo-Europeans Thomas V. Gamkrelidze, Vjaceslav V. Ivanov, 2010-12-15 Gamkrelidze and Ivanov's wide ranging and interdisciplinary work superbly translated from Russian is a must for every student of Indo European prehistory Its erudition is unsurpassed and its unorthodox conclusions are a continuing challenge Prof Dr Martin Haspelmath Max Planck Institut für Evolutionäre Anthropologie The authors propose a revision of views on a number of central issues of Indo European studies Based on findings of typology they suggest a new analysis of the phonological system of Proto Indo European the Glottalic Theory they offer novel assumptions about the relative chronology of changes in PIE vowels and laryngeals Their conclusions are compared with data from Proto Kartvelian In the second part of the book semantically organized presentation of material from the lexicon is combined with analyses of the use of forms and formulae in a broadly defined cultural context Again similarities with properties of primarily Kartvelian and Semitic are described and extended close contacts with these language families are postulated This necessarily leads to a proposal to place the hypothetical Urheimat of the Indo Europeans in the region south of the Caucasus Volume I and II of the original Russian edition have been combined in the English version as Part I the Bibliography and Indexes are published as Part II     The Altars of Republican Rome and Latium Claudia Moser, 2019-01-17 This book reorients the study of sacrifice examining the locus of ritual action the altars of Republican Rome and Latium     The Evolution of Verse Structure in Old and Middle English Poetry Geoffrey Russom, 2017-04-07 This book traces the evolution of traditional English verse structures from their Old and Middle origins to the Modern English period     Figures in the Shadows Bart Huelsenbeck, 2018-06-11 The collection of the elder Seneca assembles quotations from scores of declaimers over a period spanning sixty years from the Augustan Age through the early decades of the empire A view is offered onto a literary scene for this critical period of Roman letters that is numerous highly interactive and less dominated by just a few canonical authors Despite this potential modern readings have often lumped declaimers together en masse and organizational principles basic to Seneca's collection remain overlooked This volume attempts to hear the individual speech of declaimers by focusing on two speakers Arellius Fuscus rhetor to Ovid and Papirius Fabianus teacher of the younger Seneca A key organizing principle informing both the collection and the practice of declamation was the shared locus a short passage defined by verbal and argumentative ingredients that gained currency among declaimers Study of the operation of the shared locus carries several advantages 1 we appreciate distinctions between declaimers 2 we recognize shared passages as a medium of communication and 3 the shared locus emerges as a community resource explaining deep seated connections between declamation and literary works     The Annals of Quintus Ennius and the Italic Tradition Jay Fisher, 2014-07-09 A fresh look at the multicultural influences on Quintus Ennius and his epic poem the Annals Quintus Ennius often considered the father of Roman poetry is best remembered for his epic poem the Annals a history of Rome from Aeneas until his own lifetime Ennius represents an important bridge between Homer's works in Greek and Vergil's Aeneid Jay Fisher argues that Ennius does not simply translate Homeric models into Latin but blends Greek poetic models with Italic diction to produce a poetic hybrid Fisher's investigation uncovers a poem that blends foreign and familiar cultural elements in order to generate layers of meaning for his Roman audience Fisher combines modern linguistic methodologies with traditional philology to uncover the influence of the language of Roman ritual kinship and military culture on the Annals Moreover because these customs are themselves hybrids of earlier Roman Etruscan and Greek cultural practices not to mention the customs of speakers of lesser known languages such as Oscan and Umbrian the echoes of cultural interactions generate layers of meaning for Ennius his ancient audience and the modern readers of the fragments of the Annals     The Archaic Community of the Romans Robert E. A. Palmer, 1970-10-02 An examination of the development of archaic Rome which successfully united disparate cultures and integrated them into political life The author discusses the nature of the evidence and the theories of ancient and modern historians reconstructs the organisation of the archaic state and traces the deterioration of the curiae     Southern Europe Trudy Ring, Noelle Watson, Paul Schellinger, 2013-11-05 This five volume set presents some 1 000 comprehensive and fully illustrated histories of the most famous sites in the world Entries include
