The Bus A Novel:

The Bus Gabe Ehrnwald, 2012 Let's Take the Bus Chris Economos, 1989 Five foolish animal friends have trouble getting home on the bus Hey, I'm Marty. I Drive the Bus! Book II Martin Molinaro, 2010-09-28 Marty is a Professional Bus Shuttle Driver and has been driving for many years His occupation is one that puts him up front and personal with a special sector of our society Bus Passengers Over the years he has accumulated an assortment of short stories while driving a city transit bus he wishes to share these stories with you Many of these stories are serious while others are mind boggling hilarious or just make you say Oh my gosh what were they thinking He has written this book using the following parameters there are no swear words in this book He doesn't need to use profanity to get his point across he does not identify any ethnic backgrounds of the people in his stories Marty wants people to view people without prejudice and bias and lastly he was honest and told the truth to the best of his ability By doing this he has found out that people don't like the truth and will go to extremes to avoid it Marty's writings are unique because he writes like he talks He does this so that he can relate to anybody who has ever told a story The stories that he tells are inspirational motivational and humorous He has become a Master Story Teller and shares his stories with all who will listen So get on board Put your fare in the box Grab a seat and be prepared for the ride of your life HEY I M MARTY I DRIVE THE BUS BOOK I is currently being sold worldwide Approaches to the African Novel Charles E. Nnolim, 2010 This Third Edition of Approaches to the African Novel is a child of necessity Because of the unfortunate death of the publisher of Saros International who issued the First Edition and high demand this third enlarged edition has become imperative Three new essays all previously published are added two expectedly on Achebe the father of the African novel and one on Mongp Beti's Mission to Kala which was partially anthologised in Contemporary Literary Criticism Volume 27 1984 Achebe's Things Fall Apart as an Igbo national epic has evoked a spate of reactions from critics of African literature especially the troika Chinweizu et al in Toward the Decolonization of African Literature It was also anthologised in Modern Black Literature edited by S Okechukwu Menu 1971 The essay on Arrow of God whose structure and meaning has been largely avoided by other critics is included here for further airing For gender balance as the previous volume contained no essays on women writers an essay on Flora Nwapa has been added Since the novels discussed in this volume exclusively are on the African literature south of the Sahara the last essay on Peter Abrahams comes in to round out this collection of essays with a study of a south African writer for geographical balance The James Michael Ullman Crime Novel MEGAPACK®: 4 Great Crime Novels James Michael Ullman, 2016-10-24 James Michael Ullman 1925 1997 was an American novelist and newspaper writer editor known for his work in and about the Chicago area Ullman served in World War II and the U S Navy for two and a half years and also served as an Air Force civilian employee on Guam He was educated at Chicago's Wright Junior College and De Paul University eventually receiving a Masters in Journalism from Northwestern University in 1954 He became a newspaperman soon after serving as police reporter on the La Porte Indiana

Herald Argus then as editor of the Skokie IL News and served as head of the United Press Bureau's Chicago desk. He won a prize in Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine's 1953 contest with his first story 'Anything New on the Strangler'. His short stories continued to appear in EQMM through the early 1960s when he turned to novels. This volume selects four of his best: THE NEON HAYSTACK, FULL COVERAGE, THE VENUS TRAP, LADY ON FIRE. Novel Approaches to the Diagnosis and Treatment of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder M.J. Roy, 2006-03-09 Posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD) is a common and disabling condition that often goes undiagnosed for years and even when the diagnosis is made, treatment is frequently ineffective, especially for combat veterans. Cognitive behavioural therapy with imaginal exposure is considered first line treatment, but many cannot or will not engage in imaginal exposure, which is not surprising since avoidance of reminders of the trauma is a defining feature of PTSD. Novel technologies offer an alternative to facilitate exposure therapy through virtual reality (VR). This book outlines state-of-the-art approaches to improving the diagnosis and treatment of PTSD, with a particular emphasis on the promise and pitfalls associated with VR exposure therapy. The world's leading experts in this cutting-edge field describe their VR work in phobias and other mental disorders and chart a course for future studies to improve the diagnosis and treatment of PTSD.

Locomotion in Literature Martin Zerlang, 2025-07-01 The invention of the locomotive changed landscapes cityscapes social relations sensibilities prophesied by Hans Christian Andersen it also made huge impact on literature on genres themes style This book is about this commotion this literary locomotion as it has been represented in Danish literature The book explores the movements between text and context and the interplay between literature and social history Through the prism of the railway the book provides an overview of Danish literary history from writers such as Søren Kierkegaard Georg Brandes Henrik Pontoppidan Johannes V. Jensen Tove Ditlevsen Peter Høeg The locomotive of history is a well known metaphor but a historical reading of these writers also show the impact of history on this metaphor from something extraordinary to something more ordinary Hans Christian Andersen wrote about meeting God face to face on the railway The experience of the modern commuter is closer to what Georges Perec calls the infraordinary As reflected in the work of Peter Høeg however the railway also figures in the intense contemporary debates on decolonizing The book draws on theoretical insights expressed in concepts such as chronotope character and literary speed This book will be of interest to students and scholars in literature studies history transport and mobility studies human geography and urban studies

The Poetics of Ethnography in Martinican Narratives Christina Kullberg, 2013-11-04 Drawing on narratives from Martinique by Aimé Césaire Édouard Glissant Ina Césaire and Patrick Chamoiseau among others Christina Kullberg shows how these writers turn to ethnography even as they critique it as an exploration and expression of the self They acknowledge its tradition as a colonial discourse and a study of others but they also argue for ethnography's advantage in connecting subjectivity to the outside world Further they find that ethnography offers the possibility of capturing within the hybrid culture of the Caribbean an emergent self that nonetheless remains attached to its collective history and environment Rather than claiming to be able to represent the culture they also feel alienated from these writers explore the relationships between themselves the community and the environment Although Kullberg's focus is on Martinique her work opens up possibilities for intertextual readings and comparative studies of writers from every linguistic region in the Caribbean not only francophone but also Hispanic and anglophone In addition her interdisciplinary approach extends the reach of her work beyond postcolonial and literary studies to anthropology and ecocriticism

Taking Literature and Language Learning Online Sandra Stadler-Heer, Amos Paran, 2022-10-20 The use of literary texts in language classrooms is firmly established but new questions arise with the transfer to remote teaching and learning How do we teach literature online How do learners react to being taught literature online Will new genres emerge from the COVID 19 pandemic Is the literary canon changing This volume celebrates the vitality of literary and pedagogic responses to the pandemic and presents research into the phenomena observed in this evolving field One strand of the book discusses literary outputs stimulated by the pandemic as well as past pandemics Another strand looks at the pedagogy of engaging learners with literature online examining learners of different ages and of different proficiency levels and different educational backgrounds including teacher education Finally a third strand looks at the affordances of various technologies for teaching online and the way they interact with literature and with language learning The contributions in this volume take literature teaching online away from static lecturing strategies present numerous options for online teaching and provide research based grounding for the implementation of these pedagogies

The Columbia Companion to Modern East Asian Literature Joshua S. Mostow, 2003-07-10 This extraordinary one volume guide to the modern literatures of China Japan and Korea is the definitive reference work on the subject in the English language With more than one hundred articles that show how a host of authors and literary movements have contributed to the general literary development of their respective countries this companion is an essential starting point for the study of East Asian literatures Comprehensive thematic essays introduce each geographical section with historical overviews and surveys of persistent themes in the literature examined including nationalism gender family relations and sexuality Following the thematic essays are the individual entries over forty for China over fifty for Japan and almost thirty for Korea featuring everything from detailed analyses of the works of Tanizaki Jun ichiro and Murakami Haruki to far ranging explorations of avant garde fiction in China and postwar novels in Korea Arrayed chronologically each entry is self contained though extensive cross referencing affords readers the opportunity to gain a more synoptic view of the work author or movement The unrivaled opportunities for comparative analysis alone make this unique companion an indispensable reference for anyone interested in the burgeoning field of Asian literature Although the literatures of China Japan and Korea are each allotted separate sections the editors constantly kept an eye open to those writers works and movements that transcend national boundaries This includes for example Chinese authors who lived and wrote in Japan Japanese authors who wrote in classical Chinese and Korean authors who write in Japanese whether under the colonial occupation or because they are resident in Japan The waves of modernization can be seen as reaching each of these countries in a staggered fashion with eddies and back flows between them then complicating the picture further This volume provides a vivid sense of this dynamic interplay

Claiming the City in South African Literature Meg Samuelson, 2021-08-23 This book demonstrates the insights that literature brings to transdisciplinary urban studies and particularly to the study of cities of the South Starting from the claim staked by mining capital in the late nineteenth century and its production of extractive and segregated cities it surveys over a century of writing in search of counterclaims through which the literature reimagines the city as a place of assembly and attachment Focusing on how the South African city has been designed to funnel gold into the global economy and to service an enclaved minority the study looks to the literary city to advance a contrary emphasis on community conviviality and care An accessible and informative introduction to literature of the South African city at significant historical junctures this book will also be of great interest to scholars and students in urban studies and Global South studies The Complete Index to Literary Sources in Film Alan Goble, 2011-09-08 No detailed description available for The Complete Index to Literary Sources in Film
