The Ca Lejeune Film Reader:

The C.A. Lejeune Film Reader C. A. Lejeune, 2000-05-01 C A Lejeune was among the first professional film critics in the world her columns in the Observer commanding a huge readership Her career spanned the rise the great days and the beginning of the decline of the industry and the start of the television age She saw the coming of sound and color of the star system and the wide screen Her column was eagerly read for its percipience humor kindness and good writing by people who never went to the cinema at all This comprehensive selection of her articles essays and reviews from silent film days through to the 1960s has an autobiographical shape She tells how she became a critic and what criticism means she recalls her long acquaintance with Alfred Hitchcock and Alexander Korda Leslie Howard and Robert Donat personalities unforgettable and unforgotten who gave British cinema its finest hours For students of film history this is essential reading For lovers of old films it is an instructive and nostalgic delight And like C A Lejeune s column it will appeal to any reader who appreciates good writing and civilized values

The Graham Greene Film Reader Graham Greene, 1994 Gathers Greene s film writings and offers a brief introduction to the role of motion pictures in his life and career

The Films of Ingmar Bergman L. Hubner, 2007-02-07 Laura Hubner is one of the first critics to analyse the elements of illusion in key films by Bergman and relate these to cultural and artistic influences on his creative output the phenomenon of Bergman as art film director and debates about modernism postmodernism and emerging feminist discourses on gender and multiplicity

Picturing home Hollie Price, 2021-02-09 Picturing home examines the depiction of domestic life in British feature films made and released in the 1940s It explores how pictorial representations of home onscreen in this period re imagined modes of address that had been used during the interwar years to promote ideas about domestic modernity Picturing home provides a close analysis of domestic life as constructed in eight films contextualising them in relation to a broader offscreen culture surrounding the suburban home including magazines advertisements furniture catalogues and displays at the Daily Mail Ideal Home Exhibition In doing so it offers a new reading of British 1940s films which demonstrates how they trod a delicate path balancing prewar and postwar traditional and modern private and public concerns

Russia and its Other(s) on Film S. Hutchings, 2008-04-25 Russia s interactions with the West have been a perennial theme of Slavic Studies and of Russian culture and politics Likewise representations of Russia have shaped the identities of many western cultures No longer providing the Evil Empire of 20th American popular consciousness images of Russia have more recently bifurcated along two streams that of the impoverished refugee and that of the sinister mafia gang Focusing on film as an engine of intercultural communication this is the first book to explore mutual perceptions of the foreign Other in the cinema of Russia and the West during and after communism The book s structure reflects both sides of this fascinating dialogue Part 1 covers Russian Soviet cinematic representations of otherness and Part 2 treats western representations of Russia and the Soviet Union An extensive Introduction sets the dialogue in a theoretical context The contributors include leading film scholars from the USA Europe and Russia Hitchcock and the Spy Film James Chapman, 2017-11-30 Film historian James Chapman has mined Hitchcock's own papers to investigate fully for the first time the spy thrillers of the world's most famous filmmaker Hitchcock made his name as director of the spy movie He returned repeatedly to the genre from the British classics of the 1930s including The 39 Steps and The Lady Vanishes through wartime Hollywood films Foreign Correspondent and Saboteur to the Cold War tracts North by Northwest Torn Curtain and his unmade film The Short Night Chapman's close reading of these films demonstrates the development of Hitchcock's own style as well as how the spy genre as a whole responded to changing political and cultural contexts from the threat of Nazism in the 1930s and 40s to the atom spies and double agents of the post war world Films and British National Identity Jeffrey Richards, 1997-09-15 This book seeks to examine the ways in which the cinema has defined mythified and disseminated British national identity during the course of the twentieth century It takes the form of a series of linked essays which examine chronologically thematically and by specific case studies of films stars and genres the complexities and ambiguities in the process of evolution and definition of the national identity It argues for the creation of a distinctive British national identity both in cinema and the wider culture But it also assesses the creation of alternative identities both ethnic and regional and examines the interaction of cinema and other cultural forms music literature and television The Routledge Companion to British Media History Martin Conboy, John Steel, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides a comprehensive exploration of how different media have evolved within social regional and national contexts The 50 chapters in this volume written by an outstanding team of internationally respected scholars bring together current debates and issues within media history in this era of rapid change and also provide students and researchers with an essential collection of comparable media histories The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides an essential guide to key ideas issues concepts and debates in the field Chapter 40 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license <https://www.routledgehandbooks.com/doi/10.4324/9781315756202/ch40> Vivien Leigh Kendra Bean, 2013-10-15 Draws on in depth research and new interviews to present a narrative account of the actress's life that covers her early childhood in India her celebrated love affair with Laurence Olivier and her early death at age fifty three Parallel Tracks Lynne Kirby, 1997 In wide ranging and provocative analyses of dozens of silent films icons of film history like The General and The Great Train Robbery as well as many that are rarely discussed Kirby examines how trains and rail travel embodied concepts of spectatorship and mobility grounded in imperialism and the social sexual and racial divisions of modern Western culture Wild Strawberries Philip French, Kersti French, 2019-07-25 Wild Strawberries 1958 is probably Ingmar Bergman's most personal film and one which explores his relation to the history of Swedish cinema Philip and Kersti French give a detailed account of Bergman's powerful and intense direction of the film They set the film firmly in the context of Swedish life and culture The authors also trace connections with the plays of August Strindberg and the paintings of Edvard Munch and Carl Larsson The Routledge Companion to British Cinema History I.Q.

Hunter, Laraine Porter, Justin Smith, 2017-01-12 This book offers a comprehensive and revisionist overview of British cinema as on the one hand a commercial entertainment industry and on the other a series of institutions centred on economics funding and relations to government England's Secret Weapon Amanda Field, 2012-07-19 England's Secret Weapon explores the way Hollywood used Sherlock Holmes in a series of fourteen films spanning the years of World War II in Europe from The Hound of the Baskervilles in 1939 to Dressed to Kill in 1946 Basil Rathbone's portrayal of Holmes has influenced every actor who has since played him on film TV stage and radio yet the film series has until now been neglected in terms of detailed critical analysis The book looks at the films themselves in combination with their historical context and examines how the studio updated Holmes and recruited him to fight the Nazis steering a careful course between modernising the detective and making sure he was still recognisable as the old Holmes in clothes locations and behaviour The Last

Bohemian Lance Pettitt, 2023-06-12 The Last Bohemian offers the first extended critical evaluation of all of Brian Desmond Hurst's films reappraising the reputation of a director who was born in 1895 in Belfast and died in Belgravia London in 1986 Pettitt skillfully weaves together film analyses biography and cultural history with the aim of bringing greater attention to Hurst's qualities as a director and exploring his significance within Irish film and British cinema history between the 1930s and the 1960s The director of Dangerous Moonlight 1941 Theirs Is the Glory 1946 and his best known Scrooge 1951 made most of his films for British studios but developed an exile's attachment to Ireland How in the early twenty first century has Hurst's career been reclaimed and recognized and by whom Why in 2012 was Hurst's name given to one of the new Titanic Studios in Belfast What were his qualities as a filmmaker To whose national cinema history if any does Hurst belong Richly illustrated with film stills and other visual material from public archives The Last Bohemian addresses these questions and in doing so makes a significant contribution to British and Irish cinema studies London in Cinema Charlotte

Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city

Hitchcock à la Carte Jan Olsson, 2015-04-25 Alfred Hitchcock cultural icon master film director storyteller television host foodie And as Jan Olsson argues in Hitchcock la Carte he was also an expert marketer who built his personal brand around his rotund figure and well documented table indulgencies Focusing on Hitchcock s television series Alfred Hitchcock Presents 1955 1962 and the The Alfred Hitchcock Hour 1962 1965 Olsson asserts that the success of Hitchcock s media empire depended on his deft manipulation of bodies and the food that sustained them Hitchcock s strategies included frequently playing up his own girth hiring body doubles making numerous cameos and using food such as a frozen leg of lamb to deliver scores of characters to their deaths Constructing his brand enabled Hitchcock to maintain creative control blend himself with his genre and make himself the multi million dollar franchise s principal star Olsson shows how Hitchcock s media brand management was a unique performance model that he used to mark his creative oeuvre as strictly his own

Modern British Drama on Screen R. Barton Palmer, William Robert Bray, 2013-12-05 This collection of essays offers the first comprehensive treatment of British and American films adapted from modern British plays Offering insights into the mutually profitable relationship between the newest performance medium and the most ancient With each chapter written by an expert in the field Modern British Drama on Screen focuses on key playwrights of the period including George Bernard Shaw Somerset Maugham Terence Rattigan Noel Coward and John Osborne and the most significant British drama of the past century from Pygmalion to The Madness of George III Most chapters are devoted to single plays and the transformations they underwent in the move from stage to screen Ideally suited for classroom use this book offers a semester s worth of introductory material for the study of theater and film in modern Britain widely acknowledged as a world center of dramatic productions for both the stage and screen

Sherlock Holmes in Advertising Amanda J Field, 2015-09-08 This fascinating book explores the way that Sherlock Holmes has been appropriated by British businesses to advertise everything from carpets and tyres to honey and whisky Somerset Maugham believed that Holmes had survived so long in the public imagination because Arthur Conan Doyle had hammered the detective s idiosyncracies into the minds of his readers with the same pertinacity as the great advertisers use to proclaim the merits of their soap beer or cigarettes Linking Holmes with consumer products in this way implies that the detective was becoming a brand in his own right But if he was a brand then what values did he portray Why would advertisers want to associate those values with their own products even if those products had on the face of it nothing whatsoever to do with Sherlock Holmes And how did they go about it The book draws on a treasure trove of advertisements in the Arthur Conan Doyle Collection Richard Lancelyn Green Bequest at Portsmouth Museum of the culture of history which developed in England after the French Revolution Exploring the production of English pasts the multiplicity of their representations and the myriad ways in which the English looked at history she reveals how during the nineteenth century the most popular longest enduring and most highly commercialized images of the past represented it as dangerous disorderly and violent BOOK JACKET Ingmar Bergman Erik Hedling, 2021-09-14 This unique collection focuses on the work of legendary Swedish filmmaker Ingmar Bergman Written in the wake of the centenary of Bergman's birth in 2018 the volume aims to combine new approaches to Bergman's films and writings with more traditional analyses Established themes such as Bergman's interest in philosophy and psychology are addressed but also less familiar topics notably his relationship with Hollywood and his elaborate use of film music and autobiographical writing that characterised his later work There are new analyses of aspects of Bergman's most famous films including Smiles of a Summer Night and Fanny and Alexander but also insightful readings of lesser known works such as Saraband and Sawdust and Tinsel

The Ca Lejeune Film Reader: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Ca Lejeune Film Reader : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
