The Canadian General Sir William Otter:

The Canadian General Sir William Otter Desmond Morton, 1974 Prisoners of the Home Front Martin F. Auger, 2011-11-01 In the middle of the most destructive conflict in human history almost 40 000 Germans civilians and prisoners of war were detained in internment and work camps across Canada Five internment camps were located on the southern shores of the St Lawrence River in the province of Quebec at Farnham Grande Ligne le aux Noix Sherbrooke and Sorel Prisoners of the Home Front details the organization and day to day affairs of these internment camps and reveals the experience of their inmates Martin Auger shows how internment imposed psychological and physical strain in the form of restricted mobility sexual deprivation social alienation and lack of physical comfort In response Canadian authorities introduced labour projects and education programs to uphold morale thwart internal turmoil and prevent escapes These initiatives were also intended to expose prisoners to the values of a democratic society and prepare them for postwar reintegration Auger concludes that Canada abided by the Geneva Convention its treatment of German prisoners was humane Prisoners of the Home Front sheds light on life behind barbed wire filling an important void in our knowledge of the Canadian home front during the Second World War Training For Armageddon Richard D. Merritt, 2018-01-09 Over the past 225 years the oak savannah at the mouth of the Niagara River designated as a Military Reserve but regarded by the local citizenry as their common lands has witnessed a broad spectrum of military political and cultural happenings Perhaps most compelling is the story of Niagara Camp established in the 1870s on the Reserve as the summer camp for Military District 2 By the eve of the Great War this District that encompassed most of central Ontario from Niagara to Sault St Marie including Toronto Hamilton and St Catharines was the most populous and patriotic District in all of Canada Niagara Camp and the training that went on within it endeavoured to prepare over 50 000 young men for the Overseas Canadian Expeditionary Force however the Camp's vigorous daily routines comprehensive instruction and discipline could not ready them for the horrors of the Western Front and Armageddon Many never returned In 1917 Niagara Camp also became the unique training centre for 22 000 Polish Army volunteers American and Canadian boys eager to fight for a distant land many had never set foot on The horrific Spanish Flu Pandemic soon followed with dire consequences for the soldiers and their volunteer caregivers Niagara was also a training camp for Canada's ill fated and little known Siberian Expedition Remarkable sagas are recounted of some of the Camp's veterans On the centennial of the Great War this in depth recognition of the brave young volunteers during their preparation for war is long overdue The Art of Nation-Building H.V. Nelles, 2000-12-15 In 1908 Canada celebrated its 300th anniversary the tercentenary of Champlain's founding of Quebec City In two glorious weeks of parades ceremonies balls and festivities Canadians commemorated their history in a spectacle that would not be surpassed until the centennial of 1967 The climax of the 1908 celebration was an historical pageant in which 4000 sumptuously costumed citizens re enacted classic events in Canada's history Canada's leading painters were also there to capture these memorable scenes for posterity The past was being celebrated but with the present and the future in mind In The Art of Nation Building H V Nelles uses contemporary literary techniques to convey the scope colour and intensity of the tercentenary from various perspectives Drawing on the intimate diaries and letters of leading social and political figures he leads us behind the scenes disclosing the politics of memory the theatrics of history and the making of a modern monarchy Nelles reveals what we actually do when we commemorate how we use the past and the multivocal character of mass celebration This richly illustrated thought provoking interpretation of public celebrations offers a novel perspective on Quebec and on the upcoming celebration of the millennium Winner of two prestigious prizes the Sir John A Macdonald Prize CHA and the Prix Lionel Groulx IHAF A Nation of Immigrants Franca Iacovetta, Paula Draper, Robert

Ventresca, 2017-06-22 This collection brings together a wide array of writings on Canadian immigrant history including many highly regarded influential essays Though most of the chapters have been previously published the editors have also commissioned original contributions on understudied topics in the field The readings highlight the social history of immigrants their pre migration traditions as well as migration strategies and Canadian experiences their work and family worlds and their political cultural and community lives They explore the public display of ethno religious rituals race riots and union protests the quasi private worlds of all male boarding houses and of female domestics toiling in isolated workplaces and the intrusive power that government and even well intentioned social reformers have wielded over immigrants deemed dangerous or otherwise in need of supervision Organized partly chronologically and largely by theme the topical sections will offer students a glimpse into Canada's complex immigrant past In order to facilitate classroom discussion each section contains an introduction that contextualizes the readings and raises some questions for debate A Nation of Immigrants will be useful both in specialized courses in Canadian immigration history and in courses on broader themes in Canadian history The First British Commonwealth Nicholas Mansergh, 1980 First published in 1980 Routledge is an

Tweddell, Carman Miller, 2014-11-01 Charles Henry Tweddell 1869-1921 was one of several thousand Canadian soldiers who fought with British forces in the Second Anglo Boer War 1899-1902. A methodical diarist, Tweddell recounts his year of service from the time he left Quebec City until his return. Tweddell's diary captures the sounds, sights, and stench of war, its friendships and rivalries, its routine and boredom, its death, disease, and injury. Readers are taken into the battlefield and the British military's disastrous medical services and facilities and his month-long sightseeing in London. Tweddell's diary suggests the allure of late nineteenth-century warfare, an appeal that drew many Boer War veterans. Tweddell included to volunteer for service in the Great War that followed. Carman Miller's introduction presents a concise analysis of the Boer War's origins and its appeal to Canadian volunteers and places the diarist within Quebec City's distinct society of overlapping religious, ethnic, and linguistic identities. Tweddell's diary, presented here in full for the first time, offers a rare and fascinating first-person account of Charlie's first war. It is a privileged insight into the fabric of late nineteenth-century military life, its opportunities and personal costs, seen through the eyes of a perceptive observer and sympathetic raconteur. Canadian Defence Quarterly, 1928. The Mounted Police and Prairie Society, 1873-1919. University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 1998. This collection of essays presents a variety of scholarly explorations of the nature and role of the Mounties in the Prairie Provinces from the formation of the North West Mounted Police in 1873-74 to its transformation into the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in 1919-20. The essays are grouped into five broad themes: relations with First Nations, law enforcement, social issues including relations with minority groups and labour movements, characteristics of the police force, and crisis and change, police-immigrant relations, response to labour unrest, and the origins of domestic intelligence and counter-subversion. An epilogue presents the case for the dramatic change of the force after 1919-20 and the new force's use of the positive image created by the old force. The Last Invasion of Canada. Hereward Senior, 1991-07-25. In the turbulent decade which produced the Canadian Confederation of 1867, a group of seasoned veterans of the American Civil War turned their attention to the conquest of Canada. They were Irish-American revolutionaries, unique because they fought under their own flag. They were known as the Fenians, and they believed that the first step on the road to the liberation of Ireland was to invade Canada. The Last Invasion of Canada vividly recaptures the drama of the decade. It recounts the fledgling nation's ragtag but patriotic defence against an enemy committed to a glorious cause but with only scattered resources. It is a story of courage, espionage, and petty crime, and of mismatched motivations and goals. In the Shadow of the Rockies. Bohdan S. Kordan, Peter Melnycky, 1991-09-20. Diary of an internment camp at Banff Castle Mountain operating between 1915 and 1917. The Canada Year Book, 1911.
