The Cape A River Story:

The Cape J. W. Logan, 1991 Hidden History of Cape Cod Theresa Mitchell Barbo, 2019-05-20 Discover the fascinating and nearly forgotten history amid Cape Cod's salty waves and sandy beaches photos included From Provincetown to Falmouth the Cape's fifteen towns offer a plethora of hidden and enchanting tales Learn why one of the most famous rescues in Coast Guard history spent nearly fifty years in the shadows without public notice Discover which wild creature went from the nineteenth century soup pot to enjoying conservation protection under state law Historian Theresa Mitchell Barbo explores these mysteries and more from the lost diary of a nineteenth century schoolteacher to the reason Cape Codders call their lunch the noontime dinner Join the author as she lifts the lid on the quirky and remarkable character of Cape Cod and its colorful past Stories of Our Great Rivers Part-4 Amrahs Hseham, 2025-01-18 Stories of Our Great Rivers is an invitation to embark on a literary voyage one that mirrors the eternal journey of rivers As we navigate these narratives we become travelers along the currents of time carried by the stories that have shaped the landscapes we call home In the ripples of these tales we discover the reflection of our shared humanity and the profound impact we have on the rivers that sustain us May this collection serve as a source of inspiration contemplation and dialogue Through these stories may we deepen our connection to the great rivers of the world and in doing so rekindle our commitment to safeguarding these precious lifelines for generations yet to come Parched - The Cape Town Drought Story Gisela Kaiser, 2021-10-25 The book presents the history of water supply to Cape Town leading up to the worst ever drought recorded through political turmoil impacting on drought interventions and resulting in the adoption of an integrated water strategy Regions reliant on water supply from rainfed dams have always been vulnerable to the impact of drought This is exacerbated by the uncertainty of future rainfall which is never guaranteed and reliance is placed on modelling using historic data While weather has always been variable climate has been generally reliable With anthropogenic activity causing changes in climate the validity of modelling based on history is currently not fully trusted Unless the storage capacity is sufficient to carry through numerous seasons of poor rainfall even with water restrictions to match demand and supply in times of depleted rainfall the risk of reservoirs running dry remains a threat The Story of Fayetteville and the Upper Cape Fear John Alexander Oates, 1950

Walking as Embodied Research Christian Ernten, Nick Shepherd, 2024-09-30 In recent years walking has emerged as a methodological tool and as a conceptually exciting point of departure across a range of disciplines and practices This volume explores walking as a form of embodied research practice that offers fresh perspectives on key contemporary debates and areas of interest These include the climate emergency and the debate around the Anthropocene decolonial thinking and the struggle for social justice feminist and queer walking methodologies and the notion of the infraordinary and practices of everyday life Contributions to this volume are by scholars artists and practitioners drawn from a wide range of disciplines and fields and from across the Global South and North An overarching theme of the volume is the manner in which the act of walking brings the body into presence as a material part of the research process and the forms of attentiveness that this encourages Another theme is the intimate connection between the act of walking and the act of writing As familiar landscapes change under the weight of Anthropogenic environmental change walking becomes an act of witnessing and a spur to action Rather than being a singular activity walking itself is understood as a socially economically and politically constructed and contested act This volume will serve as a source of inspiration to readers from across the arts humanities and social sciences who are interested in walking methodologies and in new and sustainable research practices The New Penelope, and Other Stories and Poems Frances Fuller Victor, 2019-12-24 In The New Penelope, and Other Stories and Poems Frances Fuller Victor crafts a compelling tapestry of narratives that delve into the complexities of feminine experience in a male dominated society Written during the late 19th century Victor's work melds lyrical poetry with rich prose employing a modernist lens that highlights both personal and universal themes The collection is set against the backdrop of burgeoning feminist discourse exploring the dualities of domesticity and independence as well as the roles women play in society and literature thus situating itself as a precursor to more radical feminist movements Frances Fuller Victor a prominent figure in the American literary scene was influenced by her own life experiences and her advocacy for women's rights. As a pioneering journalist and historian, her extensive engagement with issues like social justice and human rights informed her narratives. Victor's appointments within literary circles and her vast repertoire of writings showcase her as a formidable voice of her time, striving to illuminate the otherwise suppressed stories of women. This collection is recommended for readers seeking to explore the intersections of gender, literature, and societal critique. Victor's unique perspective and deft use of language provide an enriching experience that speaks to both historical contexts and contemporary discussions, making it an essential read for anyone interested in American literature and women's voices.

On the Swamp Ryan Emanuel, 2024-03-25

Despite centuries of colonialism, Indigenous peoples still occupy parts of their ancestral homelands in what is now Eastern North Carolina: a patchwork quilt of forested swamps, sandy plains, and blackwater streams that spreads across the Coastal Plain between the Fall Line and the Atlantic Ocean. In these backwaters, Lumbees and other American Indians have adapted to a radically transformed world while maintaining vibrant cultures and powerful connections to land and water. Like many Indigenous communities worldwide, they continue to assert their rights to self-determination by resisting legacies of colonialism and the continued transformation of their homelands through pollution, unsustainable development, and climate change. Environmental scientist Ryan E. Emanuel, a member of the Lumbee tribe, shares stories from North Carolina about Indigenous survival and resilience in the face of radical environmental changes. Addressing issues from the loss of wetlands to the arrival of gas pipelines, these stories connect the dots between historic patterns of Indigenous oppression and present-day efforts to promote environmental justice and Indigenous rights on the swamp. Emanuel's scientific insight and deeply personal connections to his home blend together in a book that is both a heartfelt and an analytical call to acknowledge and protect sacred places.
