Mission, Ministry, Order David Noel Power, 2008-06-01 What is the mission of the church What are the ministries that further its mission How should the traditional orders of bishop overseer priest presbyter and deacon be reconsidered in the light of 21st century challenges and ecumenical unity These big questions involve a constellation of neuralgic issues both within the Roman Catholic Church and between it and its sister churches both East and West women priests women bishops married priests lay ministries the unaccountability of bishops to their flocks The rapid decline of priests in the US has led to an enormous number of lay people in leadership positions but they can't preside at the Eucharist the heart and soul of Catholic identity and practice and their roles are nebulous undefined and severely constrained Catholic women are voting with their feet over the church's failure to ordain women Lay theologians men and women now outnumber priest theologians but have little standing in the church outside of academia Far reaching agreements on theological issues have been made between Roman Catholicism and Anglicanism and Lutheranism but the practical consequences e.g. shared Eucharists are nil It is against this background that David Power the doyen of sacramental theologians in North America has written a magisterial work on the mission ministry and order of the church that is historically comprehensive theologically progressive ecumenically and globally focused and practical in its prescriptions
