going on to a prolific career in writing for feature films including commissions for Walt Disney and Carol Reed. By the mid 1950s his reputation was established by the beginning of his four symphony cycle his many tone poems concertos chamber and piano pieces. An habitu of the London film studios and concert halls and a prominent professor at the Royal Academy of Music a major crisis in Alwyn's life precipitated an escape to the Suffolk coast in 1960 where he turned his back on film music and immersed himself in the writing of operas including Miss Julie poetry essays fiction and painting. Adrian Wright's book balances detailed analysis of Alwyn's work with a vivid account of his marriages to the musician Olive Pull and the composer Doreen Carwithen relationships that profoundly affected the course of his career. Using a mass of hitherto unpublished material including an unexpurgated version of his noted Ariel to Miranda and interviews with prominent figures in Alwyn's life the volume places his achievements in the musical context of his time along the way dealing with his relationship with Benjamin Britten and such hitherto almost unknown works as Don Juan The Fairy Fiddler and the radio opera Farewell Companions. He won the Academy Award for Best Actor for his performance as the alcoholic writer in The Lost Weekend 1945 a defining moment that enabled him to break free from romantic leads and explore darker shades of his debonair demeanor such as the veiled menace of his scheming husband in Hitchcock's Dial M For Murder 1954. A consummate professional with wide range Milland took the directorial reins in several of his starring vehicles in the 1950s most notably in the intelligent Western A Man Alone 1955. He comfortably slipped into most genres from romantic comedy to adventure to film noir. Later he turned to science fiction and horror movies including two with cult filmmaker Roger Corman. This first complete filmography covers the actor's screen career with a concise introductory biography and an appendix listing his extensive radio and television credits. The Lion Codes James Phillips, 2010-04-12 There is no available information at this time. Typical Men Andrew Spicer, 2001-04-12 Typical Men is the first book length study of masculinity in British cinema and offers a broad and lively overview from the Second World War to the present day. Odd Man Out The Fallen Idol and The History of Mr Polly he was adept at any musical genre from classical to cartoon slapstick and in the process worked with legendary directors including Carol Reed David Lean Humphrey Jennings and Anthony Asquith Alone with Vaughan Williams he was granted the distinction of a separate title credit columnists mentioned him alongside Bliss Bax and Walton However as the reputation of the British film industry declined in the 1950s so musical snobbery against those who were its leading lights became unpleasantly raw In recent years however with sensitive performances of his film and concert music available on CD this most appealing of composers has enjoyed something of a renaissance In this long overdue reassessment Alwyn's films are analysed and put into the context of his biography the film industry and of society at large the author shows in particular this remarkably versatile composer developed a hitherto unrecognised grammar of film music which enhanced every film on which he worked He also examines his work for war propaganda radio and the concert hall The volume is enhanced by the most complete filmography discography and bibliography of the composer's works yet published as well as listings of his concert and radio music
