Kipling's Children's Literature Sue Walsh,2016-04-22 Despite Kipling s popularity as an author and his standing as a politically controversial figure much of his work has remained relatively unexamined due to its characterization as children s literature Sue Walsh challenges the apparently clear division between children s and adult literature and poses important questions about how these strict categories have influenced critical work on Kipling and on literature in general For example why are some of Kipling s books viewed as children s literature and what critical assumptions does this label produce Why is it that Kim is viewed by critics as transcending attempts at categorization Using Kipling as a case study Walsh discusses texts such as Kim The Jungle Books the Just So Stories Puck of Pook's Hill and Rewards and Fairies re-evaluating earlier critical approaches and offering fresh readings of these relatively neglected works. In the process she suggests new directions for postcolonial and childhood studies and interrogates the way biographical criticism on children's literature in particular has tended to supersede and obstruct other kinds of readings.

The Sexual Politics of Time Susannah Radstone, 2007-12-03 Looking at a diverse range of texts including Marilyn French's The Women's Room Philip Roth's Patrimony the writings of Walter Benjamin and Fredric Jameson and films such as Cinema Paradiso Susannah Radstone argues that though time has been foregrounded in theories of postmodernism those theories have ignored the question of time and sexual difference. The Sexual Politics of Time proposes that the contemporary western world has witnessed a shift from the age of confession to the era of memory. In a series of chapters on confession nostalgia the memories of boyhood film and the memoir Susannah Radstone sets out to complicate this claim. Developing her argument through psychoanalytic theory she proposes that an attention to time and sexual difference raises questions not only about the analysis and characterization of texts but also about how cultural epochs are mapped through time. The Sexual Politics of Time will be of interest to students and researchers of time memory difference and cultural change in subjects such as Media and Cultural Studies Sociology Film Studies

The Art of Biography in Antiquity Tomas Hägg, 2012-04-05 Greek and Roman biography embraces much more than Plutarch Suetonius and their lost Hellenistic antecedents. In this book Professor Hägg explores the whole range and diversity of ancient biography from its Socratic beginnings to the Christian acquisition of the form in late antiquity. He shows how creative writers developed the lives of popular heroes like Homer Aesop and Alexander and how the Christian gospels grew from bare sayings to full lives. In imperial Rome biography flourished in the works of Greek writers Lucian's satire Philostratus full sophistic orchestration Porphyry's intellectual portrait of Plotinus. Perhaps surprisingly it is not political biography or the lives of poets that provide the main artery of ancient biography but various kinds of philosophical spiritual and ethical lives Applying a consistent biographical reading to a representative set of surviving texts this book opens up the manifold but often neglected art of biography in classical antiquity University of California Publications in American Archaeology and Ethnology, 1920

Feminisms and the Self Morwenna Griffiths,2003-05-20 What does the politics of the self mean for a politics of liberation Morwenna Griffiths argues that mainstream philosophy particularly the anglo analytic tradition needs to tackle the issues of the self identity autonomy and self creation Although identity has been a central concern of feminist thought it has in the main been excluded from philosophical analysis Feminisms and the Self is both a critique and a construction of feminist philosophy After the powerful challenges that postmodernism and poststructuralism posed to liberation movements like feminism Griffiths book is an original and timely contribution to current debate surrounding the notion of identity and subjectivity Intertextual Pursuits

Hal L. Boudreau,1998 This book brings together twelve essays that attest to the continuing viability of intertextuality a widely recognized by product of a cosmic readjustment in thinking about the nature and boundaries of texts All the contributors to this collection are well versed in the theoretical implications of intertextuality Their essays give repeated evidence that intertextuality is itself dynamically intertextual and that it is as endlessly fruitful as its myriad applications The essays further demonstrate that whether theoretically in fashion or out of it whether seen as rhetorical exercises ideological statements or philosophical meditations intertextual pursuits remain the paramount adventure in the literary critical enterprise

Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan Golley,2010-01-01 Authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers This process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography Do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why How do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world This book tackles these questions through a close examination of Arab women s autobiographical writings

Nawar Al Hassan Golley applies a variety of western critical theories including Marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of Huda Shaarawi Fadwa Tuqan Nawal el Saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about Arab women s writing At the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures This two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of Arab women s autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts

Self Impression Max Saunders,2010-04-22 Ford Madox Ford A Dual Life Volume II The After War World Max Saunders

The True Story of Alice B. Toklas Anna Linzie,2006-04 In this original and intriguing study Anna Linzie examines three mid twentieth century texts never before treated as interrelated in a book length work of literary criticism Gertrude Stein s The Autobiography of Alice B Toklas 1933 and Alice B Toklas s The Alice B Toklas Cook Book 1954 and What Is Remembered 1963 Taking these three texts as intertexts or as an assemblage of the true story of Alice B Toklas Linzie challenges assumptions about primary authorship and singular identity that have continued to limit lesbian and feminist rereadings of autobiography as a genre and of Stein and Toklas as writers and historical figures The True Story of Alice B Toklas explores how the concept of autobiography as a primarily referential genre is challenged and transformed in relation to autobiographical texts written about the same person the same life but differently by different writers at different points in time The concept of one true story is deconstructed in the process as Linzie modifies Homi K Bhabha s almost the same but not quite not white for the purposes of this particular study as almost the same but not quite not straight The investigation moves simultaneously on the planes of textuality and sexuality in order to provisionally articulate a lesbian autobiographical subject in Linzie s reading of these three texts Linzie s study fills a gap in literary criticism where Stein s companion and her work have been more or less neglected conceptualizing the Stein Toklas sexual textual relationship as fundamentally reciprocal The True Story of Alice B Toklas provides a new critical perspective on Toklas as indispensable to Stein s literary production a cultural laborer in her own right and a writer of her own books Making a significant contribution to recent lesbian feminist reconceptualizations of the genre of autobiography this study will fascinate Stein and Toklas scholars as well as those interested in queer and autobiography studies

The Making of Indian English Literature Subhendu Mund,2021-07-08 The Making of Indian English Literature brings together seventeen well researched essays of Subhendu Mund with a long introduction by the author historicising the development of the Indian writing in English while exploring its identity among the many appellations tagged to it The volume demonstrates contrary to popular perceptions that before the official introduction of English education in India Indians had already tried their hands in nearly all forms of literature poetry fiction drama essay biography autobiography book review literary criticism and travel writing Besides translation activities Indians had also started editing and publishing periodicals in English before 1835 Through archival research the author brings to discussion a number of unknown and less discussed texts which contributed to the development of the genre The work includes exclusive essays on such early poets and writers as Kylas Chunder Dutt Shoshee Chunder Dutt Toru Dutt Mirza Moorad Alee Beg Krupabai Saththianadhan Swami Vivekananda H Dutt and Sita Chatterjee and historiographical studies on the various aspects of the genre The author also examines the strategies used by the early writers to indianise the western language and the form of the novel The present volume also demonstrates how from the very beginning Indian writing in English had a subtle nationalist agenda and created a space for protest literature The Making of Indian English Literature will prove an invaluable addition to the studies in Indian writing in English as a source of reference and motivation for further research Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka
