Diaspora Khun Eng Kuah-Pearce, Evelyn Du-Dehart, 2006-02-01 Do Chinese voluntary organizations continue to have a role in modern societies enmeshed in a globalizing world that questions continuation of the nation state and ethnic identity This book argues that Chinese voluntary organizations continue to play a significant role in both the established and new Chinese communities in the Diaspora They are able to do so because of their ability to transform their organizational structure and functions At the same time they are able to reinvent their own images to suit their co ethnic community and the wider polity The uniqueness of this volume lies in its integration of historical and contemporary approaches to the study of traditional Chinese voluntary organizations in the Diaspora The chapters explore how the Chinese voluntary organizations continue to fulfil the needs of the Chinese community in different parts of the world and do this by both localizing and globalizing their functions and roles in the countries where they have established roots The contributors cover traditional Chinese voluntary organizations from Asia to Australia North America and Europe examining not only their activities in established Chinese communities such as Singapore and Malaysia but also in the new emerging Chinese communities in Canada and Eastern Europe This allows the readers to compare and contrast the voluntary organizations across countries and across time Readership for this book includes scholars and students of Chinese Studies Asian Studies Anthropology Sociology Diaspora Studies History Social Organizations and the general educated Chinese population      All about Science Maria and urban redevelopment policy Finally Lin puts forth Chinatown as a central enclave in the world city of New York arguing that globalization brings similar structural processes of urban change to diverse locations In the end Lin moves beyond the myth of Chinatown clarifying the meaning of globalization and its myriad effects within the local context Catalog of Copyright Entries. Pugliese,1986 The Chinatown Trunk Mystery Mary Ting Yi Lui,2020-07-21 In the summer of 1909 the gruesome murder of nineteen year old Elsie Sigel sent shock waves through New York City and the nation at large The young woman s strangled corpse was discovered inside a trunk in the midtown Manhattan apartment of her reputed former Sunday school student and lover a Chinese man named Leon Ling Through the lens of this unsolved murder Mary Ting Yi Lui offers a fascinating snapshot of social and sexual relations between Chinese and non Chinese populations in turn of the century New York City Sigel s murder was more than a notorious crime Lui contends It was a clear signal that attempts to maintain geographical and social boundaries between the city s Chinese male and white female populations had failed When police discovered Sigel and Leon Ling s love letters giving rise to the theory that Leon Ling killed his lover in a fit of jealous rage this idea became even more embedded in the public consciousness New Yorkers condemned the work of Chinese missions and eagerly participated in the massive national and international manhunt to locate the vanished Leon Ling Lui explores how the narratives of racial and sexual danger that arose from the Sigel murder revealed widespread concerns about interracial social and sexual mixing during the era She also examines how they provoked far reaching skepticism about regulatory efforts to limit the social and physical mobility of Chinese immigrants and white working class and middle class women Through her thorough re examination of this notorious murder Lui reveals in unprecedented detail how contemporary politics of race gender and sexuality shaped public responses to the presence of Chinese immigrants during the Chinese exclusion era Holding Up More Than Half the Sky Xiaolan Bao,2024-04-22 In 1982 20 000 Chinese American garment workers most of them women went on strike in New York City Every Chinese garment industry employer in the city soon signed a union contract The successful action reflected the ways women s changing positions within their families and within the workplace galvanized them to stand up for themselves Xiaolan Bao s now classic study penetrates to the heart of Chinese American society to explain how this militancy and organized protest seemingly so at odds with traditional Chinese female behavior came about Drawing on more than one hundred interviews Bao blends the poignant personal stories of Chinese immigrant workers with the interwoven history of the garment industry and the city s Chinese community Bao shows how the high rate of married women employed outside the home profoundly transformed family culture and with it the image and empowerment of Chinese American women At the same time she offers a complex and subtle discussion of the interplay of ethnic and class factors within New York s garment industry Passionately told and prodigiously documented Holding Up More Than Half the Sky examines the journey of a community s women through an era of change in the home on the shop floor and walking the picket line The Chinese in Vancouver, 1945-80 Wing Chung Ng,2011-11-01 In The Chinese in Vancouver Wing Chung Ng captures the fascinating story of the city s Chinese in their search for identity He juxtaposes the cultural positions of different generations of Chinese immigrants and their Canadian born descendants and unveils the ongoing struggle over the definition of being Chinese It is an engrossing story about cultural identity in the context of migration and settlement where the influence of the native land and the appeal of the host city continued to impinge on the consciousness of the ethnic Chinese The Chinese in Canada is long overdue in view of the many previous studies that tend to describe Chinese people as victims of racial prejudice and discrimination and Chinese identity a matter of Western cultural hegemony Ng s account gives the Chinese people their own voice and shows that the Chinese in Vancouver had much to say and often disagreed about the meaning of being Chinese In his concluding chapter Ng looks beyond the Canadian context by engaging in a comparative discussion of the experiences of ethnic Chinese elsewhere in the diaspora References to the Chinese in various Southeast Asian countries and the U S force a rethinking of Chineseness He ends with reflections about Vancouver s Chinese community since 1980 Chinese America: History and Perspectives 1992 , Shaping and Reshaping Chinese American Identity Jingyi Song,2010-04-12 Shaping and Reshaping Chinese American Identity New York s Chinese in the Years of the Depression and World War II explores the role played by Chinese Americans in New York in the 1930 s who laid the foundation for future generations to fight for civil rights as American citizens The stories of Chinese Americans during the Depression years and World War II are under represented in the existing literature that has been confined to the early days of the settlement of Chinese Americans on the west coast of the United States They were usually depicted as passive victims of exclusion as a result of Chinese Exclusion Laws This book focuses on the active participation of the Chinese American in New York City in mainstream political economic and social life that helped them to forge new identity as Chinese Americans Their active participation in federal and local elections as a means of claiming their rights as American citizens demonstrated their growing political consciousness Chinese New Yorkers support of both China and United States during the war reflected their dual identity as both Chinese and Americans Their contributions to the war front and to the home front after Pearl Harbor eventually forced the reconsideration of the Chinese Exclusion Laws The book concludes by relating the active participation of the Chinese in New York during the war years to the national movement for racial equality that resulted in new federal civil rights legislation
