Nomad Codes Erik Davis, 2011-01-31 In these wide-ranging essays, Erik Davis explores the codes, spiritual, cultural, and embodied that people use to escape the limitations of their lives and enrich their experience of the world. These include Asian religious traditions and West African trickster gods, Western occult and esoteric lore, postmodern theory, and psychedelic science, as well as festival scenes such as Burning Man, of which Davis is the best-known chronicler. Articles on media technology further explore themes Davis took up in his acclaimed book Techgnosis, while his profiles of West Coast poets, musicians, and mystics extend the California terrain he previously mapped in The Visionary State. Whether his subject is collage art or the magickal realism of horror writer H. P. Lovecraft, transvestite Burmese spirit mediums, or ufology tripster king Terence McKenna, or dub maestro Lee Perry, Davis writes with keen yet skeptical sympathy, intellectual subtlety, and wit and unbridled curiosity. The common thread running through all these pieces is what Davis calls modern esoterica, which he describes in his preface as a no man's land located somewhere between anthropology and mystical pulp, between the zendo and the metal club, between cultural criticism and extraordinary experience, whether psychedelic or yogic or technological. Such an ambiguous and startling landscape demands that the intrepid adventurer shed any territorial claims and go nomad. Davis wanders with sharp eyes and an open mind, which is why Peter Lamborn Wilson calls him the best of all guides to modern American spirituality.

Latino City Llana Barber, 2017-03-08 Latino City explores the transformation of Lawrence, Massachusetts, into New England's first Latino majority city. Like many industrial cities, Lawrence entered a downward economic spiral in the decades after World War II due to deindustrialization and suburbanization. The arrival of tens of thousands of Puerto Ricans and Dominicans in the late twentieth century brought new life to the struggling city, but settling in Lawrence was fraught with challenges: facing hostility from their neighbors, exclusion from local governance, inadequate city services, and limited job prospects. Latinos fought and organized for the right to make a home in the city. In this book, Llana Barber interweaves the histories of urban crisis in U.S. cities and imperial migration from Latin America. Pushed to migrate by political and economic circumstances shaped by the long history of U.S. intervention in Latin America, poor and working-class Latinos then had to reckon with the segregation, joblessness, disinvestment, and profound stigma that plagued U.S. cities during the crisis era, particularly in the Rust Belt. For many Puerto Ricans and Dominicans, there was no American Dream awaiting them in Lawrence; instead, Latinos struggled to build lives for themselves in the ruins of industrial America.
