Success with Foreign Languages Earl W. Stevick, 1989      How to be a More Successful Language Learner Joan Rubin, Irene Thompson, 1982 How to Be a More Successful Language Learner incorporates the latest thinking about learner strategies and language learning Language learners and teachers alike discover the psychological linguistic and practical aspects of the successful acquisition of a new language      A Handbook for Guiding Students in Modern Foreign Languages United States. Office of Education. Division of Elementary and Secondary Education, Abul Hassan K. Sassani, Albert Piltz, Charles Christian Hauch, Duncan Grant Morrison, Ilo Remer, James Peter Steffensen, Seymour Michael Rosen, University Film Foundation, Vera Tomich, Warren Gibson Cutts, Wilhelmina Hill, Nellie Mary Apanasewicz, Don G. Williams, Kenneth August Brunner, William John Gruver, Luella V. Snyder, Sebastian Vincent Martorana, 1963      Effective Language Learning Suzanne Graham, 1997 This book investigates some of the learning processes of students of French and German as they begin language learning at an advanced level a stage which is frequently problematic By looking at the learning strategies employed by both successful and less successful language students the author elucidates some of the key cognitive and affective processes which facilitate advanced level language learning The implications of this for the classroom are discussed in detail leading to practical recommendations for learning and teaching strategies A central theme is the need to teach explicitly the proficient use of learning strategies and suggestions are made as to how this may be achieved in the language classroom      On Teaching Foreign Languages Marcela Ruiz-Funes, 2002-10-30 The author reports on a qualitative action research project on theories and practices in foreign language education The goal of the study was to relate the knowledge of foreign language teaching learning and acquisition gained through research to the beliefs and experiences of expert foreign language teachers The four participating teachers represent real teachers who distinguish themselves from their peers for their excellence in teaching foreign languages and their success in serving as clinical teachers Four theoretical issues are discussed in detail the proficiency movement the role of input teaching language in context and class participation motivation and discipline These aspects were selected because 1 they pose major challenges to foreign language interns and 2 they play an essential role in the learning acquisition process of second language students The major contribution of this study is the integration of the theoretical and practical dimensions The practical aspect is presented by the expert foreign language teachers who describe in their own words how and explain why they implement a given foreign language theory in their classrooms This integration provides foreign language teachers with a realistic view of foreign language education and establishes a dialogue between the university and the school communities A significant number of excerpts from discussion interview sessions conducted with the teachers are included      Prognosis Tests in the Modern Foreign Languages Vivian Allen Charles Henmon, Modern Foreign Language Study, 1929      Critical Reflection and the Foreign Language Classroom Terry Osborn, 2021-05-01 Twenty years ago this book introduced pre service and in service foreign language teachers to the basic concepts of critical educational study as applied to foreign language education in the United States Since its initial publication teachers now commonly known as world language educators are better prepared to understand issues of power in relation to for example language variety language status and language education Indeed much recent attention has been focused on critical approaches to language education including teaching for social justice The author addresses issues such as the supposed failure of foreign language education the educational filter role played by language classes the concept of foreignness as seen in national standards language curricula and textbooks and the implications of these issues in terms of power relationships and cultural mediation both in and out of the classroom The reader is encouraged to analyze the forms of cultural struggle that can be found within the world language classrooms of the United States including the likely impact those struggles have on members of the dominant and subordinate cultures Two decades later critical reflection continues to require these skills

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Education
 Sara Laviosa, Maria González-Davies, 2019-12-06 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Education will present the state of the art of the place and role of translation in educational contexts worldwide It lays a sound foundation for the future interdisciplinary cooperation between Translation Studies and Educational Linguistics By adopting a transdisciplinary perspective the handbook will bring together the various fields of scholarly enquiry and practice that make a valuable contribution to enlarging the notion of translation and diversifying its uses in education Each contribution provides an overview of the historical background to a given educational setting Focusing on current research approaches and empirical findings this volume outlines the development of pedagogical approaches methods assessment and curriculum design The handbook also examines examples of pedagogies that integrate translation in the curriculum the teaching methods approach design and procedure as well as assessment Based on a multilingual and applied oriented approach the handbook is essential reading for postgraduate students researchers and advanced undergraduate students of Translation Studies and educationalists and educators in the 21st century post global era Chapters 4 25 and 26 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Language Learners Urška Petrevčič,2018 There are many learners who enjoy learning foreign languages and meanwhile also experience various benefits of mastering a foreign language however there are also others who find language learning frustrating and even impossible to undertake There are too many learners who could do much better at learning languages and knowing how to study languages and which techniques and strategies to use can help them reduce or even avoid a great deal of frustration and failure and can also help become successful no matter what the previous experience or aptitude In the thesis fundamental principles of successful language learning and an overview of a study of multiple research works carried out in the field of second and foreign language learning are presented The thesis gives concrete suggestions and presents and explains various strategies on how to become a more effective and successful language learner how to face problems in language learning and how to approach the study of a foreign language in a meaningful and productive way The thesis also tackles the area of the role of the learner and studies other factors that influence language learning such as the development of the intrinsic motivation Meanwhile it strives to help learners develop responsible learner attitudes skills and techniques that they will be able to use anytime they will need to do so and keep improving their foreign language even without the help of a teacher and outside the context of formal instruction There has been a growing interest in learning strategies ever since interest shifted from what students learn or acquire to how students gain the knowledge so that the process of learning and acquisition can actually occur Learning strategies are the main focus of the thesis There are various theoretical classifications of learning strategies presented such as the ones made by Chamot and the co researchers 1999 Oxford 1990 and Willing 1989 studies of successful and unsuccessful language learners the comparisons of their characteristics and use of strategies and profiles of a good and bad language learner A study of multiple research works in the field of second and foreign language learning was carried out with the purpose of helping learners that are not so successful become better learners by providing them with different possibilities and means on how to learn a language more efficiently Positive

Psychology Perspectives on Foreign Language Learning and Teaching Danuta Gabryś-Barker,Dagmara Gałajda,2016-05-23 This book introduces readers to the principles of a fairly new branch of psychology positive psychology and demonstrates how they can be applied in the context of second language acquisition in a natural environment and in instructed foreign language FL learning It focuses both on the well being and success of the learner and the professional and personal well being of the teacher Further the book stresses the importance of the positive emotions and character strengths of those involved in the process of language learning and teaching as well as the significant role played by enabling institutions such as school and at the micro level individual FL classes Hearings on Foreign Language and International Studies United States.
