Sudanese Family:

A Sudanese Family Erika F. Archibald, 1997 Relates the experiences of a family which came to the United States as refugees from a small farming village in the African country of Sudan Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph, 2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph s volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship Area Handbook for the Republic of the Sudan American University (Washington, D.C.). Kuol Anyieth,2025-08-16 This book presents an intersectional decolonial analysis of family violence intervention prevention within the African Australians Communities in Victoria Australia It explores the experiences of Family Violence Intervention Orders FVIOs assessing their effectiveness as interventions and safeguards against family violence in the African Australian Communities It investigates the influence of African Australians cultural practices on the understanding and application of FVIOs as well as participants proposed strategies for enhancing or aligning these legal interventions with existing African practices for preventing and managing family violence The application of this intersectional approach plays a pivotal role in illuminating complexities of social history culture and identity that intersect with and extend beyond gender This includes experiences of social conflict migration exclusion and hardship These factors complicated their experiences of family violence and added layers of intricacy when navigating the Australian legal system to seek legal protection through family violence intervention orders The book documents these complexities in intersecting experiences of family violence the cultural specificities of the Australian legal system s interventions in family matters intervention orders and the involvement of various services It shows how the implementation of the FVIOs with little consideration for social and cultural context diminishes their effectiveness as tools to combat family violence and enhance safety within the African Australian communities This book speaks to family violence scholars and practitioners and to those interested in multicultural and migration studies and intersectional and decolonial methods more broadly

Rise and Fall of John Garang's Family

Arou,2015-06-22 The dreams has come in the final stage when I was a little boy in the years of struggling many soldiers many juniors senior military offices and politicians approached me to write a book I wonder why they approached me and there were many kids The war will take long time says officers we would not be alive and we are going to the war or frontline is a matter of death or life When we gone you will write a book for cost of our lives our memories and celebrations of lives because we have brought independence of south Sudan through our dear blood They just told me you are young boy you have suffered with us as child soldier you will make it to a better school you will become professional man and next leader in south Sudan And many authors didnt articulated how John Garang mistreated some clans tribe in SPLA SPLM than he gone far to retained some politicians for longer time and executed military officers It was voluntary job you cant exploit soldiers that doing voluntary job and it is unacceptable in modern era The John Garang was not elected through democracy channel he came through coup attempts and starting lock up his bosses He John Garang appointed himself as chief prosecutor he executed many army officers for many years The 15 12 war in south Sudan last years I just recalled what we discussed with elders than I have starting writing this book However John Garang s wife she a masterminded of all human atrocities in both 1980s and 2013 of fuelling up the war that took lives of innocent civilians in south Sudan

Muslim Family Law in Western Courts Elisa Giunchi,2014-03-26 This book focuses on Islamic family law as interpreted and applied by judges in Europe

Australia and North America It uses court transcriptions and observations to discuss how the most contentious marriage related issues consent and age of spouses dower polygamy and divorce are adjudicated The solutions proposed by different legal systems are reviewed and some broader questions are addressed how Islamic principles are harmonized with norms based on gender equality how parties bargain strategically in and out of court and how Muslim diasporas align their Islamic worldview with a Western normative narrative

Migration, Family and the Welfare State Karen Fog Olwig, Birgitte Romme Larsen, Mikkel Rytter, 2013-09-13 Migration Family and the Welfare State explores understandings and practices of integration in the Scandinavian welfare societies of Denmark Norway and Sweden through a comprehensive range of detailed ethnographic studies Chapters examine discourses policies and programs of integration in the three receiving societies studying how these are experienced by migrant and refugee families as they seek to realize the hopes and ambitions for a better life that led them to leave their country of origin The three Scandinavian countries have had parallel histories as welfare societies receiving increasing numbers of migrants and refugees after World War II and yet they have reacted in dissimilar ways to the presence of foreigners with Denmark developing tough immigration policies and nationalist integration requirements Sweden asserting itself as a relatively open country with an official multicultural policy and Norway taking a middle position The book analyses the impact of these differences and similarities on immigrants refugees and their descendants across three intersecting themes integration as a welfare state project integration as political discourse and practice and integration as immigrants and refugees quest for improvement and belonging This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
