And Now For Something Completely Different Sudbury Valley School Press, 1994 The Sudbury Valley School Experience, 1987 Free to Learn Peter Gray, 2013-03-05 A leading expert in childhood development makes the case for why self directed learning unschooling is the best way to get kids to learn All kids love learning Most don't love school That's a disconnect we've avoided discussing until this lightning bolt of a book If you've ever wondered why your curious kid is turning into a sullen slug at school Peter Gray's Free to Learn has the answer He also has the antidote Lenore Skenazy author of Free Range Kids In Free to Learn developmental psychologist Peter Gray argues that in order to foster children who will thrive in today's constantly changing world we must entrust them to steer their own learning and development Drawing on evidence from anthropology psychology and history he demonstrates that free play is the primary means by which children learn to control their lives solve problems get along with peers and become emotionally resilient A brave counterintuitive proposal for freeing our children from the shackles of the curiosity killing institution we call school Free to Learn suggests that it's time to stop asking what's wrong with our children and start asking what's wrong with the system It shows how we can act both as parents and as members of society to improve children's lives and to promote their happiness and learning Reflections on the Sudbury School Concept Mimsy Sadofsky, Daniel Greenberg, 1999 Where Have All the Flowers Gone? Alice Gerard, 2010-10-08 This book tells the stories of five private schools begun in the Northeastern US during the 1960s by idealistic believers in educational freedom Two of the schools have closed the other three are still open and flourishing Although the schools are different they share a belief in the individuality of each child and his her unlimited potential Their stories are still relevant today Guerrilla Learning Grace Llewellyn,Amy Silver,2008-05-02

GUERRILLA LEARNING IS CREATING A HOME ENVIRONMENT THAT FILLS YOUR CHILD WITH THE JOY OF LEARNING

Let your daughter read her library books instead of finishing her homework Ask your eleven year old s beloved third grade teacher to comment on his poetry Invite a massage therapist to dinner because your daughter wants to go to massage school instead of college Give your child the freedom to pursue his interests develop her strengths cultivate self discipline and discover the joy of learning throughout life If you ve ever felt that your child wasn t flourishing in school or simply needs something the professionals aren t supplying you re ready to become a guerrilla educator Revolutionary and inspiring Guerrilla Learning explains what s wrong and what s useful about our traditional schools and shows you how to take charge of your family s education to raise thinking creative young people despite the constraints of traditional schooling Filled with fun and exciting exercises and projects to do with children of all ages this remarkable approach to childhood education and life will help you release your child s innate abilities and empower him or her in the wider world that awaits beyond the school walls Resources in Education ,1998 Educational Dilemmas Luca Tateo,2019-01-18 Educational Dilemmas uses cultural psychology to explore the challenges contradictions and tensions that occur during the process of education with consideration of the effect these have at both the individual and the collective level It argues that the focus on issues in learning overlooks a fundamental characteristic of education that the process of educating is simultaneously both constructive and disruptive Drawing on research from Europe America and Asia chapters in this volume present and analyse different experiences of the tension between disruption and construction in the process of education Situating educational discontent within the wider context the book demonstrates how this issue can be exacerbated by the tension between the commodification and democratisation of educational systems This book demonstrates that these issues permeate all levels of education and as a result emphasises how vital it is that educational discontent is considered from a new perspective Educational Dilemmas is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of psychology and education It should also be of great interest to school psychologists teachers and therapists Psychology, Fourth Edition Peter O. Gray,2002 The new edition of Gray s acclaimed text featuring dramatic new coverage of sensation and perception and new media tools that actively involve students in psychological research Liberty Means Freedom for All Steven H. Propp,2012-11 Thomas Anderson has just graduated from CSU Stentoria with his degree in Political Science It s an election year and as a young progressive in California who has been raised by equally progressive parents he is very much concerned with the political issues currently being discussed in the mass media A chance encounter with a fellow graduate named Kelly Kelso however shakes up his sett led view of the world He is challenged to examine the rising number of alternatives to the two party system presented by third party movements such as the Libertarian Party and the Green Party and is forced to acknowledge that there is far more to politics than simply Democrat versus Republican and liberal versus conservative Thomas delves energetically into not only the growing Libertarian movement but the free market perspective of the Austrian School of economics as well as the rigid yet compelling view of Ayn Rand's philosophy of Objectivism His explorations grow wider now encompassing the Tea Party movement and the Christian Right tax resisters and gun rights advocates survivalists and militia members anarchists communists and Democratic Socialists as well as the Occupy Wall Street movement He debates the radical environmental views of animal welfare and animal rights advocates and challenges opponents of corporate globalism as well as deniers of global warming as he struggles to reformulate and articulate his own developing beliefs while coping with a sea of conflicting ideas and opposition But this abstract political theory is brought into sharp encounter with concrete political reality when Thomas hears a news report of an armed conflict with authorities taking place just outside of town involving someone with whom he has become emotionally involved

Envisioning Education in a Post-Work Leisure-Based Society Eugene Matusov, 2020-05-14 This book is both an analytic and imaginative study of the future role of education in a leisure based society Grounded in a philosophical approach that draws on the work of Aristotle Arendt Keynes and others the volume deconstructs modern work based society as well as mainstream institutionalized education which the author argues have systemically alienated students from their education authorial agency and society itself The author argues for the value of intrinsic education where the goals are based on students own needs and interests imagining new opportunities that can arise from the emergence of such a society

Schools for Growth Lois Holzman, 2016-05-06 A passionate deconstruction and reconstruction of learning development and schooling that urges teachers to explore and create new educational opportunities for themselves and their students Schools for Growth Radical Alternatives to Current Educational Models asks the following questions Can we create ways for people to learn the kinds of things that are necessary for functional adaptation without stifling their capacity to continuously create their growth Can schools become environments that support children to perform not only as learners but as developers of their lives This book challenges educators to look at the deeply rooted assumptions about schooling learning and development and urges that the way psychology and education have constructed our conceptions of what it means to teach to learn and to grow may be the most serious impediment to the learning and developing of children Beyond the criticism the author presents an original methodological reformation of what learning and development are as relational activities and then takes readers on a visit to three radical independent school settings Arguing that current educational models have been misguided by scientific psychology the author states that the dominant model of human development actually hinders development Moreover as learning theory has become infused with developmental theory over the past 30 years the overly cognitive manner in which psychologists have come to think about thinking learning and development has become further insinuated into education Both theories learning and developmental fail to recognize the human capacity for relational revolutionary activity and for performance The prevalent mode of education acquisitional learning is grounded in a world view that gives primacy to knowledge and knowing which Holzman believes is inconsistent with ongoing developmental activity The author focuses on developmental learning a social constructionist activity theoretic conception of development which includes a transformation and synthesis of Vygotsky and philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein She also discusses educational projects that are self conscious attempts to break with key elements of modern epistemology and the dominant psychological paradigm as they are perpetrated in contemporary educational theory and practice Their specific philosophies and practices highlight important methodological issues raised in the attempt to create postmodern schools schools more concerned with growing than knowing
