Desert Island Discs: 70 Years of Castaways Sean Magee,2012-09-13 For seventy years now Desert Island Discs has managed that rare feat to be both enduring and relevant By casting away the biggest names of the day in science business politics showbiz sport and the arts it presents a cross sectional snapshot of the times in which we live As the decades have passed the programme has kept pace never frozen in time yet always somehow comfortingly the same Kirsty Young BBC Radio 4's Desert Island Discs celebrates its seventieth birthday in 2012 Since the programme's deviser Roy Plomley interviewed comedian Vic Oliver in January 1942 nearly 3 000 distinguished people from all walks of life have been stranded on the mythical island accompanied by only eight records one book and a luxury Here the story of one of BBC Radio 4's favourite programmes is chronicled through a special selection of castaways Roy Plomley inventor of the programme as well as its presenter for over forty years quizzes the young Cliff Richard about these rather frenzied movements the 1960s pop sensation makes on the stage Robert Maxwell tells Plomley's successor Michael Parkinson that I will have left the world a slightly better place by having lived in it Diana Mosley assures Sue Lawley that Adolf Hitler was extraordinarily fascinating and had mesmeric blue eyes And Johnny Vegas tugs Kirsty Young's heart strings with his account of a childhood so impoverished that family pets were fair game My dad had always claimed that rabbits were livestock but we'd never eaten one before Desert Island Discs is much more than a radio programme It is a unique and enduringly popular take on our lives and times and this extensively illustrated book tells in rich detail the colourful and absorbing story of an extraordinary institution

The Poetics and Politics of Diaspora Jerome C. Branche,2014-08-21 This book studies the creative discourse of the modern African diaspora by analyzing poems novels essays hip hop and dub poetry in the Caribbean England Spain and Colombia and capturing diasporan movement through mutually intersecting axes of dislocation and relocation and efforts at political group affirmation and settlement or location Branche s study connects London s multimillion dollar riots of 2011 and its antecedents associated with the West Indian settler community to the discontent and harrowing conditions facing black immigrants to contemporary Spain as gateway to Fortress Europe It links the brutal massacres that target Colombia s dispossessed and displaced poor and mainly black throwaway citizens victims of the drug trade and neoliberal expansionism to older Caribbean stories that tell of the original spurts of capitalist greed and the colonial cauldron it created at the center of which lay the slave trade In revisiting the question of what really has awaited Afro descendants at the end of the Middle

Passage this volume brings transatlantic slavery the making of weak postcolonial states that bleed people and the needle's eye of racial identification together through a close reading of rappers black radicals dub poetry and novelists from Europe Africa and the Americas Branche at once demonstrates the existence of an archive of Afro modern diasporan discursive production and just as importantly points toward a historically rooted theoretical framework that would contain its liberatory trajectory of Cumbria and part time Lecturer at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland Beyond the Blood, the Beach & the Banana Sandra Courtman, 2004 Beyond the Blood the Beach and the Banana emphasises the significance of the Caribbean in an increasingly globalised social world and draws attention to the contribution that scholarship in Caribbean Studies makes in coming to terms with a multi cultural heritage The compilation deliberately ranges in focus across periods geographies linguistic divisions and subject matter to present the fruition of significant research projects by 25 researchers from the Caribbean North America and Europe Contributors on the Hispanic Dutch African Indian and Anglophone Caribbean juxtaposed with work on the Caribbean diasporas of the USA UK Canada and the Netherlands enrich the text with multiple perspectives Fast Design, Slow Innovation David M. Frohlich, 2015-12-23 As well as updating the manifesto for an audio photography technology and practice this book addresses issues in design history the social shaping of technology and the management of innovation In particular it reveals the very different timescales over which design and innovation operate and the way in which design ideas evolve across different research groups companies and application areas The capture of photographs with sound is a simple idea proposed 10 years ago that has still not become widespread In this new edition of the seminal 2004 book on Audio photography the author asks Why A journey through the book's citations and related commercial products shows considerable progress in understanding the role of sound in photography and myriad design experiments to support audio visual storytelling as a new media form The book is a story in itself about the long nose of innovation and a lesson about the need for patience and persistence in the computer industry To reinforce this point five of the 2004 chapters are re published in their original form These describe invariant properties of ambient musical talking and conversational photographs and the possibility of playback from paper as well as screen Fast Design Slow Innovation will be of interest to researchers and designers of new media systems and experiences and to innovation scholars or managers looking for a ten year case study of innovation in action Audiophotography David Frohlich, 2004-05-19 If you read the history of any new communication medium such as the cinema television or radio it always happens to be bound up with advances in some underlying technology For example cinema was born out of the rapid projection of a series of still images on a celluloid film strip The difficulty of synchronizing sound recordings with the resulting moving images led to about 30 years of silent films until such time as the technical problems were solved In between the inventions media seem to grow and develop at a slower pace as content producers and consumers experiment with the most satisfactory and stimulating ways of communicating with each other In the same example silent film makers eventually found ways of adding dialogue through scene titles and having music played during the projection of their films This book is about the next chapter in the history of photography which is emerging from a relatively stable period into a chaos of new inventions Photography as we know it is at the same point as the silent films of 1926 The transition from analog to digital photography is spawning many new ways of taking manipulating and sharing photographs It is also bringing photography and videography closer together by unifying

sound still and moving images in the same digital medium
