Unknowing and the Everyday Seema Golestaneh, 2022-12-26 In Unknowing and the Everyday Seema Golestaneh examines how Sufi mystical experience in Iran shapes contemporary life Central to this process is ma rifat or unknowing the idea that as it is ultimately impossible to fully understand the divine humanity must operate from an engaged awareness that it knows nothing Golestaneh shows that rather than considering ma rifat an obstacle to intellectual engagement Sufis embrace that there will always be that which they do not know From this position they affirm both the limits of human knowledge and the mysteries of the profane world Through ethnographic case studies Golestaneh traces the affective and sensory dimensions of ma rifat in contexts such as the creation of collective Sufi spaces the interpretation of Persian poetry formulations of selfhood and non selfhood and the navigation of the socio material realm By outlining the relationship between ma rifat and religious aesthetic and social life in Iran Golestaneh demonstrates that for Sufis the outer bounds of human thought are the beginning rather than the limit

Indian Sufism since the Seventeenth Century Nile Green, 2006-09-27 Sufism is often regarded as standing mystically aloof from its wider cultural settings By turning this perspective on its head Indian Sufism since the Seventeenth Century reveals the politics and poetry of Indian Sufism through the study of Islamic sainthood in the midst of a cosmopolitan Indian society comprising migrants soldiers litterateurs and princes Placing the mystical traditions of Indian Islam within their cultural contexts this interesting study focuses on the shrines of four Sufi saints in the neglected Deccan region and their changing roles under the rule of the Mughals the Nizams of Hyderabad and after 1948 the Indian nation In particular Green studies the city of Awrangabad examining the vibrant intellectual and cultural history of this city as part of the independent state of Hyderabad He employs a combination of historical texts and anthropological fieldwork which provide a fresh perspective on developments of devotional Islam in South Asia over the past three centuries giving a fuller understanding of Sufism and Muslim saints in South Asia

Journeys of Love Thomas Hodgson, 2025-07-07 An empathetic and eye-opening portrait of Muslim migrants in England that debunks many misperceptions about their music and poetry In Journeys of Love ethnomusicologist Thomas Hodgson offers a sensitive corrective to harmful portrayals of immigrants specifically Pakistanis living in England as a self-segregating group prohibited from making music a stereotype that has often resulted in violent Islamophobia He argues that in practice these migrants many of whom come from the Mirpur area of Azad Kashmir occupy rich musical worlds full of poetic metaphors that are central to surviving migration and its attendant losses Hodgson shows how Mirpuris in England as well as those who remain in Pakistan carry on traditions of reciting a collection of poetry by the nineteenth century Sufi saint Mian Muhammad Bakhsh translated by Hodgson here as Journeys of Love With its themes of remaining true to one's home the oppressed being saved having patience and keeping faith in God this work has become the story of movement and displacement in its narrative arc as well as through the way it provides spiritual and ethical frameworks for settling in new lands These hidden poetics of migration transform across generations as young Mirpuris develop new expressions of the connections across continents These poetics reveal the connections between Kashmir's rural village life and urban centers abroad offering a sensitive and illuminating portrait of migration and multiculturalism in Britain and beyond
