Final Report of Excavations on The Hill of The Ophel by R.A.S. Macalister and J. Garrow Duncan 1923-1925 Garth Gilmour, 2024-07-31 Final Report of Excavations on the Hill of the Ophel by R A S Macalister and J Garrow Duncan 1923-1925 contains the publication of the finds from this excavation a century ago that have been curated and stored in the archives of the Palestine Exploration Fund in London. This volume includes a history of the excavation and detailed descriptions and illustrations of finds ranging from the Chalcolithic through to the Ottoman periods. These include pottery, metal, bone and glass objects, seal impressions, figurines, clay tobacco pipes and other items many of which have never been published before. Among the more significant finds from the excavation both the subject of special studies are an incised pottery sherd with images of two deity figurines interpreted as representing Yahweh and Asherah and two incense burners that contribute to our understanding of the trade in incense in the Near East in the second and first millennia BCE. This volume will be of interest to students and researchers of ancient near eastern archaeology and particularly those engaged in research in the southern Levant. The report complements the publications of the many subsequent excavations in the same area of Jerusalem a location that is still today the focus of much attention for historical, religious and political, not to mention archaeological reasons.

Women's Lives in Biblical Times Jennie R. Ebeling, 2010-04-07 This volume describes the lifecycle events and daily life activities experienced by girls and women in ancient Israel, examining recent biblical scholarship and other textual evidence from the ancient Near East and Egypt, including archaeological, iconographic and ethnographic data. From this Ebeling creates a detailed, accessible description of the lives of women living in the central highland villages of Iron Age I, ca. 1200-1000 BCE, Israel. The book opens with an introduction that provides a brief historical survey of Iron Age I, ca. 1200-586 BCE, Israel, a discussion of the problems involved in using the Hebrew Bible as a source, a rationale for the project and a brief narrative of one woman's life in ancient Israel to put the events described in the book into context. It continues with seven thematic chapters that chronicle her life, focusing on the specific events, customs, crafts, technologies and other activities in which an Israelite female would have participated on a daily basis.

Textiles and Cult in the Ancient Mediterranean Cecilie Brøns, Marie-Louise Nosch, 2017-07-31 Twenty-four experts from the fields of Ancient History, Semitic philology, Assyriology, Classical Archaeology and Classical Philology come together in this volume to explore the role of textiles in ancient religion in Greece, Italy, the Levant and the Near East. Recent scholarship has illustrated how textiles played a large and very important role in the ancient Mediterranean sanctuaries. In Greece, the so-called temple inventories testify to the use of textiles as votive offerings, in particular to female divinities. Furthermore, in several cults, textiles were used to dress the images of different deities. Textiles played an important role in the dress of priests and priestesses who often wore specific garments designated by particular colours. Clothing regulations in order to enter or participate in certain rituals from several Greek sanctuaries also testify to the importance of dress of ordinary visitors Textiles were used for the furnishings of the temples for example in the form of curtains draperies wall hangings sun shields and carpets This illustrates how the sanctuaries were potential major consumers of textiles nevertheless this particular topic has so far not received much attention in modern scholarship Furthermore our knowledge of where the textiles consumed in the sanctuaries came from where they were produced and by who is extremely limited Textiles and Cult in the Ancient Mediterranean examines the topics of textile production in sanctuaries the use of textiles as votive offerings and ritual dress using epigraphy literary sources iconography and the archaeological material itself Daily Life in Biblical Times Oded Borowski,2012-01-01 While the history of Israel during the period from ca 1200 to 586 B C E has been in the forefront of biblical research little attention has been given to questions of daily life Where did the Israelites live What did people do for a living What did they eat and what affected their health How did the family function These and similar questions form the basis for this book The book introduces different aspects of daily life It describes the natural setting and the people who occupied the land It deals with the economy both rural and urban emphasizing the main sources of livelihood such as agriculture herding and trade These topics are discussed in relation to the family in particular and the social structure in general Other topics include urban society the bureaucracy and the military Beyond material culture the book delves into daily and seasonal cultural social and religious activities art music and the place of writing in Israelite society Drawing on textual and archaeological evidence and written with nontechnical language the book will be especially helpful for undergraduates seminarians pastors rabbis and other interested nonspecialist readers as well as graduate students and faculty in Hebrew Bible Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan, Volume 2 The Iron Age Artefacts Michèle Daviau,2001-12-17 This volume presents a functional and typological study of the Iron Age artefacts recovered during six years of excavation at the site of Tall Jawa in central Jordan The introduction presents information on the recording and classification system used to identify artefact types The main chapter presents each category of artefact with examples of the most representative items and their parallels from sites in Israel and Syria Examples include jewellery figurines weapons food processing tools and tools used in a variety of crafts and industries A CD ROM is included containing the database and illustrations of all registered items dating to the Iron Age 100 600 BC Gods, Goddesses, and the Women Who Serve Them Susan Ackerman,2022-09-17 A wide ranging study of women in ancient Israelite religion Susan Ackerman has spent her scholarly career researching underexamined aspects of the world of the Hebrew Bible particularly those aspects pertaining to women In this collection drawn from three decades of her work she describes in fascinating detail the worship of goddesses in ancient Israel the roles women played as priests and prophets the cultic significance of queen mothers and the Hebrew Bible s accounts of women s religious lives Specific topics include the Queen of Heaven a goddess whose worship was the object of censure in the book of Jeremiah Asherah the great Canaanite mother goddess for whom Judean women were described as weaving in the books of Kings biblical figures considered as religious functionaries such as Miriam Deborah and Zipporah the lack of women priests in ancient Israel explored against the prevalence of priestesses in the larger ancient Near Eastern world the cultic significance of queen mothers in Israel and throughout the ancient Near East Israelite women's participation in the cult of Yahweh and in the cults of various goddesses Tell Taannek 1963-1968 Khaled Nashef, 2000 Technology of the Ancient Near East Jill L. Baker, 2018-10-10 Peoples of the distant past lived comfortably in cities that boasted well conceived urban planning monumental architecture running water artistic expression knowledge of mathematics and medicine and more Without the benefits of modern technology they enjoyed all the accoutrements of modern civilization Technology of the Ancient Near East brings together in a single volume what is known about the technology behind these achievements based on the archaeological textual historic and scientific data drawn from a wide range of sources focusing on subjects such as warfare construction metallurgy ceramics and glass water management and time keeping These technologies are discussed within the cultural historic and socio economic contexts within which they were invented and the book emphasises these as the foundation upon which modern technology is based In so doing this study elucidates the ingenuity of ancient minds offering an invaluable introduction for students of ancient technology and science Tell Taannek 1963-1968 Glenda Friend, 1998

The Competition of Fibres Wolfram Schier, Susan Pollock, 2020-04-30 The central issues discussed in this new collected work in the highly successful ancient textiles series are the relationships between fiber resources and availability on the one hand and the ways those resources were exploited to produce textiles on the other Technological and economic practices for example the strategies by which raw materials were acquired and prepared in the production of textiles play a major role in the papers collected here Contributions investigate the beginnings of wool use in western Asia and southeastern Europe The importance of wool in considerations of early textiles is due to at least two factors First both wild as well as some domesticated sheep are characterized by a hairy rather than a woolly coat This raises the question of when and where woolly sheep emerged a question that has not up to now been resolvable by genetic or other biological analyses Second wool as a fiber has played a major role both economically and socially in both western Asian and European societies from as early as the 3rd millennium BCE in Mesopotamia and it continues to do so in different ways up to the modern day Despite the importance of wool as a fiber resource contributors demonstrate clearly that its development and use can only be properly addressed in the context of a consideration of other fibers both plant and animal Only within a framework that takes into account historically and regionally variable strategies of procurement processing and the products of different types of fibers is it possible to gain real insights into the changing roles played by fibers and textiles in the lives of people in different places and times in the past With relatively rare albeit sometimes spectacular exceptions archaeological contexts offer only poor conditions of preservation for textiles As a result archaeologists are dependent on indirect or proxy indicators such as textile tools e.g. loom weights spindle whorls and the analysis of faunal remains to explore a range of such proxies and methods by which they may be analyzed and evaluated in order to contribute to an understanding of fiber and textile production and use in the past Exploring the Narrative Eveline van der Steen, Jeannette Boertien, Noor Mulder-Hymans, 2014-01-16 This volume brings together a number of scholars who use archaeology as a tool to question the sometimes easy assumptions made by historians and biblical scholars about the past It combines essays from both archaeologists and biblical scholars whose subject matter whilst differing widely in both geographical and chronological terms also shares a critical stance used to examine the relationship between dirt archaeology and the biblical world as presented to us through written sources

Household Archaeology in Ancient Israel and Beyond Assaf Yasur-Landau, Jennie R. Ebeling, Laura B. Mazow, 2013-02-06 Despite the large number of well preserved domestic contexts in Bronze and Iron Age sites household archaeology has not been a common approach to studying the material culture of Ancient Israel Until recently the dictates of Biblical Archaeology led to a narrow set of questions that ignored issues such as gender status and production within the household The present volume which grew out of a session at the 2008 Annual Meeting of the American Schools of Oriental Research attempts to redress this issue The seventeen papers herein reflect innovative viewpoints on the theory and praxis of household archaeology in this region The next step in household research is presented here with the use of tailor made data collection strategies designed to answer specific questions posed by household archaeology The neglect of households and the archaeology of the activities of its members are ambitiously attended to in this volume Its exceptional breadth of various modes of inquiry coupled with the application thereof justifies the household as a topic of discussion I would highly recommend this book for institutions libraries scholars and students interested in any aspect of daily life in the southern Levant and I very much look forward to the future research projects it will inspire Cynthia Shafer Elliot William Jessup University as a whole the work is impressive and most contributions are commendable for their sophistication in engaging interdisciplinary research in order to understand the nature and function of households in ancient Israel and surrounding areas Carol Meyers Duke University The Philistines and Other Sea Peoples in Text and Archaeology Ann E.

Killebrew, 2013-04-21 The search for the biblical Philistines one of ancient Israel's most storied enemies has long intrigued both scholars and the public Archaeological and textual evidence examined in its broader eastern Mediterranean context reveals that the Philistines well known from biblical and extrabiblical texts together with other related groups of Sea Peoples played a transformative role in the development of new ethnic groups and polities that emerged from the ruins of the Late Bronze Age empires The essays in this book representing recent research in the fields of archaeology Bible and history reassess the origins identity material culture and impact of the Philistines and other Sea Peoples on the Iron Age cultures and peoples of the eastern Mediterranean The contributors are Matthew J Adams Michal Artzy-Tristan J Barako David Ben Shlomo Mario Benzi Margaret E Cohen Anat Cohen Weinberger Trude Dothan Elizabeth French Marie Henriette Gates Hermann Genz Ayelet Gilboa Maria Iacovou Ann E Killebrew Sabine Laemmel Gunnar Lehmann Aren M Maeir Amihai Mazar
