Test Tube Women What Future For Motherhood:

Test-Tube Women Rita Arditti, Renate Duelli Klein, Shelley Minden, 2024-11-20 Originally published in 1984 when new reproductive technologies were just beginning to become part of the public discussion this edition was published with a new preface in 1989 The Editors wanted to look carefully at how much real choice reproductive technologies offered to women Genetic engineering sperm banks test tube fertilization sex selection surrogate mothering experimentation in the so called third world increased technological intervention in childbirth were we taking pregnancy and the birth process out of the dark ages or into a terrifying brave new world They ask who controls it Who benefits The technological machine grinds on in headline grabbing leaps or in quiet developments in research laboratories but what are the implications for women worldwide Still a huge industry today this reissue can be read in its historical context

Motherhood in Literature and Culture Gill Rye, Victoria Browne, Adalgisa Giorgio, Emily Jeremiah, Abigail Lee Six, 2017-06-26 Motherhood remains a complex and contested issue in feminist research as well as public discussion This interdisciplinary volume explores cultural representations of motherhood in various contemporary European contexts including France Italy Germany Portugal Spain and the UK and it considers how such representations affect the ways in which different individuals and groups negotiate motherhood as both institution and lived experience It has a particular focus on literature but it also includes essays that examine representations of motherhood in philosophy art social policy and film The book's driving contention is that through intersecting with other fields and disciplines literature and the study of literature have an important role to play in nuancing dialogues around motherhood by offering challenging insights and imaginative responses to complex problems and experiences This is demonstrated throughout the volume which covers a range of topics including discursive and visual depictions of pregnancy and birth the impact of new reproductive technologies on changing family configurations the relationship between mothering and citizenship the shaping of policy imperatives regarding mothering and disability and the difficult realities of miscarriage child death violence and infanticide The collection expands and complicates hegemonic notions of motherhood as the authors map and analyse shifting conceptions of maternal subjectivity and embodiment explore some of the constraining and or enabling contexts in which mothering takes place and ask searching questions about what it means to be a mother in Europe today It will be of interest not only to those working in gender women's and feminist studies but also to scholars in literary and cultural studies and those researching in sociology criminology politics psychology medical ethics midwifery and related fields

New Reproductive Technologies and Disembodiment Carla Lam, 2016-04-22 With attention to the ways in which new reproductive technologies facilitate the gradual disembodiment of reproduction this book reveals the paradox of women's reproductive experience in patriarchal cultures as being both and often simultaneously empowering and disempowering A rich exploration of birth appropriation in the West New Reproductive Technologies and Disembodiment investigates the assimilation of women's embodied power into patriarchal systems of symbolism culture and politics through the inversion of women's and men's reproductive roles. Contending that new reproductive technologies represent another world historical moment both in their forging of novel social relations and material processes of reproduction and their manner of disembodiment of women in unprecedented ways, a disembodiment evident in recent visual and literary popular and academic texts, this volume locates the roots of this disembodiment in western political discourse. A call to feminist political theory to re-member the material dimensions of bodies and their philosophical significance. New Reproductive Technologies and Disembodiment will appeal to scholars of sociology, gender studies, political and social theory, and the study of science, technology, and health. Birthing a Mother Elly Teman, 2010

This is an ethnography which probes the intimate experience of gestational surrogate motherhood. Teman shows how surrogates and intended mothers carefully negotiate their cooperative endeavour. Disciplining Reproduction Adele E. Clarke, 2024-03-29. Reproductive issues from sex and contraception to abortion and cloning have been controversial for centuries, and scientists who attempted to turn the study of reproduction into a discipline faced an uphill struggle. Adele Clarke's engrossing story of the search for reproductive knowledge across the twentieth century is colorful and fraught with conflict. Modern scientific study of reproduction, human and animal, began in the United States in an overlapping triad of fields: biology, medicine, and agriculture. Clarke traces the complicated paths through which physiological approaches to reproduction led to endocrinological approaches, creating along the way new technoscientific products from contraceptives to hormone therapies to new modes of assisted conception for both humans and animals. She focuses on the changing relations and often uneasy collaborations among scientists and the key social worlds most interested in their work: major philanthropists and a wide array of feminist and medical birth control and eugenics advocates. She recounts vividly how the reproductive sciences slowly acquired standing. By the 1960s, reproduction was disciplined, and the young and contested scientific enterprise proved remarkably successful at attracting private funding and support. But the controversies continue as women, the targeted consumers, create their own reproductive agendas around the world. Elucidating the deep cultural tensions that have permeated reproductive topics historically and in the present, Disciplining Reproduction gets to the heart of the twentieth century's drive to rationalize reproduction, human and nonhuman, in order to control life itself. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1998. New Reproductive Technologies Maureen McNeil, 1990-04-12. This collection of essays provides an overview of the social developments associated with the new reproductive technologies. It assesses the significance of these new technologies for the field of the sociology of technology as a whole. Disability, Gender, and the Trajectories of Power Asha Hans, 2024-09-30. This book explores the gendered experience of disability. It investigates how women with disabilities fare in society focusing on the experiences of women and their interactions with family society and medical and legal institutions Women with disabilities face unprecedented levels of violence oppression and marginalisation in their daily lives as well as a lack of visibility proper care and opportunities for socio economic development This book examines the reasons and consequences of the stigmatisation of disabilities and neurodivergence denial of proper care and various forms of exclusion and violence women with disabilities face both within and outside of their homes It brings together the perspectives of academicians and activists that try and understand the various challenges faced by women with disabilities and highlights the fight for their right to autonomy respect equality and justice Filling the gap in the existing feminist research this revised edition seeks to influence the way in which society treats women with disabilities and will be of interest to scholars and researchers in the field of women s rights disability rights rehabilitation social policy and the body

Feminist Thought, Student Economy Edition Rosemarie Tong, 2018-10-03 This book provides a clear comprehensive and incisive introduction to the major traditions of feminist theory from liberal feminism radical feminism and Marxist and socialist feminism to care focused feminism psychoanalytic feminism women of color feminisms and ecofeminism

Embodied Progress , Understanding Reproduction in Social Contexts Caitlin Killian, 2025-06-12 In today s post Roe world U S maternal mortality is on the rise and laws regarding contraception involuntary sterilization access to reproductive health services and criminalization of people who are gestating are changing by the minute Using a reproductive justice framework Understanding Reproduction in Social Contexts walks students through the social landscape around reproduction through the life course Chapters by cutting edge reproductive scholars practitioners and advocates address the social control of fertility and pregnancy the promises and perils of assisted reproductive technologies experiences of pregnancy miscarriage abortion and birth and how individuals make sense of and respond to the cultural social and political forces that condition their reproductive lives The book takes an intersectional approach and considers how gender sexuality fatness disability class race and immigration status impact both an individual s health and the healthcare they receive The inclusion of timely topics such as increased legal limitations on abortion transpeople and reproduction and new developments in assisted reproduction and family formation speaks to the current generation of students An essential text for undergraduate and graduate courses on families gender public health reproduction and sexuality
