The Boyd Massacre:

The True and Terrible Story of the Boyd Massacre Ian Macdonald, 2005 The Boyd Massacre Alexander Berry, 1829*
Alexander Berry's account of the destruction of the ship Boyd and massacre of the captain and crew by the natives of Wangaroa New Zealand. This account appears to have been written after 1829. The World, The Flesh and the Devil Andrew Sharp, 2016-10-24 New Zealanders know Samuel Marsden as the founder of the CMS missions that brought Christianity and perhaps sheep to New Zealand. Australians know him as the flogging parson who established large landholdings and was dismissed from his position as magistrate for exceeding his jurisdiction. English readers know of Marsden for his key role in the history of missions and empire. In this major biography spanning research and the subject's life across England, New South Wales and New Zealand, Andrew Sharp tells the story of Marsden's life from the inside. Sharp focuses on revealing to modern readers the powerful evangelical lens through which Marsden understood the world. By diving deeply into key moments: the voyage out, the disputes with Macquarie, the founding of missions, Sharp gets us to reimagine the world as Marsden saw it: always under threat from the Prince of Darkness, in need of a bold reprover of vice, a world written in the words of the King James Bible. Andrew Sharp takes us back into the nineteenth-century world and an evangelical mind to reveal the past as truly a foreign country. This Horrid Practice Paul Moon, 2008-08-04 Though stronger evidence of this horrid practice prevailing among the inhabitants of this coast will scarcely be required, we have still stronger to give Captain James Cook. This Horrid Practice uncovers an unexplored taboo of New Zealand history: the widespread practice of cannibalism in pre-European Maori society. Until now, many historians have tried to avoid it, and many Maori have considered it a subject best kept quiet about in public. Paul Moon brings together an impressive array of sources from a variety of disciplines to produce this frequently contentious but always stimulating exploration of how and why Maori ate other human beings and why the practice shuddered to a halt just a few decades after the arrival of Europeans in New Zealand. The book includes a comprehensive survey of cannibalism practices among traditional Maori, carefully assessing the evidence and concluding it was widespread. Other chapters look at how explorers and missionaries saw the practice, the role of missionaries and Christianity in its end, and in the final chapter, why there has been so much denial on the subject and why some academics still deny that it ever happened. This Horrid Practice promises to be one of the leading works of New Zealand history published in 2008. It is a highly original work that every New Zealand history enthusiast will want to own and read. The Barsden Memoirs (1799-1816) Grant Rodwell, 2022-02-27 Covering the life of Josephus Henry Barsden from his birth in 1799 through his childhood to 16 years of age, the Barsden memoirs describe events from a Sussex smugglers' inn, a convict ship to the colony of New South Wales, sealing and whaling expeditions to Van Diemen's Land, and Barsden's participation in a Tahitian civil war. The author assesses the value of memoirs and of these memoirs in particular to students of history in respect to the transnational paradigm. He tests the historicity and veracity of their contents and provides an engaging exegesis and graphical supplement of its contents Of central importance is Barsden s account of the Battle of Fe i Pi which was in many respects the Pacific s equivalent to the contemporaneous Battle of Waterloo such was its lasting impact on Pacific geopolitics This was no ordinary childhood and poses many questions about a transnational adolescent s impact on major events A fascinating read for scholars and students of Australian Pacific and British Colonial History written with academic rigour but accessible to non specialists

Cannibal Jack Trevor Bentley,2010-05-03 In a frontier society full of colourful characters in early nineteenth century New Zealand Jacky Marmon more commonly known as Cannibal Jack was more colourful than most Jumping ship off the New Zealand coast he first lived among Ng puhi at the Bay of Islands where he acquired five wives and served his chief as a trader and white priest Joining Hongi Hika s great Musket Wars campaigns against the Tamaki and Kaipara tribes he claimed to have served as Hika s personal war tohunga He survived to settle in the Hokianga from 1823 and was involved in Hone Heke s Flagstaff War of 1845 In this biography of a wonderfully curious character the author of the bestselling Pakeha Maori traces Marmon s life and times drawing on his own knowledge and research as well as on Marmon s own not always reliable personal accounts
