The Diversity of Life Edward O. Wilson, 1992 View a collection of videos on Professor Wilson entitled On the Relation of Science and the Humanities In the Amazon Basin the greatest violence sometimes begins as a flicker of light beyond the horizon There in the perfect bowl of the night sky untouched by light from any human source a thunderstorm sends its premonitory signal and begins a slow journey to the observer who thinks the world is about to change Watching from the edge of the Brazilian rain forest witness to the sort of violence nature visits upon its creatures Edward O Wilson reflects on the crucible of evolution and so begins his remarkable account of how the living world became diverse and how humans are destroying that diversity Wilson internationally regarded as the dean of biodiversity studies conducts us on a tour through time traces the processes that create new species in bursts of adaptive radiation and points out the cataclysmic events that have disrupted evolution and diminished global diversity over the past 600 million years The five enormous natural blows to the planet such as meteorite strikes and climatic changes required 10 to 100 million years of evolutionary repair The sixth great spasm of extinction on earth caused this time entirely by humans may be the one that breaks the crucible of life Wilson identifies this crisis in countless ecosystems around the globe coral reefs grasslands rain forests and other natural habitats Drawing on a variety of examples such as the decline of bird populations in the United States the extinction of many species of freshwater fish in Africa and Asia and the rapid disappearance of flora and fauna as the rain forests are cut down he poignantly describes the death throes of the living world's diversity projected to decline as much as 20 percent by the year 2020 All evidence marshaled here resonates through Wilson's tightly reasoned call for a spirit of stewardship over the world

s biological wealth He makes a plea for specific actions that will enhance rather than diminish not just diversity but the quality of life on earth Cutting through the tangle of environmental issues that often obscure the real concern Wilson maintains that the era of confrontation between forces for the preservation of nature and those for economic development is over he convincingly drives home the point that both aims can and must be integrated Unparalleled in its range and depth Wilson s masterwork is essential reading for those who care about preserving the world biological variety and ensuring our planet s health Deforesting the Earth Michael Williams,2003 Clearing in the deep past Reaching out europe and the wider world The global forest Developing Environmental Awareness Through Children's Literature Nancy Lee Cecil,1996 As environmental concerns become more and more important teachers and librarians are looking for effective ways to teach children to appreciate nature and conserve resources Over 200 selections from children s literature with characters who respect the environment are presented in this guide The books are grouped in five basic genres contemporary fiction folk literature historical fiction biographies and fanciful fiction Entries include full bibliographic data a descriptive annotation and an indication of the appropriate grade level Target activities that reinforce the work s theme are also provided for each title American Book Publishing Record ,1992 A Global Humanities Approach to the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals Kelly Comfort,2023-10-10 This edited textbook explores the 17 UN SDGs through 12 works from the humanities including films novels and photographic collections It provides students with the knowledge and understanding of how the humanities engage in broader social political economic and environmental dialogue offering a global perspective that crosses national and continental borders The book takes students through the UN SDGs from a theoretical perspective through to practical applications first through specific global humanities examples and then through students own final projects and reflections Centered around three major themes of planet people and prosperity the textbook encourages students to explore and apply the Goals using a place based culturally rooted approach while simultaneously acknowledging and understanding their global importance The text s examples range from documentary and feature film to photography and literature including Wang Jiuliang s Plastic China Kip Andersen and Keegan Kuhn s Cowspiracy The Sustainability Secret Barbara Dombrowski s Tropic Ice Dialog Between Places Affected by Climate Change and Aravind Adiga s The White Tiger among others Providing diverse geographic and cultural perspectives the works take readers to Argentina Australia Bolivia China Costa Rica Ecuador France Greenland Haiti India Japan Peru Rwanda Senegal and the United States This broad textbook can be used by students and instructors at undergraduate and postgraduate levels from any subject background particularly but not exclusively those in the humanities With added discussion questions research assignments writing prompts and creative project ideas students will gain a nuanced understanding of the interconnectivity between social cultural ethical political economic and environmental factors The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non
