The British To Southern Africa:

Victoria Falls and Colonial Imagination in British Southern Africa Andrea L. Arrington-Sirois, 2017-03-22 This is the first full length historical analysis of Victoria Falls The text offers a critical examination of Victoria Falls providing new insight into the British Southern African project and reveals how Victoria Falls became one of the first modern African tourist destinations This book makes a case for a critical reading of Victoria Falls as much more than a localized natural wonder Europeans with multiple and often competing agendas as well as African leaders and laborers were brought into contact with one another at Victoria Falls Their visions of the past and hopes for the future shared Victoria Falls as a common point of inspiration The value these parties placed on the Falls extended far beyond its location on the Zambezi and had broad implications for the British Empire in Southern and Central Africa British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa

Matthew P. Llewellyn, Toby C. Rider, 2024-11-25 The transnational anti apartheid sport boycott of South Africa represented the most prominent extended and controversial anti racism campaign in the history of sport Spearheaded by prominent British religious and anti colonial figures and exiled South Africans emboldened by communist and Global South support and legitimised by supranational political bodies such as the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth the sport boycott helped propel anti apartheid out of relative obscurity and struck at the very heart of a cultural practice that served an explicitly ideological function in Afrikaner society Britain held a dichotomous even paradoxical role as both prosecutor and defender of white South Africa This book utilises sport as a critical lens for understanding the dynamics and dichotomies of British attitudes towards the apartheid regime Debates over whether to continue or to cut sporting links with apartheid South Africa proved bitterly divisive The considerable weight the subject carried and the degree to which it saturated British political and social discourse for four decades speaks to its impact and importance British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa represents the first archival based historical examination of Britain s sporting relations with South Africa throughout the apartheid era 1948 1994 Situating the analysis within the shifting multiracial and multicultural landscapes of postcolonial Britain and within global political cultural sporting and ideological debates the authors trace the origins and evolution of the transnational sport boycott and examine what inspired Britons to energise anti apartheid sport campaigns and in contrast what drove many others to vehemently oppose them at every turn Market for Industrial Machinery in British South Africa ... British Royal Visits and Black Loyalty in Twentieth-century Southern Africa Hilary Sapire, 2024-10-31 Exploring the entwined histories of British royal visits to Southern Africa in the twentieth century this book analyses the clashing voices of dissent and cheering crowds that accompanied royal tours providing insight into the shifting nature of Black loyalty. Originating in the Indigenous empire loyalty of eighteenth century Canada Black loyalty encompassed loyalty to the British crown and a shared ideology of rights and entitlements which positioned the crown as a source of protection against white settler rapacity colonial violence and racial oppression. However expressions of monarchical devotion were often double edged and addressed the fundamental contradiction of a crown that was both the source of rights and complicit in colonial conquest appropriation and misrule. It was on royal occasions such as jubilees coronation celebrations and especially royal visits when the sovereign was literally amongst their more distant subjects that loyalist sentiment was rekindled reinvented and made directly relevant to the concerns of the day. By analysing change and continuity in Black perspectives towards both the British and Indigenous

African monarchy during these visits this book offers a fruitful way into examining an array of Black Southern African discourses on governance political values and cultural identities across the region It argues that the refashioning of British imperial monarchy in the twentieth century was profoundly shaped by African initiatives and re imaginings and provides valuable reading for those researching imperialism popular attitudes to the British monarchy in the twentieth century and the diverse politics and identities of southern Africa

South Africa George McCall Theal,1894 Southern Africa in World Politics Janice Love,2005-02-11 These days politics often seem to be local and global simultaneously challenging people politicians and scholars to sort out what is domestic from what is international and how the two are related Janice Love demonstrates the complex realities of how local and global politics are intimately interwoven sometimes inextricably so specifically in southern Africa In southern Africa like many other regions such linkages have existed for decades if not centuries Yet the current era is different from previous times when human communities found themselves closely intertwined Love examines military political and economic changes in recent decades Students of international relations comparative politics and African studies will find the region s experience instructive in understanding larger trends in the world Students particularly interested in Africa will gain insight not only about this region but also its significance for the whole continent Deliberately crosses the boundaries of domestic politics and foreign policy as well as comparative politics and international relations By taking a globalization approach connecting the local regional and global the book offers fresh insights into the dynamics of war and peace wealth and poverty as well as local to global governance in southern Africa Examines globalization in three arenas or domains military political and economic not only distinguishing them from each other but also probing what has changed and what has remained the same across time

Cricket and Society in South Africa, 1910–1971 Bruce Murray,Richard Parry,Jonty Winch,2018-09-01 This book explores how cricket in South Africa was shaped by society and society by cricket It demonstrates the centrality of cricket in the evolving relationship between culture sport and politics starting with South Africa as the beating heart of the imperial project and ending with the country as an international pariah The contributors explore the tensions between fragmentation and unity on and off the pitch in the context of the racist ideology of empire its arrested development and the reliance of South Africa on a racially based exploitative labour system This edited collection uncovers the hidden history of cricket society and empire in defining a multiplicity of South African identities and recognises the achievements of forgotten players and their impact

Science and society in southern Africa Saul Dubow,2017-03-01 This collection dealing with case studies drawn from South Africa Zimbabwe Mozambique and Mauritius examines the relationship between scientific claims and practices and the exercise of colonial power It challenges conventional views that portray science as a detached mode of reasoning with the capacity to confer benefits in a more or less even handed manner That science has the potential to further the collective good is not fundamentally at issue but science can also be seen as complicit in processes of colonial domination Not only did science assist in bolstering aspects of colonial power and exploitation it also possessed a significant ideological component it offered a means of legitimating colonial authority by counter poising Western rationality to native superstition and it served to enhance the self image of colonial or settler elites in important respects This innovative volume ranges broadly through topics such as statistics medicine eugenics agriculture entomology and botany     Annual statement of trade and shipping of the Union of South Africa South Africa.
