Georges Louis Leclerc comte de Buffon

The Brute:

The Brute Within Hendrik Lorenz, 2006-04-06 Hendrik Lorenz presents a comprehensive study of Plato's and Aristotle's conceptions of non-rational desire. They see this as something that humans share with animals and which aims primarily at the pleasures of food, drink, and sex. Lorenz explores the cognitive resources that both philosophers make available for the explanation of such desires and what they take rationality to add to the motivational structure of human beings. In doing so, he exposes a remarkable degree of continuity between Plato's and Aristotle's thought in this area. He also sheds fresh light not only on both philosophers' theories of motivation but also on how they conceive of the mind both in itself and in relation to the body.

Faith by definition is confidence or trust in God and in His promises as made through Christ, the scriptures, by which humans are justified or saved. It is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen. Heb 11:1 KJV. In this story, Faith is the key, just as it is in our lives, to defeating the enemy. God has given us power over the enemy, but for us to use that power, we have to believe in the Son, Jesus Christ, and have Faith that we possess the power He has given us. Not only do we need Faith in defeating the devil, but as well the things he throws at us in life, WE MUST HAVE FAITH TO SURVIVE. In this story, a young man is given power to use against evil. The key to using it is having Faith. I ask you, as you read this story, put yourself in his shoes and see if you would be ready for a test of Faith.
