The Age of Persuasion Terry O'Reilly,Mike Tennant,2011-05-01 Stop to consider the culture of the 21st century Each morning you might hear a half dozen ads on the radio before your feet touch the floor Staggering out of bed you ll pass brand logos on your clothing and in your bathroom By the end of the day hundreds perhaps thousands of marketing messages have targeted you And yet so little is understood about how marketing affects our lives our society and our world Enter Terry O Reilly and Mike Tennant the ad men behind The Age of Persuasion the popular radio show broadcast on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and Sirius Radio They have made it their mission to share the back room story of modern marketing entertaining asides and all Think of advertisers as millions of ants in a colony each working hard and each with its own objective Except that in this colony every single ant is competing against the others That s the ad business Almost every ad you see hear and otherwise experience is competing for a piece of your imagination And like any cross section of humanity the vast worldwide advertising community is diverse composed of geniuses and idiots saints and buffoons and everything in between From the early players to the Mad Men of the 1960s and beyond O Reilly and Tennant offer insights into a rapidly evolving industry Smart and funny The Age of Persuasion provides an entertaining and eye opening look at a world driven by marketing The Psychology of Entertainment Media L. J. Shrum,2003-10-03 The Psychology of Entertainment Media provides a cutting edge look at how entertainment media affects its viewers both in intended and unintended ways and the psychological processes that underlie these effects The collection represents an international multidisciplinary investigation of an age old process persuasion in a relatively new guise which includes product placements brand films television programs and sponsorships The collection covers three broad areas the potential effects of embedding promotions within entertainment media content the persuasive power of the entertainment media content itself and individual differences in the interplay between media usage and media effects Contributions focus on a variety of topics including product placement subliminal perception narrative impact cultivation effects on consumers and individual differences in media use Virtually all the chapters speak to the issue of how entertainment media are processed with the conclusion that media consumers do tend to process entertainment and promotional information differently Providing a broad perspective on how entertainment media may have an effect that goes largely unnoticed or unattended by consumers this volume makes a substantial contribution toward creating a more knowledgeable field as well as a more knowledgeable consumer With its origins in the 21st Annual Advertising and Consumer Psychology Conference the volume represents scholarship from prominent and emerging scholars in psychology marketing and communications It is appropriate for advanced students and scholars in marketing advertising psychology and mass communication for research focused practitioners working in marketing advertising and public policy and for individuals interested in entertainment studies consumer behavior attitudes persuasion media studies and consumer psychology The British and Anglo-Irish Thing-Essay from 1701 to 2021 Daniel Schneider,2023-09-29 While the it narrative the thing poem and thing theatre have been around for some time the essay which is often considered literature s fourth genre is still lacking its thing subgenre Yet particularly British and Anglo Irish literature display a long albeit so far implicit tradition of texts that can be categorised as thing essays Starting with Jonathan Swift s Meditation upon a Broomstick 1701 and continuing until today these texts draw broader insights from the contemplation of a material item of daily life This book provides the first theoretical conceptualisation of this genre Bringing elements from essay studies and the New Materialisms together it shows why the essay lends itself particularly well to literarizations of the personal relationships that people foster to everyday objects While the idiosyncrasies of each essay show the versatility of thing essays the study also seeks to unearth changing attitudes towards things and thus towards people's material surroundings in general throughout time In order to account for such synchronic and diachronic differences in thing essays this study develops a typology of three modes via which things can be approached essayistically In the book's second part this framework will be employed in close readings and historicizations of 14 thing essays from 1701 until 2021 Ranging from satire to sentimental writing from religion to consumerism from class to gender differences from feelings of nationality to exoticism from the French Revolution to Freud and from art to everyday life the stylistic and thematic broadness of these thing essays ultimately shows the multifarious connections between human life and materiality
