The Bush Doctors Challenge 153:

The Challenge to Change Rebecca Kolins Givan, 2016-08-19 There is constant pressure on hospitals to improve health care delivery and increase cost effectiveness New initiatives are the order of the day in the dramatically different health care systems of the United States and Great Britain Often as we know all too well these efforts are not successful In The Challenge to Change Rebecca Kolins Givan analyzes the successes and failures of efforts to improve hospitals and explains what factors make it likely that the implementation of reforms will be rewarded by positive transformation in a particular institution's day to day operation Givan's in depth qualitative case studies of both top down initiatives and changes first suggested by staff on the front lines of care point clearly to the importance of all hospital workers in effecting change and even influencing national policy Givan illuminates the critical role of workers managers and unions in enabling or constraining changes in policies and procedures and ensuring their implementation Givan spotlights an Anglo American model of hospital care and work organization even while these countries retain their differences in access and payment Entrenched professional roles hierarchical workplace organization and the sometimes detached view of policymakers all shape the prospects for change in hospitals Givan provides important examples of how the dedication and imagination of the people who work in hospitals can make all the difference when it comes to providing quality health care even in a challenging economic environment

Challenging the Black Atlantic John T. Maddox IV, John Thomas Maddox (IV), 2021 The historical novels of Manuel Zapata Olivella and Ana Maria Gonçalves map black journeys from Africa to the Americas in a way that challenges the Black Atlantic paradigm that has become synonymous with cosmopolitan African diaspora studies Unlike Paul Gilroy who coined the term and based it on W E B DuBois's double consciousness Zapata in Chang el gran putas 1983 creates an empowering mythology that reframes black resistance in Colombia Haiti Mexico Brazil and the United States In Um defeito de cor 2006 Gonçalves imagines the survival strategies of a legendary woman said to be the mother of black abolitionist poet Luís Gama and a conspirator in an African Muslim led revolt in Brazil's Black Rome These novels show differing visions of revolution black community femininity sexuality and captivity They skillfully reveal how events preceding the UNESCO Decade of Afro Descent 2015 2024 alter our understanding of Afro Latin America as it gains increased visibility Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

Biowar I: Hunger Mark Edwards, 2007-12-01 Burning 100M tons of our primary food for fuel is unsustainable and wastes non renewable resources Growing massive amounts of corn creates ecological suicide as it drains trillions of gallons of non replenishable groundwater spikes food and fuel prices decimates food exports and threatens millions with starvation from a food cascade Cover

S.P.G. Review of the Year's Work Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts (Great Britain), 1923

Where No Doctor Has Gone Before Robert Huish, 2013-09-03 Tens of thousands of people around the world die each day from causes that could have been prevented with access to affordable health care resources In an era of unprecedented global inequity Cuba a small low income country is making a difference by providing affordable health care to millions of marginalized people Cuba has developed a world class health care system that provides universal access to its own citizens while committing to one of the most extensive international health outreach campaigns in the world The country has trained thousands of foreign medical students for free under a moral agreement that they serve desperate communities To date over 110 000 Cuban health care workers have served overseas Where No Doctor Has Gone Before looks at the dynamics of Cuban medical internationalism to understand the impact of Cuba s programs within the global health landscape Topics addressed include the growing moral divide in equitable access to health care services with a focus on medical tourism and Cuba s alternative approach to this growing trend Also discussed is the hidden curriculum in mainstream medical education that encourages graduates to seek lucrative positions rather than commit to service for the marginalized The author shows how Cuba s Escuela Latinoamericana de Medicina ELAM serves as a counter to this trend An acknowledgement of Cuba s tremendous commitment the book reveals a compelling model of global health practice that not only meets the needs of the marginalized but facilitates an international culture of cooperation and solidarity Dr. Benjamin E. Mays Speaks

Benjamin Elijah Mays, 2002 Benjamin Mays was an African American educator and a vocal opponent of segregation and discrimination who influenced the thinking of Martin Luther King Jr Political scientist Colston presents a collection of the speeches commencement addresses sermons and eulogies of Mays in which he comments on race relations and the state of education in the United States Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Western Challenge Peter Bush, 2000 Between 1885 and 1925 the Presbyterian Church in Canada grew to become the largest church on the Prairies Western Challenge documents that rise Exploring the church s mission to the British settlers as well as its mission to the Native peoples and the non Anglo Saxon immigrants this study examines how the church transformed itself and its ministry models to meet the challenges of the rapidly growing rural and urban populations of the Prairies Special attention is paid to the church s experience in the Klondike and Near North prior to 1925 Western Challenge concludes by suggesting that the present day Presbyterian Church is the true heir of this mission vision Field Guide to the Difficult Patient Interview

Frederic W. Platt, Geoffrey H. Gordon, 2004 Written by physicians skilled at coaching colleagues in physician patient communication this pocket guide presents practical strategies for handling a wide variety of difficult patient interviews Each chapter presents a hypothetical scenario describes effective communication techniques for each phase of the interaction and identifies pitfalls to avoid The presentation includes examples of physician patient dialogue illustrations showing body language and key references This edition includes new chapters on caring for physician patients communicating with colleagues disclosing unexpected outcomes and medical errors shared decision making and informed consent and teaching communication skills Other new chapters describe clinical attitudes such as patience curiosity and hope Where Does it Hurt? Jonathan Bush, Stephen Baker, 2014 Jonathan Bush of athenahealth leads readers through the underbelly of American health care which has missed the customer service revolution of the past two decades while reflecting on his own journey from ambulance driver to CEO of one of the nation's fastest growing tech companies. He offers a vision and plan for disrupting the current system and pushes to restore the sanctity of the physician-patient experience. The key he argues is more innovation, less regulation, and a wider range of choices for customers. Provided by publisher Disabilities Martha E. Banks Ph.D., Mariah S. Gover, Elizabeth Kendall, Catherine A. Marshall, 2009-04-30. In this three-volume set, experts from around the world spotlight the latest research on physical and psychological disabilities, as well as the social, legal, and political issues that come to bear on those people affected. These authors teach us what the disabilities are, how common they have become, what challenges people with disabilities face, what treatments are available, and whether new promising efforts for rehabilitation are on the horizon. We also learn in these volumes about social actions that have advanced human rights for people with disabilities in countries around the world. Yet we learn that in these same countries, discriminatory actions against people with disabilities continue to occur. The impact of different cultural beliefs about disability are explored, and these beliefs are juxtaposed against legislative responses. In all three volumes, people with disabilities share their personal narratives about events they have faced in society. They provide rich examples of how culture, social interactions, and legislation can impact on people.

Gideon's Promise Jonathan Rapping, 2020-08-18. A criminal defense attorney tugs at both the heartstrings and our consciences as he challenges America's true commitment to justice. Stacey Abrams offering a blueprint for how public defense programs should work to end mass incarceration. Combining wisdom drawn from over a dozen years as a public defender and cutting-edge research in the fields of organizational and cultural psychology, Jonathan Rapping proposes a radical cultural shift to a fiercely client-based ethos driven by values-based recruitment, training, awakening defenders to their role in upholding an unjust status quo, and a renewed pride in the essential role of moral lawyering in a democratic society. Public defenders represent over 80% of those who interact with the court system, a disproportionate number of whom are poor, non-white citizens who rely on them to navigate the law on their behalf. More often than not, even the most well-meaning of those defenders are overworked, underfunded, and incentivized to put the interests of judges and politicians above those of their clients in a culture that beats the passion out of talented, driven advocates and has led to an embarrassingly low standard of justice for those who depend on the promises of Gideon v. Wainwright. Through the story of founding Gideon's Promise and anecdotes of his time as a defender and teacher, Rapping reanimates the possibility of public defenders serving as a radical bulwark against government oppression and a megaphone to amplify the voices of those they serve.

Doctor, Will You Pray for Me? Robert L. Klitzman, Professor of Psychiatry and Co-Founder of the Center for Bioethics. Robert L. Klitzman, 2024. Psychiatrist and bioethicist Robert Klitzman here explores the need for spiritual guidance among patients and their families who are experiencing illness. They often struggle to make sense of their situation, and as they confront their mortality, they will try to seek hope, purpose, and larger connections beyond the world of medicine While physicians are frequently uncomfortable with these issues often under sung hospital chaplains can and do fill this void Klitzman uses interviews with patients families and chaplains to bring their stories to life and more broadly he explores the ways in which hospitals and the health care system might address this neglect of a vital human need in times of crisis

A Casebook of Ethical Challenges in Neuropsychology Shane S. Bush,2004-11-23 The American Psychological Association published a revision of the Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct in 2002 This text a companion to the 2002 text Ethical Issues in Clinical Neuropsychology by Bush and Drexler presents the reader with common ethical challenges in neuropsychology This text examines the differences between the 1992 and 2002 APA Ethics Codes as they relate to neuropsychological activities The authors present cases and discuss ethical issues related to neuropsychological practice with a variety of patient populations and in a variety of clinical settings In addition ethical issues in neuropsychological research and test development are examined The text also includes chapters on emerging and particularly challenging aspects of neuropsychological practice such as the assessment of response validity and the use of information technology and telecommunications Through the use of case illustrations the authors examine ethical issues in neuropsychology and the new Ethics Code offering a practical approach for understanding and promoting ethical neuropsychological practice
