The Getting of Garlic John Newton, 2018-10-01 The white colonisers of Australia suffered from Alliumphobia a fear of garlic Local cooks didn't touch the stuff and it took centuries for that fear to lift This food history of Australia shows we held onto British assumptions about produce and cooking for a long time and these fed our views on racial hierarchies and our place in the world Before Garlic we had meat and potatoes After Garlic what we ate got much more interesting But has a national cuisine emerged What is Australian food culture Renowned food writer John Newton visits haute cuisine or fine dining restaurants the cafes and mid range restaurants and heads home to the dinner tables as he samples what everyday people have cooked and eaten over centuries His observations and recipes old and new show what has changed and what hasn't changed as much as we might think even though our chefs are hailed as some of the best in the world

One Continuous Picnic Symons, Michael, 2016-10-17 2007 marks the twenty fifth anniversary of the first publication of One Continuous Picnic a frequently acclaimed Australian classic on the history of eating in Australia The text remains gratifyingly accurate and prescient and has helped to shape subsequent developments in food in Australia Until recently historians have tended to overlook eating and yet through meat pies and lamingtons Symons tells the history of Australia gastronomically He challenges myths such as that Australia is too young for a national cuisine and that immigration caused the restaurant boom Symons shows us that Australia is unique because its citizens have not developed a true contact with the land have not had a peasant society Australians have enjoyed plenty to eat but food had to be portable witness the weekly rations of mutton flour tea and sugar that made early settlers a mobile army clearing a whole continent and the tins of jam condensed milk camp pie and bottles of tomato sauce and beer that turned its citizens into early suburbanites By the time of screw top riesling takeaway chicken and frozen puff pastry Australians were hypnotised consumers on one continuous picnic But good food has never come from factory farms process lines supermarkets and fast food chains Only when we enjoy a diet of fresh local produce treated with proper respect when we learn from peasants might we at last have found a national cuisine and cultivated a continent
