The Byzantine Monuments And The Oecumenical Patriarchate:

The Byzantine Monuments and the Oecumenical Patriarchate Athanasios D. Paliouras, 1990 The Oecumenical Patriarchate Athanasios D. Paliouras, 1989 The Cult of St Anna in Byzantium Eirini Panou, 2018-05-11

The Cult of St Anna in Byzantium is the first undertaking in Byzantine research to study the phenomenon of St Anna's cult from the sixth to the fifteenth centuries. It was prompted by the need to enrich our knowledge of a female saint who had already been studied in the West but remained virtually unknown in Eastern Christendom. It focuses on a figure little studied in scholarship and examines the formation, establishment and promotion of an apocryphal saint who made her way to the pantheon of Orthodox saints. Visual and material culture, relics and texts track the gradual social and ideological transformation of Byzantium from early Christianity until the fifteenth century. This book not only examines various aspects of early Christian and Byzantine civilisation but also investigates how the cult of saints greatly influenced cultural changes in order to suit theological, social and political demands. The cult of St Anna influenced many diverse elements of Christian life in Constantinople, including the creation of sacred spaces and the location of hagiasmata, fountains of holy water in the city, imperial patronage, the social reception of St Anna's story and relic narratives. This monograph breaks new ground in explaining how and why Byzantium and the Orthodox Church attributed scriptural authority to a minor figure known only from a non-canonical work.

The Orientalist Tom Reiss, 2005-02-15

Part history, part cultural biography and part literary mystery, The Orientalist traces the life of Lev Nussimbaum, a Jew who transformed himself into a Muslim prince and became a best-selling author in Nazi Germany. Born in 1905 to a wealthy family in the oil boom city of Baku at the edge of the czarist empire, Lev escaped the Russian Revolution in a camel caravan. He found refuge in Germany, where writing under the names Essad Bey and Kurban Said, his remarkable books about Islam, desert adventures and global revolution became celebrated across fascist Europe. His enduring masterpiece, Ali and Nino, a story of love across ethnic and religious boundaries published on the eve of the Holocaust, is still in print today. But Lev's life grew wilder than his wildest stories. He married an international heiress who had no idea of his true identity until she divorced him in a tabloid scandal. His closest friend in New York, George Sylvester Viereck, also a friend of both Freud's and Einstein's, was arrested as the leading Nazi agent in the United States. Lev was invited to be Mussolini's official biographer until the Fascists discovered his true identity. Under house arrest in the Amalfi cliff town of Positano, Lev wrote his last book, discovered in a half a dozen notebooks never before read by anyone, helped by a mysterious half-German salon hostess, an Algerian weapons smuggler and the poet Ezra Pound. Tom Reiss spent five years tracking down secret police records, love letters, diaries and the deathbed notebooks. Beginning with a yearlong investigation for The New Yorker, he pursued Lev's story across ten countries and found himself caught up in encounters as dramatic and surreal and sometimes as heartbreaking as his subject's life. Reiss's quest for the truth buffets him from one weird character to the next, from the last heir of the Ottoman throne to a rock opera composing baroness in an Austrian castle to an aging starlet in a Hollywood bungalow full of cats and turtles As he tracks down the pieces of Lev Nussimbaum s deliberately obscured life Reiss discovers a series of shadowy worlds of European pan Islamists nihilist assassins anti Nazi book smugglers Baku oil barons Jewish Orientalists that have also been forgotten The result is a thoroughly unexpected picture of the twentieth century of the origins of our ideas about race and religious self definition and of the roots of modern fanaticism and terrorism Written with grace and infused with wonder The Orientalist is an astonishing book Western Civilization in the Near East Hans Kohn,2022-11-30 First published in 1936 Western Civilization in the Near East traces the spread and growth of Western civilization in the countries of the Levant and their immediate hinterland The author argues that modern civilization took birth in Western Europe and then slowly spread to the rest of Europe and to all other parts of the earth leading to the Europeanization of mankind While Europe s modern civilization initially enabled it to dominate the world economically and political it also provided non European people with the resources to ultimately resist and reject Europe s control This universal acculturation and the ensuing birth of a coherent and closely knit humanity facing similar social economic and cultural problems determined the new trends of world history This book only focuses on the European contact with the Muslim East and the consequences of the contact The language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this republication This book will be of interest to students of history political science international relations and geography Archons of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople ,2001 The Sacred Architecture of Byzantium Nicholas N. Gür, 2025-08-15 This book explores the contemporary memory of the Ottoman conquest of Constantinople now Istanbul in 1453 It focuses on how the conquest is remembered by Islamist nationalist imagination in Turkey today and how architecture plays a role in shaping this memory underscoring its susceptibility to political manipulation Discussing Islamist nationalist rhetoric of Istanbul's conquest through the conceptual framework of melancholy a significant theme in the history of ideas the argument posits that this narrative is a politically driven endeavor fueled by paranoia producing melancholy over the conquest of Istanbul This book redefines melancholy as a politically manipulated project which anchors the imagery of conquest to spatial and architectural symbols of mourning while creating imaginary lost objects Architecture becomes the book's subject as the bearer of clues to searching for lost objects and as a spatial political tool of conquest rhetoric such as the Hagia Sophia in Istanbul and the Panorama 1453 History Museum As various groups with differing ideologies and identities continue to feel the impact of the conquest this book also examines the other side of the event specifically how the Greeks commemorate the
