historical study of patenting The second part of the book is interesting and the author raises some very important points a very valuable contribution to the debate of the scope of patent monopolies David Rogers Legal Member Boards of Appeal European Patent Office Germany reviewed in European Intellectual Property Review Gene Cartels is a truly magisterial and important book It shows how we need to bring together the discrete threads around intellectual property law ie patent copyright etc so there can be a clear spotlight on the important public policy issues Terry Cutler Principal Cutler Company and Chair Review of the National Innovation System Australia provides an estimable addition to a growing library of texts diagnosing the maladies of the existing IPR system and offering well attested cures It demands the widest possible readership not just amongst the IPR community but amongst economists and social scientists policy officials in both developed and developing countries and business people everywhere John A Mathews LUISS Guido Carli University Italy Gene Cartels is a valuable book for the scientist providing in an elegantly scholarly style deep insights into the origins history evolution and current status of patent systems It also discloses features that can lead in effect to a misuse of power From the foreword by Baruch S Blumberg Fox Chase Cancer Center Philadelphia and University of Pennsylvania US and Winner of the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine 1976 Starting with the 13th century this book explores how patents have been used as an economic protectionist tool developing and evolving to the point where thousands of patents have been ultimately granted not over inventions but over isolated or purified biological materials DNA invented by no man and once thought to be free to all men and reserved exclusively to none has become cartelised in the hands of multinational corporations The author questions whether the continuing grant of patents can be justified when they are now used to suppress rather than promote research and development in the life sciences Luigi Palombi demonstrates that patents are about inventions and not isolated biological materials which consequently have no bona fide purpose in the innovations of biotechnological science This book will be important reading for anyone who has an interest in the role that patents have played in economic development particularly historians economists and scientists It will also be of great interest to law academics lawyers judges and policymakers

The American Medical Mess Charles Peter, 2009-02 About two trillion dollars a year is spent on health care in the USA however health care has yet to be defined Ill conceived laws have turned our emergency rooms into twenty four hour outpatient clinics and have turned our ambulances into expensive taxis If bad laws the insurance cartel with its fellow traveling lawyers inefficiency and fraud could be contained the two trillion dollars could be reduced by at least one third Health care run by the government as in Great Britain would give us free but unavailable health care A capitalistic free market system would give us more and better health care

The Medical-Pharmaceutical Killing Machine Children's Health Defense, 2024-11-26 Medical and pharmaceutical history is replete with examples of dangerous interventions that have poisoned injured or killed However events since 2020 have attracted attention as never before to medicine's potential to be both lethal and malevolent In The Medical Pharmaceutical Killing Machine Children's Health Defense situates current perils in their broader context with the aim of helping readers understand how to protect themselves and their loved ones. In the Greek Trojan War saga the god Apollo ensured that Cassandra's prophecies would never be believed with disastrous consequences. As recounted in the book, modern medicine too has produced its fair share of medical Cassandras: doctors and writers who have tried to warn the public about medicine's life-threatening underbelly generally to little avail. A chapter dedicated to nine of these medical skeptics, beginning with Ivan Illich and his coining of the term iatrogenesis to describe adverse outcomes caused by doctors, weaves a powerful portrait of harms regularly denied and ignored with those making the claims typically marginalized and canceled. The book shows that there is no shortage of tools in the killing machine arsenal. One chapter highlights the mRNA vaccine technology inaugurated with COVID, illustrating how this new mechanism for iatrogenesis is inflicting novel forms of toxicity, not all of which are yet understood. Another chapter about assisted suicide and euthanasia describes the chilling global proliferation of policies and propaganda promoting those practices for vulnerable populations that include babies, children, people diagnosed with autism, and the mentally ill. The book also describes factors that make it possible for the killing machine to continue operating with impunity, including the ascendance of an evidence-based medicine juggernaut, medical gaslighting, and a ballooning global enforcement infrastructure. Nor does it shy away from confronting what some now characterize as iatrogenocide: a chapter asking 'Why Do They Do It?' considers money, prestige, and control as three possible answers. Ultimately, it is only by acknowledging the long-standing reality of an all too effective medical pharmaceutical killing machine that people can learn to dodge the threats and work toward building a different model that prioritizes life and genuine health.

Competition Law and Collusion in Public Procurement Penelope Giosa, 2025-08-22. This book examines infringements of competition law in public procurement settings, evaluating the latest European Procurement Directive 2014/24/EU to examine to what extent its provisions facilitate or deter collusion during specific award procedures. Public contracts account for a significant proportion of EU expenditure. In sectors such as energy, transport, social protection, and the provision of health or education services, public authorities are the main purchasers. It is important to ensure that public contracts are awarded in an open, fair, and transparent manner that enables domestic and non-domestic firms to compete on an equal basis with the aim of improving the quality and lowering the price of purchases made by public authorities. This book assesses the competition law enforcement mechanisms that competition regulators bring to the area of public procurement in the attempt to deter bid rigging. It analyzes key tools for the public and private enforcement of competition law in the domain of public contracts, such as the leniency programme, damages claims for bid rigging, and the whistleblower programme. The book uses auction theory as a benchmark to assess the risk of collusion in the context of procurement procedures and techniques. Offering a holistic analysis informed by research, it makes recommendations for better design, set-up, and management of public tenders without distorting competition. Highlighting the need to make use of competition law enforcement mechanisms in the battle against collusion in public procurement it identifies ways in which the procurement process can be improved to reduce and prevent bid rigging The book will be of interest to researchers in the field of competition law public procurement and EU law Maria's Revenge Christopher Fox, 2020-02-28 Her parents threatened an abducted child a cartel taken down While on a black ops assignment in North Korea chasing a deranged general Maria learns that her parents survived a plane crash killing the pilot but it wasn't an accident Thousands of miles away in a remote village in Mexico a human trafficking ring claims its newest young victim someone connected to Maria As Maria and her team of investigative agents hone in on those responsible they discover that Maria is now being targeted As the investigation unfolds further they learn that the attempt on her parents' lives and the child's abduction goes right to the top of the Sinaloa Cartel Maria wants revenge not only for targeting her parents but for the death of the pilot who was a family friend and she won't rest until she gets it Can Maria and the team take on such a powerful adversary and stay alive
