The Mind's Eye Marian M. MacCurdy, 2007 In the post-September 11 world therapeutic writing has become a topic of heightened interest in both academic circles and the popular press reflecting a growing awareness that writing can have a beneficial effect on the emotional and cognitive lives of survivors of traumatic experiences Yet teachers and others who encounter such writing often are unsure how to deal with it In The Mind's Eye Image and Memory in Writing about Trauma Marian Mesrobian MacCurdy investigates the relationship between writing and trauma examines how we process difficult experiences and how writing can help us to integrate them and provides a pedagogy to deal with the difficult life stories that often surface in the classroom MacCurdy begins by discussing what trauma is how traumatic memories are stored and accessed and how writing affects them She then focuses on the processes involved in translating traumatic images into narrative form showing how the same patterns and problems emerge whether the writers are students or professionals Using examples drawn from the classroom MacCurdy investigates the beneficial effects of the study of trauma on communities as well as individuals witnesses as well as writers and explores the implications of these relationships for the world at large particularly as they pertain to issues of justice retribution and forgiveness Throughout the volume the author draws on her own experience as teacher writer survivor and descendant of survivors to explain how one can engage student work on difficult subjects without appropriating the texts or getting lost in the emotions generated by them She further shows how appropriate safeguards can be put in place to protect both teacher and student writer The end result of such a pedagogy MacCurdy demonstrates is not simply better writers but more integrated people capable of converting their own losses and griefs into compassion for others Brief Arlington Reader

Mexican-American Spanish in Its Societal and Cultural Contexts Dennis J. Bixler-Márquez,Jacob Ornstein-Galicia,George K. Green,1989 Expertise Out of Context Robert R. Hoffman,2007 Researchers have revealed that real expertise while applied to well defined tasks with highly circumscribed contexts often stretches beyond its routine boundaries For example a medical doctor may be called upon to diagnose a rare disease or perform emergency surgery outside his or her area of specialization because other experts are not available Moreover in some cases the context for expertise is in a constant state of flux such that no one case is identical Expertise Out of Context is a culmination of some of the most insightful studies conducted by researchers in the fields of cognitive systems engineering and naturalistic decision making in the effort to better understand expertise and its development Born out of the Sixth International Conference on Naturalistic Decision Making a conference that gathers researchers who study cognition perception and reasoning outside of the traditional laboratory this book is organized in five parts the first of which provides an overview of the topic and presents varied perspectives Consequent sections cover how to make sense of things tools for thinking out of context how to cope with uncertainty in a changing workplace and teams operating out of context As researchers in naturalistic decision making have investigated such areas as the knowledge and decision making skills of expert firefighters critical care nurses military commanders and aircraft pilots this volume is of importance to an expansive audience including individuals in business government industry and society at large

Post-War British Women Novelists and the Canon Nick Turner, 2010-02-11 With the increasing number of books on contemporary fiction there is a need for a work that examines whom we value and why These questions lie at the heart of this book which by focusing on four novelists literary and popular interrogates the canon over the last fifty years The argument unfolds to demonstrate that academic trends increasingly control canonicity as do the demands of genre the increasing commercialisation of literature and the power of the literary prize Turner argues that literary excellence demonstrated by style and imaginative power is often missing in many works that have become modern classics and makes a case for the value of the universal in literature Written in a jargon free style with reference to many supporting writers the book raises a number of significant cultural questions about the arts fashions and literary reputations of interest to readers in contemporary literary studies

Total Freedom Chris Matthew Sciabarra, 2000-11-01 Building upon his previous books about Marx Hayek and Rand Total Freedom completes what Lingua Franca has called Sciabarra's epic scholarly quest to reclaim dialectics usually associated with the Marxian left as a methodology that can revivify libertarian thought Part One surveys the history of dialectics from the ancient Greeks through the Austrian school of economics Part Two investigates in detail the work of

Murray Rothbard as a leading modern libertarian in whose thought Sciabarra finds both dialectical and nondialectical elements Ultimately Sciabarra aims for a dialectical libertarian synthesis highlighting the need not sufficiently recognized in liberalism to think of the totality of interconnections in a dynamic system as the way to ensure human freedom while avoiding totalitarianism such as resulted from Marxism
