The Canary Islanders John Mercer, 1980      The Canary Islanders of Louisiana Gilbert C. Din, 1999-08-01 The Canary Islanders or Isleños of Louisiana like some of the state's other ethnic groups have received little scholarly attention. Although they are a people who have remained largely unknown both inside and outside of Louisiana, the Isleños constitute a sizable portion of the state's present Spanish surname population. Utilizing a wide range of source materials from Spanish colonial documents to oral interviews, Gilbert C. Din's The Canary Islanders of Louisiana provides the first book-length study of the Isleños and a definitive history of their presence in the state. The few thousand Canary Islanders brought to Louisiana by Spanish governors in the eighteenth century came from a group of islands that although ostensibly Spanish had evolved its own distinctive culture and folkways. Settled in frontier areas considered strategic for the defense of the Louisiana colony, the Isleños suffered deprivation, neglect, and eventually abandonment. Living for the most part in remote back country and delta communities, the Isleños remained isolated from their French and American neighbors. In the twentieth century, pressures to assimilate with the mainstream of Louisiana society have threatened their culture with extinction, though a few Canarians still retain much of their Isleño heritage. Gilbert C. Din's study of the Isleños covers the entire range of their association with Louisiana. He begins with a brief survey of Canarian history and folkways and concludes with a discussion of the likely ethnic future of the increasingly assimilated Isleño descendants. Din provides a detailed history of the Isleño migration and colonial settlement, post-colonial community development, economic, social, educational, and political patterns, and the course of Isleño assimilation with the general Louisiana population. Offering his own skillfully argued answers to long-standing debates about early Isleño settlements, Din also corrects a number of factual errors on the part of previous historians who did not have access to the same range of archival sources. The Canary Islanders of Louisiana is a strong piece of historical scholarship. It makes an original and much-needed contribution to the history of a people of Louisiana and of the American South.

On the Social Origins of Medieval Institutions, 2021-09-20 A collection of essays celebrating the career of Joseph F. O'Callaghan, a noted historian of Spanish history. Written by his students and colleagues, they explore the relationship between human society and the institutions it produces. The first part of the book, The Influence of Law on Society, contains essays exploring the laws and customs regarding such social institutions as marriage, the care of the sick, and Jews. The second part, The Relationship between Government and War, focuses on the institutional and technological innovations that the crown and parliament in Spain and England developed to wage war.

Iberia and the Mediterranean World of the Middle Ages, Volume II Kagay, Padilla, Paul Chevedden, 2021-09-20 Brill's series The Medieval Mediterranean has established itself as the main forum for studies exploring all aspects of the Mediterranean world during a period of 1000 years. In the medieval period, the Mediterranean experienced a multiplicity of developments in social, political, and economic structures and in populations, religions, and cultures. The centuries between the Late Roman world of the fourth and fifth century and the early modern

Braudelian Mediterranean of the sixteenth century were characterised by sweeping changes including the establishment of post Roman kingdoms in the west the emergence of Slav societies in the Balkans the struggle between Christians and Muslims in Spain and the movement of crusaders Founded in 1993 The Medieval Mediterranean series reflects the complexity of this period with a wide variety of high quality scholarly works from broad surveys to diachronic studies of particular areas or cities investigations of individual themes or issues conference proceedings text editions and fully annotated translations Top specialists in a range of fields have contributed to the series and the volumes which have appeared so far have been warmly welcomed by reviewers This series is indispensable for readers with interests in the history of later antiquity the Middle Ages Byzantium Islam the Balkans and the Black Sea area Publication schedule At present 3 volumes of around 350 pages each are published in the series each year The vast majority of the books in the series are in the English language although works of outstanding quality in French or German may also be included Volumes contain illustrations and maps where appropriate

Civilian-Driven Violence and the Genocide of Indigenous Peoples in Settler Societies Mohamed Adhikari, 2021-07-12 Existing studies of settler colonial genocides explicitly consider the roles of metropolitan and colonial states and their military forces in the perpetration of exterminatory violence in settler colonial situations yet rarely pay specific attention to the dynamics around civilian driven mass violence against indigenous peoples In many cases however civilians were major if not the main perpetrators of such violence The focus of this book is thus on the role of civilians as perpetrators of exterminatory violence and on those elements within settler colonial situations that promoted mass violence on their part

Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari, 2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way

A Historical Geography of Christopher Columbus's First Voyage and his Interactions with Indigenous Peoples of the Caribbean Al M. Rocca, 2024-05-02 This book offers a unique account of Christopher Columbus's first voyage the most consequential voyage in world history It provides a detailed day by day account of the explorer's travels and activities richly illustrated with thematic maps This work expands our understanding of Columbus's first voyage by mapping his sea and land experiences offering both a historical and geographical exploration of his first voyage Traveling chronologically through events the reader builds a spatial insight into Columbus's perspectives that confused and confirmed his pre existing notions of Asia and the Indies driving him onward in search of new geographic evidence Drawing from a diverse range of primary and secondary historical resources this book is beautifully adorned with illustrations that facilitate an in depth exploration of the connections between the places Columbus encountered and his subsequent social interactions with Indigenous people This methodology allows the reader to better understand Columbus s actions as he analyzes new geographic realities with pre existing notions of the Indies Attention is given to Columbian primary sources which analyze how those materials have been used to create a narrative by historians Readers will learn about the social and political structures of the Lucayan Ta no and Carib peoples achieving a deeper understanding of those pre Columbian cultures at the time of contact The book will appeal to students and researchers in the disciplines of history geography and anthropology and the general reader interested in Columbus

Encyclopedia of the Atlantic World, 1400-1900 David Head, 2017-11-16 A first of its kind reference resource traces the interactions among four Atlantic facing continents Europe

Africa and the Americas including the Caribbean between 1400 and 1900 Until recently the age of exploration and empire building was researched and taught within imperial and national boundaries The histories of Europe Africa North America and South America were told largely as independent stories with the development of individual places within each continent further separated from each other The indigenous populations of places colonized by Europeans fit into the history even more uneasily often mentioned only in passing Encyclopedia of the Atlantic World 1400 1900 synthesizes a generation of historical scholarship on the events on four continents providing readers an invaluable introduction to the major people places events movements objects concepts and commodities of the Atlantic world as it developed during a key period in history when the world first started to shrink The entries discuss specific topics with an eye toward showing how individual items people and events were connected to the larger Atlantic world This accessibly written reference book brings together topics usually treated separately and discretely alleviating the need for extra legwork when researching and it draws from the latest research to make a vast body of scholarship about seemingly far flung places available to readers new to the field

The World of Juba II and Kleopatra Selene Duane W Roller, 2004-02-24 Raised and educated in Rome Juba II 48 BC AD 23 was sent to uphold Roman interests in northwest Africa as ruler of the client kingdom of Mauretania Together with his wife Kleopatra Selene daughter of Marcus Antonius and Kleopatra VII he established a rich multicultural environment at their capital renamed Caesarea where Egyptian Hellenistic Greek and indigenous elements came together Juba combined a reign of more than half a century with a career as a distinguished scholar and writer producing an extensive collection of works and shaping Roman knowledge of the southern half of the known world from the Atlantic coast of northwest Africa to India This book explores the complex culture and legacy of the kingdom with emphasis on Juba's scholarship and the world created by these two remarkable monarchs This detailed and comprehensive study is not only the first examination in English of Juba's life and career but the first critical analysis of the king both as an implementer of the Augustan political artistic and intellectual programme and as a notable scholar

Medieval Ethnographies Joan-Pau Rubies, 2017-05-15 From the twelfth century a growing sense of cultural confidence in the Latin West at the same time that the central lands of Islam suffered from numerous waves of conquest and devastation was accompanied by the increasing importance of the genre of empirical ethnographies From a global perspective what is most distinctive of Europe is the genre's long term impact rather than its mere empirical potential or its ethnocentrism all of which can also be found in China and in Islamic cultures Hence what needs emphasizing is the multiplication of original writings over time their increased circulation and their authoritative status as a scientific discourse The empirical bent was more characteristic of travel accounts than of theological disputations in fact the less elaborate the theological discourse the stronger the ethnographic impulse although many travel writers were clerics This anthology of classic articles in the history of medieval ethnographies illustrates this theme with reference to the contexts and genres of travel writing the transformation of enduring myths ranging from oriental marvels to the virtuous ascetics of India or Prester John the practical expression of particular encounters from the Mongols to the Atlantic and the various attempts to explain cultural differences either through the concept of barbarism or through geography and climate
