Sixteen Months at the Gold Diggings Daniel B. Woods,1973-01-01 The Far Western Frontier 1830-1860 ,1956
The Gold Crusades Douglas Fetherling,1997-12-15 Among the hordes of starry eyed argonauts who flocked to the California gold rush of 1849 was an Australian named Edward Hargraves He left America empty handed only to find gold in his own backyard The result was the great Australian rush of the 1850s which also attracted participants from around the world A South African named P J Marais was one of them Marais too returned home in defeat only to set in motion the diamond and gold rushes that transformed southern Africa And so it went Most previous historians of the gold rushes have tended to view them as acts of spontaneous nationalism Each country likes to see its own gold rush as the one that either shaped those that followed or epitomized all the rest In The Gold Crusades A Social History of Gold Rushes 1849 1929 Douglas Fetherling takes a different approach Fetherling argues that the gold rushes in the United States Canada Australia New Zealand and South Africa shared the same causes and results the same characters and characteristics He posits that they were in fact a single discontinuous event an expression of the British imperial experience and nineteenth century liberalism He does so with dash and style and with a sharp eye for the telling anecdote the out of the way document and the bold connection between seemingly unrelated disciplines Originally published by Macmillan of Canada 1988 United States Local Histories in the Library of Congress: Supplement and index Library of Congress,1975 Genealogical & Local History Books in Print ,1981 A Golden State Marlene Smith-Baranzini,1999 A collection of essays on mining and economic development in California from the Gold Rush through the end of the 19th century This is the second in a series of four volumes comemmorating the state s sesquicentennial Yellowed Pages ,1999 America, History and Life ,1975 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide A Great Collection of Original Source Material Relating to the Early West and the Far West Anderson Galleries, Inc,1922 The Great Medicine Road, Part 2 Will Bagley,2015-10 During the early weeks of 1848 as U S congressmen debated the territorial status of California a Swiss immigrant and an itinerant millwright forever altered the future state s fate Building a sawmill for Johann August Sutter James Wilson Marshall struck gold The rest may be history but much of the story of what happened in the following year is told not in history books but in the letters diaries journals and other written recollections of those whom the California gold rush drew west In this second installment in the projected four part collection The Great Medicine Road Narratives of the Oregon California and Mormon Trails the hardy souls who made the arduous trip tell their stories in their own words Seven individuals tales bring to life a long ago year that enriched some impoverished others and forever changed the face of North America Responding to often misleading promotional literature adventurers made their way west via different routes Following the Carson River through the Sierra Nevada or taking the Lassen Route to the Sacramento Valley they passed through the Mormon Zion of Great Salt Lake City and traded with and often displaced Native Americans long familiar with the trails Their accounts detail these encounters as well as the gritty realities of everyday life on the overland trails They narrate events describe the vast and diverse landscapes they pass through and document a journey as strange and new to them as it is to many readers today Through these travelers diaries and memoirs readers can relive a critical moment in the remaking of the West and appreciate what a difference one year can make in the life of a nation Monographic Series Library of Congress,1974 Dictionary Catalog of the Department Library United States.
