Goodman, 2008-04-15 Speaking in tongues or glossolalia is practiced in many different religions around the world Dismissed as meaningless gibberish by some observers it has been the subject of only a few fragmentary studies The work of Felicitas D Goodman represents the first cross cultural analysis of this enigmatic behavior and she brings to her research an extensive background in linguistics and anthropology Dr Goodman's fieldwork included living with apostolic congregations in Mexico City in the Yucatan with Maya Indians and visits with a congregation in Hammond Indiana Her observations were preserved on a remarkable collection of sound recordings and films For this book she presents a selection of conversion stories that highlights the personality structure and experiences of the speakers A detailed analysis of the phonological and suprasegmental features of the recorded utterances show a surprising cross cultural agreement This led Goodman to believe that glossolalists speak the way they do because their speech behavior is modified in a particular mental state often termed trance into which they place themselves In this light the glossolalia utterance is seen as an artifact of a hyperaroused mental state or in Chomskyan terms as the surface structure of a nonlinguistic deep structure that of the altered state of consciousness Goodman describes the hyperaroused mental state as a neurophysiological phenomenon as well as the associated patterns of movement and the problems of waking from it Goodman's diachronic approach yielded equally surprising data about the changes and the waning of the behavior over time But as she observes we have barely touched the edge of a very large area of inquiry Her fascinating study opens a number of new avenues of research for anthropologists such as the study of physiological states accompanying linguistic and ritual behavior

Speaking in Tongues: A Critical Historical Examination, Volume 2 Philip E. Blosser, Charles A. Sullivan, 2023-08-21 In three carefully researched volumes this ground breaking study examines the gift of tongues through two thousand years of church history Starting in the present and working back in time these volumes consider 1 the modern redefinition of tongues as a private prayer language 2 the church's perennial understanding of tongues as ordinary human languages and 3 the Corinthian tongues which in light of Jewish liturgical tradition turn out to have been a Semitic liturgical language requiring bilingual interpreters This second volume tracks the perception and practice of tongues back through the first eighteen hundred years of church history demonstrating that tongue speaking was always active but puzzlingly different from today's glossolalia From Pope Benedict XIV's detailed treatise in the 1700s it works back through long forgotten scholastic and patristic debates to the earliest Christian writers such as Irenaeus No other resource on the subject approaches the depth and scope of the present volume

What the Bible Says about Speaking in Tongues John Argubright, 2014-05-22 The Biblical gift of speaking in tongues is the supernatural gift from God of speaking in a known foreign language to unbelievers without any previous knowledge or training in that language And what is spoken in that foreign language is the Gospel of Jesus Christ The main purpose is in order that Christ and Him crucified would be preached to all nations in a language that the hearer would understand Yet today many wolves in sheep clothing have perverted what the true gift of speaking in tongues really is and have replaced it with all sorts of false doctrines This Bible study teaches verse by verse on this topic teaching what the Bible says as compared to what the heretics of today have to say who are deceiving Christians by telling them to pray in ecstatic utterance that was once only associated with demonic possession And as you will see a very dangerous doctrine is being spewed from the tongues of these false prophets
