Enhancing Self-esteem in the Classroom Denis Lawrence, 2006-03-01. Praise for the first edition: The underlying philosophy of this practical book is that raising self-esteem in pupils, including dyslexics, will lead to achievement of higher academic results and fewer behaviour problems. This book is primarily for primary and secondary teachers but would provide much material for discussion among SpLD teachers given the unexpected and controversial results of Denis Lawrence's research. Dyslexia Contact. Many useful suggestions offered in this book about learning activities are likely to help pupils to feel better about themselves, to learn to respect others and to experience how feelings can be expressed safely. British Journal of Special Education. Raising self-esteem in pupils can lead to the achievement of higher academic results and fewer behavioural problems. Outlining in simple terms what self-esteem is and providing strategies to support it in the classroom, this book includes clear explanations of the terminology and theory behind self-esteem and lots of practical examples and useful activities for use with children. The book also covers the main issues surrounding the self-esteem of practitioners. It sets out tried and tested strategies that teachers can use to recognise and reduce stress and maintain their self-esteem. This new edition has been fully updated and now includes new case study material and activities.

Schools for Special Needs 2011-2012 Gabbittas, 2011-10-03. Special needs provision continues to be the focus of much attention. Growing emphasis on the importance of meeting individual and often highly complex needs means that finding the right school for a child can be a complicated process. Schools for Special Needs explains the full system of special needs education in the UK and offers parents and carers a comprehensive range of information and advice on key areas of concern along with the details of more than 2 000 establishments. The book provides commentary from experts in all sectors of special education and includes advice on assessment and identification of needs, statementing and school choice, the role of the local authority, the Special Educational Needs Codes of Practice, guidance on further and higher education and indexes listing schools according to type of need.

The Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator's Handbook Garry Hornby, Gegan Davis, Geoff Taylor, 2013-11-05. In September 1994 the Code of Practice on the Identification and Assessment of Special Educational Needs came into force and with it a major increase in the expectations placed on teachers in mainstream schools, in particular on the SEN coordinators. This handbook discusses the implications for schools and gives practical guidance on how to implement the code effectively. Throughout the book provides further information expanding upon that given in the Code. Examples, ideas for dealing with SEN in schools, checklists, proformas for photocopying and direct use in schools. The book begins by explaining and expanding on the Code of Practice, setting it in the context of recent developments including the Education Reform Act and OFSTED criteria for evaluating policy and provision for children in SEN It then goes on to provide guidelines for implementing the Code of Practice at each of the five stages which it specifies and discusses issues which are raised by this Specific chapters cover Identifying and assessing SEN within the school Liaison with outside specialists Statementing Annual reviews Knowledge needed by classroom teachers of children with SEN Implications and issues at different stages of the education system Parental involvement Future challenges The book will be of particular interest to special needs coordinators but will also be of value to anyone else working with children with SEN including class teachers heads advisers governors educational psychologists and education welfare officers Making Special Education
