not a cause for concern Ellis illuminates those aspects of traditional medicine but as wildlife habitats are shrinking for the hunted large species the situation is becoming ever more critical One hundred years ago there were probably 100 000 tigers in India South China Sumatra Bali Java and the Russian Far East The South Chinese Caspian Balinese and Javan species are extinct There are now fewer than 5 000 tigers in all of India and the numbers are dropping fast There are five species of rhinoceros three in Asia and two in Africa and all have been hunted to near extinction so their horns can be ground into powder not for aphrodisiacs as commonly thought but for ailments ranging from arthritis to depression In 1930 there were 80 000 black rhinos in Africa Now there are fewer than 2 500 Tigers bears and rhinos are not the only animals pursued for the sake of alleviating human ills the list includes musk deer sharks saiga antelope seahorses porcupines monkeys beavers and sea lions but the dwindling numbers of those rare species call us to attention Ellis tells us what has been done successfully and contemplates what can and must be done to save these animals or sadly our children will witness the extinction of tigers rhinos and moon bears in their lifetime On Active Grounds Robert Boschman, Mario Trono, 2019-04-17 On Active Grounds considers the themes of agency and time through the burgeoning interdisciplinary field of the environmental humanities Fourteen essays and a photo album cover topics such as environmental practices and history temporal literacy graphic novels ecocinema ecomusicology animal studies Indigeneity wolf reintroduction environmental history green conservatism and social ecological systems change The book also speaks to the growing concern regarding environmental issues in the aftermath of the 2015 Paris Climate Conference COP21 and the election of Donald Trump in the United States This collection is organized as a written and visual appeal to issues such as time how much is left and agency who is active what can be done what does and does not work It describes problems and suggests solutions On Active Grounds is unique in its explicit and twinned emphasis on time and agency in the context of the Environmental Humanities and a requisite interdisciplinarity Walking with the Great Apes Sy Montgomery, 2009-08-25 Search for the Golden Moon Bear Sy Montgomery, 2009-08-25 Sy Montgomery acclaimed author of The Soul of an Octopus and bestselling memoir The Good Good Pig has shared with readers her amazing encounters with intelligent octopi great apes man eating tigers and pink river dolphins but here her muse is an animal whose name and appearance evoke another world altogether Southeast Asia's golden moon bear with its luminous coat lionlike mane and Mickey Mouse ears was unknown to science until Montgomery and her colleagues got on the trail at the dawn of the new millennium Search for the Golden Moon Bear recounts Montgomery's quest fraught with danger and mayhem to reconstruct an evolutionary record and piece together a living portrait of her littleknown subject This beautiful animal is not just a scientific eureka It is also a powerful symbol of conservation Search for the Golden Moon Bear is a field report from the frontiers of science and the ends of the earth seamlessly weaving together folklore natural history and contemporary research into fantastic travelogue Three Ways to Disappear Katy Yocom, 2019-07-16 Leaving behind a nomadic and dangerous career as a journalist Sarah DeVaughan

Reading Contemporary South Asian Literature Bidhu Chand Murmu, Somjeeta Pandey, 2022-04-12 As a school of criticism the central argument in Postcolonial studies revolves around dismantling the dominant narrative of colonial or imperial history A colonization process not only captures the native people and culture but their lands too Proper reading of postcolonial theory would be by understanding the epistemology of colonized environment or vice versa Even after decolonization the ideology of imperialism is persistent in native memory and thought An embeddedness in native psyche not only nurtures imperialism but manifests them with the footprints of colonial masters In postcolonial countries the discourse of social and economic justice is deeply rooted in ecology As a consequence environmental activists from postcolonial nations tend to see any modern policy as a disguised form of neocolonialism or imperial dominance globalization and modernization Since the shocks of imperialism and globalization are most strongly felt in the third world countries most of them being former colonies this edited volume intends to explore texts by South Asian writers examining how these writers and their characters cope with the destruction of the environment This edited volume plans to seek out the writings of epistemological understanding of our environment Moreover the volume would also see a critical entanglement of race class gender culture modernization globalization nation and trans nation etc Furthermore this book will attempt to show how different genres of literature ranging from fiction to non fiction can bring out inimitable insights into varied understanding of postcolonial and ecocritical studies Birdology Sy Montgomery, 2010-04-06 Meet the ladies a flock of smart affectionate highly individualistic chickens who visit their favorite neighbors devise different ways to hide from foxes and mob the author like she s a rock star In these pages you ll also meet Maya and Zuni two orphaned baby hummingbirds who hatched from eggs the size of navy beans and who are little more than air bubbles fringed with feathers Their lives hang precariously in the balance but with human help they may one day conquer the sky Snowball is a cockatoo whose dance video went viral on YouTube and who s now teaching schoolchildren how to dance You ll meet Harris s hawks named Fire and Smoke And you ll come to know and love a host of other avian characters who will change your mind forever about who birds really are Each of these birds shows a different and utterly surprising aspect of what makes a bird a bird and these are the lessons of Birdology that birds are far stranger more wondrous and at the same time more like us than we might have dared to imagine In Birdology beloved author of The Good Good Pig Sy Montgomery explores the essence of the otherworldly creatures we see every day By way of her adventures with seven birds wild tame exotic and common she weaves new scientific insights and narrative to reveal seven kernels of bird wisdom The first lesson of Birdology is that no matter how common they are Birds Are Individuals as each of Montgomery s distinctive Ladies clearly shows In the leech infested rain forest of Queensland you ll come face to face with a cassowary a 150 pound man tall flightless bird with a helmet of bone on its head and a slashing razor like toenail with which it occasionally eviscerates people proof that Birds Are Dinosaurs You ll learn from hawks that Birds Are Fierce from pigeons how Birds Find Their Way Home from parrots what it means that Birds Can Talk and from 50 000 crows who moved into a small city s downtown that Birds Are Everywhere They are the winged aliens who surround us Birdology explains just how very other birds are Their hearts look like those of crocodiles They are covered with modified scales which are called feathers Their bones are hollow Their bodies are permeated with extensive air sacs They have no hands They give birth to eggs Yet despite birds and humans disparate evolutionary paths we share emotional and intellectual abilities that allow us to communicate and even form deep bonds When we begin to comprehend who birds really are we deepen our capacity to approach understand and love these otherworldly creatures And this ultimately is the priceless lesson of Birdology it communicates a heartfelt fascination and awe for birds and restores our connection to these complex mysterious fellow creatures The Wild Out Your Window Sy Montgomery, 2002-07-25 What could be better than watching the natural world out your window or on your television Going out and experiencing it firsthand In these fifty essays acclaimed nature and science writer Sy Montgomery takes her readers on a season by season tour of the wilderness that is often as close as the backyard Sy invites almost dares readers to follow her and form hands on relationships with the plants animals birds and even the insects that share space with people These

Trout, 2011-11-15 In this illuminating and evocative exploration of the origin and function of storytelling the author goes beyond the work of mythologist Joseph Campbell arguing that mythmaking evolved as a cultural survival strategy for coping with the constant fear of being killed and eaten by predators Beginning nearly two million years ago in the Pleistocene era the first stories Trout argues functioned as alarm calls warning fellow group members about the carnivores lurking in the surroundings At the earliest period before the development of language these rudimentary stories would have been acted out When language appeared with the evolution of the ancestral human brain stories were recited memorized and much later written down as the often bone chilling myths that have survived to this day This book takes the reader through the landscape of world mythology to show how our more recent ancestors created myths that portrayed animal predators in four basic ways as monsters as gods as benefactors and as role models Each incarnation is a variation of the fear management technique that enabled early humans not only to survive but to overcome their potentially incapacitating fear of predators In the final chapter Trout explores the ways in which our visceral fear of predators is played out in the movies where both animal and human predators serve to probe and revitalize our capacity to detect and survive danger Anyone with an interest in mythology archaeology folk tales and the origins of contemporary storytelling will find this book an exciting and provocative exploration into the natural and psychological forces that shaped human culture and gave rise to storytelling and mythmaking
