The Persecution of the Jews in the Netherlands, 1940-1945 Peter Romijn,2025-10-01 These five articles first presented at the conference The Holocaust and other Genocides The Uses Misuses and Abuses of the Holocaust Paradigm in 2011 reflect the current Dutch research on the persecution of the Jews in the Netherlands during the Second World War and recent developments in the historiography concerning this topic To a certain extent the work being done in the Netherlands has reflected the international historiography in that it addresses the political and public responses to National Socialism and occupation the nature of the persecution and the regime in the concentration camps The perspectives of the general population of the victims and of the perpetrators are all examined but above all those of bystanders In this selection of the most recent research there is a particular emphasis on the nature of the persecution and the general public s reaction to it

The Catholic Church and the Jews Graciela Ben-Dror,2008-01-01 The impact of events in Nazi Germany and Europe during World War II was keenly felt in neutral Argentina among its predominantly Catholic population and its significant Jewish minority The Catholic Church and the Jews Argentina 1933 1945 considers the images of Jews presented in standard Catholic teaching of that era the attitudes of the lower clergy and faithful toward the country's Jewish citizens and the response of the politically influential Church hierarchy to the national debate on accepting Jewish refugees from Europe. The issue was complicated by such factors as the position taken by the Vatican, Argentina's unstable political situation and the sizeable number of citizens of German origin who were Nazi sympathizers eager to promote German interests. Argentina's self-perception was as a Catholic country. Though there were few overtly anti-Jewish acts, traditional stereotypes and prejudice were widespread and only a few voices in the Catholic community confronted the established attitudes. The Jewish Forum, 1926
