The Fight Dan Bongino, 2016-01-12 New York Times Bestseller The popular radio host and former Secret Service agent reveals how leadership and security failures have endangered Americans In The Fight Dan Bongino picks up the story where his New York Times bestselling book Life Inside the Bubble ends tackling important political and security issues and offering new solutions From Hillary's emails to the security failings at the White House including the drone crash and the fence jumper from Charlie Hebdo to Bowe Bergdahl the author examines how our government has allowed our security efforts to lapse both at home and abroad He also offers solutions to the growing terrorist threat and how we can protect American citizens while also deconstructing what's wrong with our political process and what his experience running for office has taught him As a former member of the elite Presidential Protection Division who served three presidents Bongino is uniquely qualified to provide a view from behind the curtain to warn readers about the political system that is failing them and the security future that won't protect them The majority of Americans only come into contact with security when they fly or enter their workplace They are rarely able to become acquainted with the politicians they know from robocalls and TV ads Bongino has experienced the inner workings of the national security apparatus and the failed political theater that we all feel but rarely understand Using a mix of recent events an insider's analysis and tales from his time protecting the president he shows where clear and foreseeable leadership failures led to grave consequences From a broken political process to a government that consistently misreads the American people he shows us where America has gone wrong and how we can fight back The Fight shines a much needed light on the troubling games DC politicians and insiders play with the American people Sean

Hannity The Fight is a lesson plan for fighting back against the Washington DC political machine Mark Levin The Fight Norman Mailer, 2013-09-17 In 1974 in Kinshasa Za re two African American boxers were paid five million dollars apiece to fight each other One was Muhammad Ali the aging but irrepressible professor of boxing The other was George Foreman who was as taciturn as Ali was voluble Observing them was Norman Mailer a commentator of unparalleled energy acumen and audacity Whether he is analyzing the fighters moves interpreting their characters or weighing their competing claims on the African and American souls Mailer s grasp of the titanic battle s feints and stratagems and his sensitivity to their deeper symbolism makes this book a masterpiece of the literature of sport Praise for The Fight Exquisitely refined and attenuated a sensitive portrait of an extraordinary athlete and man and a pugilistic drama fully as exciting as the reality on which it is based The New York Times One of the defining texts of sports journalism Not only does Mailer recall the violent combat with a scholar s eye he also makes the whole act of reporting seem as exciting as what s occurring in the ring GQ Stylistically Mailer was the greatest boxing writer of all time Chuck Klosterman Esquire One of Mailer s finest books Louis Menand The New Yorker The Fight Against Cancer Patrice Pinell, 2003-08-27 Between the two World Wars an illness that mainly affects adults over fifty years old became so prominent that it superseded both tuberculosis and syphilis in importance As Patrice Pinell shows the effect of cancer in France before World War Two reached far beyond the question of its mortality rates Pinell s socio historical approach to the early developments in the fight against cancer describes how scientific therapeutic philanthropic ethical social economics and political interest combined to transform medicine Framing the Fight against Human Trafficking Amanda D. Clark, 2019-06-04 Nongovernmental organizations NGOs in the anti human trafficking movement have proliferated over the past few decades many of these NGOs have joined coalitions to pool resources and expertise How do changes in the external political environment or the internal coalition structure impact NGO framing strategy Framing the fight Against Human Trafficking Movement Coalitions and Tactical Diffusion uses a unique dataset to analyze the discursive processes of fifteen U S anti trafficking NGOs involved in the Alliance to End Slavery and Trafficking ATEST from 2008 2014 This analysis shows that ATEST has targeted the state contentious politics and private industry private politics to advance its agenda Sex trafficking has normally been met with tactics from the contentious politics model due to its historical legal connection with prostitution labor trafficking conversely has been approached via the private politics model due to its connection with business However the coalition s formal organizational structure has enabled members to learn from each other and apply these models in innovative ways This study builds theory by showing how learning in social movement coalitions can diffuse tactics and provide new action repertoires for members The Fight for the Crown William Edward Norris, 1898 Faith in the Fight Jonathan H. Ebel, 2010-04-11 Faith in the Fight tells a story of religion soldiering suffering and death in the Great War Recovering the thoughts and experiences of American troops nurses and aid workers through their letters diaries and memoirs Jonathan Ebel describes how religion primarily

Christianity encouraged these young men and women to fight and die sustained them through war s chaos and shaped their responses to the war s aftermath The book reveals the surprising frequency with which Americans who fought viewed the war as a religious challenge that could lead to individual and national redemption Believing in a Christianity of the sword these Americans responded to the war by reasserting their religious faith and proclaiming America God chosen and righteous in its mission And while the war sometimes challenged these beliefs it did not fundamentally alter them Revising the conventional view that the war was universally disillusioning Faith in the Fight argues that the war in fact strengthened the religious beliefs of the Americans who fought and that it helped spark a religiously charged revival of many prewar orthodoxies during a postwar period marked by race riots labor wars communist witch hunts and gender struggles For many Americans Ebel argues the postwar period was actually one of reillusionment Demonstrating the deep connections between Christianity and Americans experience of the First World War Faith in the Fight encourages us to examine the religious dimensions of America s wars past and present and to work toward a deeper understanding of religion and violence in American history

The ARVN and the Fight for South Vietnam Nghia M. Vo,2021-09-09 With the withdrawal of French forces from South Vietnam in 1955 the U S took an ever widening role in defending the country against invasion by North Vietnam By 1965 the U S had Americanized the war relegating the Army of the Republic of Vietnam ARVN to a supporting role While the U S won many tactical victories it had difficulty controlling the territory it fought for As the war grew increasingly unpopular with the American public the North Vietnamese launched two large scale invasions in 1968 and 1972 both tactical defeats but strategic victories for the North that precipitated the U S policy of Vietnamization the drawdown of American forces that left the ARVN to fight alone This book examines the maturation of the ARVN and the major battles it fought from 1963 to its demise in 1975 Despite its flaws the ARVN was a well organized and disciplined force with an independent spirit and contributed enormously to the war effort Had the U S Vietnamized the war earlier it might have been won in 1967 1968
