The Familiar Letter In The Eighteenth Century:

The familiar letter in the eighteenth century Howard Anderson, 1966 The Familiar Letter in the Eighteenth Century Howard Peter Anderson, Philip B. Daghlia, Irvin Ehrenpreis, 1966 With the growth of efficient postal service in England and the stimulus of a growing tradition of informal prose among eighteenth century men of leisure the intimate letter reached unprecedented literary heights as the exemplary form of the period Considered here are the striking and diverse qualities both of the art and the personalities of the great letter writers Swift Pope Lady Mary Wortley Montagu Richardson the Earl of Chesterfield Johnson Sterne Gray Walpole Burke Cowper Gibbon and Boswell The Familiar Letter in the Eighteenth Century. Edited by Howard Anderson, Philip B. Daghlia, Irvin Ehrenpreis. [A Reduced Photographic Reprint of the Edition of 1966.]. Howard Peter ANDERSON, 1968 Letter Writing as a Social Practice David Barton, Nigel Hall, 2000 This book explores the social significance of letter writing Letter writing is one of the most pervasive literate activities in human societies crossing formal and informal contexts Letters are a common text type appearing in a wide variety of forms in most domains of life More broadly the importance of letter writing can be seen in that the phenomenon has been widespread historically being one of earliest forms of writing and a wide range of contemporary genres have their roots in letters The writing of a letter is embedded in a particular social situation and like all other types of literacy objects and events the activity gains its meaning and significance from being situated in cultural beliefs values and practices This book brings together anthropologists historians educators and other social scientists providing a range of case studies that explore aspects of the socially situated nature of letter writing The Familiar Letter in the 18th Century H. Anderson, P. B. Daghlia, Irvin Ehrenpreis, 1966 Lady Mary Wortley Montagu and the Eighteenth-Century Familiar Letter Cynthia J. Lowenthal, 2010-07-01 This is the first critical study of one of the most important women writers of the early eighteenth century Lady Mary Wortley Montagu 1689 1762 who produced a body of erudite and entertaining correspondence that spanned more than fifty years Lady Mary's letters illuminate the difficulties encountered by a sensitive intelligent and gifted woman writer living through an era of significant cultural change These letters display the tensions inherent in the competing demands of public and private life revealing Lady Mary's own discomfort about the problems of authorship and authority in an age that held publication to be an improper activity for respectable women Through the discourse of supposedly private letters Lady Mary was able to find an avenue for her talents that brought her public stature without violating the imperatives of her position as a woman and an aristocrat Cynthia Lowenthal argues persuasively that Lady Mary's letters themselves central to the establishment of the familiar letter as an important eighteenth-century genre were self-consciously constructed as literary artifacts and crafted as part of a larger female epistolary tradition Moreover Lowenthal contends the works of Lady Mary are essential to the feminist recuperation of women's writing precisely because she provided an aristocratic critique a voice often ignored of the class and gender codes of her day Richardson's 'Clarissa'

and the Eighteenth-Century Reader Tom Keymer, Thomas Keymer, 2004-06-24 Whilst drawing to some extent on recent theoretical studies this book restores Clarissa to its largely neglected eighteenth century context The Eighteenth-Century British Verse Epistle B. Overton, 2007-10-23 This is the first book to cover the whole range of epistolary verse in the period including the discursive type favoured by Pope and the familiar and dramatic epistles It advances a new model for defining the form demonstrates the form's importance in the period and pays attention to non canonical epistles by women and labouring class writers Gender, Authenticity, and the Missive Letter in

Eighteenth-century France Mary McAlpin, 2006 This study will particularly appeal to scholars of gender studies but will also interest eighteenth century specialists reader response critics and any critic interested in the epistolary genre Dr McAlpin compares the evidence of de La Tour's authorial consciousness with that of far better known letter writers both women Sevigne Graffigny Lespinasse Roland Suzanne Necker and men Boswell in particular The book also introduces the exchange of letters to the English speaking community of eighteenth century scholars While the de La Tour Rousseau exchange was republished in French in 1998 it is not yet available in English This book provides translations of the first most significant letters in its appendix BOOK JACKET Women of Letters, Manuscript Circulation, and Print Afterlives in the Eighteenth Century M. Bigold, 2013-01-12 Using unpublished manuscript writings this book reinterprets material social literary philosophical and religious contexts of women's letter writing in the long 18th century It shows how letter writing functions as a form of literary manuscript exchange and argues for manuscript circulation as a method of engaging with the republic of letters
