Legacy of Violence John D. Bessler, 2003 The first comprehensive history of lynchings and state sanctioned executions in Minnesota Minnesota is one of only twelve states that does not allow the death penalty but that was not always the case In fact until 1911 executions in the state were legal and frequently carried out In Legacy of Violence John D Bessler takes us on a compelling journey through the history of lynchings and state sanctioned executions that dramatically shaped Minnesota s past Through personal accounts of those involved with the events Bessler traces the history of both famous and lesser known executions and lynchings in Minnesota the state s anti death penalty and anti lynching movements and the role of the media in the death penalty debate Bessler reveals Abraham Lincoln thoughts as he ordered the largest mass execution in U S history of thirty eight Indians in Mankato after the Dakota Conflict of 1862 He recounts the events surrounding the death of Ann Bilansky the only woman ever executed in Minnesota and the infamous botched hanging of William Williams which led to renewed calls for the abolition of capital punishment He tells the story of the 1920 lynching in Duluth of three African Americans circus workers wrongfully accused of rape and the anti lynching crusade that followed The significant role that Minnesota played in America s transformation to private after dark executions is presented in the discussion of the midnight assassination law Bessler s account is made more timely by thirty five hundred people on death row in America today more than at any other time in our nation s history Is Minnesota s current approach superior to that of states that have capital punishment Bessler looks at Minnesota history to ask whether the application of the death penalty can truly solve the problem of violence in America

Oscar Garrett Wall, 1909 Union Heartland Ginette Aley, Joseph L. Anderson, 2013-08-28 The Civil War has historically been viewed somewhat simplistically as a battle between the North and the South Southern historians have broadened this viewpoint by revealing the many Souths that made up the Confederacy but the North has remained largely undifferentiated as a geopolitical term In this welcome collection seven Civil War scholars offer a unique regional perspective on the Civil War by examining how a specific group of Northerners Midwesterners known as Westerners and Middle Westerners during the 1860s experienced the war on the home front Much of the intensifying political and ideological turmoil of the 1850s played out in the Midwest and instilled in its people a powerful sense of connection to this important drama The 1850 federal Fugitive Slave Law and highly visible efforts to recapture former bondsmen and women who had escaped underground railroad stations and supporters throughout the region publication of Ohioan Harriet Beecher Stowe's widely influential and best selling Uncle Tom's Cabin the controversial Kansas Nebraska Act of 1854 the murderous abolitionist John Brown who gained notoriety and hero status attacking proslavery advocates in Kansas the emergence of the Republican Party and Illinoisan Abraham Lincoln all placed the Midwest at the center of the rising sectional tensions From the exploitation of Confederate prisoners in Ohio to wartime college enrollment in Michigan these essays reveal how Midwestern men women families and communities became engaged in myriad war related activities and support Agriculture figures prominently in the collection with several scholars examining the agricultural power of the region and the impact of the war on farming farm families and farm women Contributors also consider student debates and reactions to questions of patriotism the effect of the war on military families relationships issues of women's loyalty and deference to male authority as well as the treatment of political dissent and dissenters Bringing together an assortment of home front topics from a variety of fresh perspectives this collection offers a view of the Civil War that is unabashedly Midwestern Collections of the Minnesota Historical
